WAR HEADS HIT SNAGS IN PLANS TO SPEED ARMY

Change of Program Weekly; Up in Air as to Schedule.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—Beset by difficulties with which they are not prepared to deal effectively, war department officials admitted today that the plans for dispatching a great army to the European trenches are "up in the air."

Changes in the program are being made weekly, sometimes daily and even hourly. Plan after plan is embarked upon and developed at great cost in money and time, only to be abandoned as impracticable.

The only definite fundamental policy remaining is to send to France within the next three months as many regular army units as can be spared and transported, to send as soon thereafter as possible as many units of the national guard as can be given the requisite preliminary training, and some time next year to dispatch the draft national army.

MAY PUT OFF GUARD CALL.

It now appears not unlikely that the national guard will not be called out on the scheduled dates—July 15 and 25 and Aug. 5. There is no certainty that the administration will be able to furnish the tentage to shelter the citizen soldiers in the southern training camps. There also is a shortage of blankets, clothing, shoes, guns, and other equipment.

The original plan was to mobilize the state troops in the state camps. Then it was announced that the guard would be sent directly to the training camps. Now the plan is to mobilize the guard in the state camps if the training camps are not ready.

DRAFT ARMY CALL IN OCTOBER?

The war department admitted today that the national army probably will not be sent to the training camps until some time in October instead of Sept. 1. It was explained that the farmers were protesting against losing their help as early as Sept. 1 and that, as it happens, it will not be inconvenient to accommodate the farmers because the war department cannot possibly provide the equipment for the training of the 625,000 young men for several weeks after the date originally fixed for their mobilization.

The greatest obstacle is the delay in the construction of cantonments in the sixteen divisional camps. Although the contracts for five of these cantonments have been awarded, the contractors have not received the final set of specifications from the war department.

FREQUENT SHIFT IN PLANS.

Three plans for the construction of cantonments have been adopted and abandoned. Now the fourth plan is being held up because Surgeon General Gorgas of the army has discovered that the buildings proposed would be extremely insanitary. He carried his protest to Secretary of War Baker, who immediately ordered changes in the specifications.

Originally the plan was to build one story buildings or bungalow barracks, about $2,000 to each camp. After specifications had been drawn up and ironed out with the assistance of practical lumbermen, a sudden change was made and a decision reached to have some two story buildings and some one story. Later this was again changed and talk of all one story buildings was again heard.

Last week a definite decision apparently was reached to have all two story barracks, but the specifications were not finally promulgated.

TOO MANY FINGERS IN PIE.

General staff officers weeks ago concluded that the only way to get the cantonment camps ready was to designate some competent officer or other individual to supervise the work, give him a free hand and hold him strictly responsible. The criticism is frequently heard that there have been entirely too many fingers in the pie.

Nominally Col. Isaac W. Littell of the quartermaster corps, who has been building army barracks and quarters for many years, is in charge of the work. However, Col. Littell falls far short of having a free hand. A committee of experts, known as the committee on emergency construction and engineer-in-chief works, of the advisory commission of the council of national defense, was appointed to assist. This committee, in turn, has called in numerous emi-

WOULD YOU HELP THIS MAN?

IF SO, THEN HERE'S YOUR CHANCE.

$50,000 to Thrice Wed Wife; Honeymoon on War Field

Adeline Millspaugh Bryant and Dr. Harold E. Thomas came down from their Isle o' Dreams in the Wisconsin hills a week ago. Last night they were married for the third time, in Dr. Thomas' apartment at 3720 Sheridan road, to "set themselves right before the law of Illinois, and to still for always the carping criticism of long haired men and short haired women who attempt to set the destinies of others."

Incidentally — just incidentally — Dr. Thomas settled upon his bride a dower of $50,000 in American currency and a sheaf of Liberty bonds, of which only the two of them know the total.

For nearly a year they have been secretly married. In two states they have repeated the ceremony, that there might be no stain of illegality upon their romance. Preston Bradley of the People's church performed the ceremony last night, a year and four days after the granting of the divorce that separated Adeline Millspaugh and Lester Bryant, the boy she married "on a dare."

Both Will Go to France.

Now, together they plan to go to the strife torn fields of France, the doctor as the head of a Red Cross unit that his money had made possible, his wife as one of his nurses.

Mrs. R. Livingston Beeckman, wife of the governor of Rhode Island, and sister of Dr. Thomas, came from Providence to attend the wedding. Charles and Mrs. Millspaugh, parents of the bride; Dr. Leon F. McBride, who will go to France with Dr. Thomas' ambulance unit; Dr. A. L. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Wallace, Miss Lillian Modee, Mrs. Frank Comerford, Col. William Lightfoot Visscher were also guests.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Thomas hurried away to Wisconsin.

Two Other Marriages.

The preceding chapters go back to April, 1915, when Adeline Millspaugh, on a "dare" became a party to a double elopement which ended in her marriage to Lester Bryant and the marriage of Marie Louise Hollearn to Edgar A. Curtis. The parents of the young people brought them home immediately after the Crown Point wedding and both marriages were annulled.

In July of 1913 there was another marriage, with Robert Presnell, son of Maj. James Presnell, U. S. A., retired, as the bridegroom. A child was born, "Bobby Dick." Then discord came and the Presnells separated. To add to the tangle Bryant appeared in court, charged that the annulment of his marriage was illegal, and had it set aside.

That automatically made the marriage to Presnell illegal and automatically annulled it. Bryant, however, entered an immediate action for divorce, which was granted on June 14, 1916.

Great Estate Surrounds Lake.

In the meantime the girl had met Dr. Thomas. Last July with her mother and brother as witnesses she was married to him in Park Falls, Wis. They went to the 40,000 acre estate of Dr. Thomas near Fifield and remained there, ideally happy, until September.

The Wisconsin estate entirely surrounds beautiful Lake Cochran. It came to Dr. Thomas after he had contested the will of his father, Gen. Samuel E. Thomas, one time president of the Monon railroad. In the original will he was cut off with the income from $100,000, a comparatively small amount of the general's $4,000,000 holdings. On the contest he was given $400,000 in cash, the Wisconsin land, and large holdings of New York real estate.

Year Up on June 14.

From the Isle o' Dreams in September the Thomases went to the Pacific coast. In Oakland, on Oct. 23, they were remarried. From October until February they drifted.

On June 14 the year was up—the year during which Adeline Millspaugh Bryant was denied the right of marriage in Illinois. They hurried back to Chicago, checked up once and for all on the records, and yesterday took out a license which read:

Harold E. Thomas, 43; Adeline Bryant, 25.

Mrs. Scott Durand Orders All Farm Intruders Shot

Mrs. Scott Durand has armed all of the men at Crab Tree farm, and instructed them to shoot all suspicious characters whom they may discover lurking about the farm at night. Intruders who are found in the day time are to be arrested. This step was taken after crystals of a strange salt were found in the pastures where Mrs. Durand's prize Guernsey herds graze The substance is being analyzed.

Slays Man Who Told Him to Stop German Song

Alex Buklesuich of 1616 Burling street was stabbed to death and two other men were dangerously wounded in a saloon brawl at Fremont and Willow streets late last night. According to the police, Joe Sely, 1837 Burling street, was singing "Die Wacht am Rhein" and was threatened with a beating if he didn't stop by Buklesuich, John Berytz of 4310 School street, and Valentine Comer of 1833 Fremont street. Sely defended himself with his knife. He is being held.

UNITED STATES.

War department officials admit plans to hurry American army into trenches are "up in the air," and that constant changes in plans are found necessary.

Bitter opposition in both houses of congress may defeat food bill or force radical changes in Wilson program for control.

Lieut. Lavery, Chicago, Wounded in France

Winnipeg, Man., June 18.—[Special.]—Tonight's official Canadian casualty list records Lieut. V. M. Lavery, 7647 Bosworth avenue, Rogers Park, Chicago, as having been wounded while fighting with the British forces in France. Lieut. Lavery was attached to the Canadian engineers.

ALLIES MASSING FOR DRIVE TO RETAKE SERBIA

Mass Entente Troops in Thessaly for Move Upon Nish.

(By the Associated Press.)

The massing of entente troops in Thessaly, south of the center of the line now held by Gen. Sarrail's forces, taken in connection with the withdrawal of British forces on the extreme eastern wing along the lower reaches of the Struma river, seemingly indicates that big events are in the making in the Macedonian theater in an attempt to retake Serbia, or at least that portion of it as far as Nish, through which runs the famous Berlin Constantinople railway.

Along the Vardar and Morava river valleys northward through Serbia undoubtedly would prove easier ground over which to operate than northward along the Struma and through western Bulgaria to the junction of the railway at Sofia.

No impediment is being placed in the way of the troops that have been landed in Thessaly, and with the departure of former King Constantine from the country the people are declared to have become more friendly to the entente allied cause by placing their adherence in the provisional government of Elipherios Venizelos.

Give Up Many Villages.

Although on the eastern wing the British have given up numerous villages, which they previously burned, they are holding tightly to the bridgehead position on the left bank of the River Struma in the Lake Tahinos-Butkovo sector, northeast of Saloniki.

That the retirement of the British was voluntary is indicated by the Bulgarian official report dealing with the maneuver, which does not mention any fighting as having taken place.

There has, however, already been some activity on the part of the British in the Vardar-Lake Doiran sector, but Sofia reports that the attempt made by them to advance near Dautli was repulsed.

British Forced Back.

To the east of Arras on the front in France the British troops have been compelled to fall back from advanced positions before an attack delivered by the Germans which was covered by a heavy bombardment. Otherwise there has been no fighting anywhere in France and Belgium except by raiding parties and by the artillery wings of the opposing forces.

In the Austro-Italian theater the first fighting for more than a week on the Carso plateau, where recently the Italians attempted to break through toward Triest, is chronicled by Rome. Northeast of Jamiano the Italians in an attack have been able to advance and straighten out their line. In the Trentino zone Austrian attacks against Italian positions on the Asiago plateau and in the Vodice district were repulsed.

COPESS LURER FROM CHOICE, JUDGE THINKS

Policewomen who offer inducements to men in motion picture theaters to "rub knees," thus laying the men liable to arrest as mashers, will fare badly in Judge Gemmill's court, where yesterday Policewoman Alice Clement was a complainant.

"I believe she goes into theaters for the sole purpose of finding a man who will rub knees with her," the judge said.

He dismissed a charge against Charles Moy, a Chinese waiter, who told the court he apologized when Policewoman Clement rubbed against him and received a blow in the face in return as well as the ignominy of arrest.

"It was her word against his, and I took his," the judge said. "He convinced me she deliberately rubbed his leg and hit him a rap. I recall another case where she arrested an inoffensive old man, and I made up my mind about her tactics then."

WILSON INSISTS BELGIUM BE FREE

Washington, D. C., June 18.—America is determined that Belgium shall be restored to her former place among nations, President Wilson stated this afternoon in greeting the Belgian special commission at the White House.

Replying to Baron Moncheur, head of the Belgian commission, President Wilson said:

"The American people have been able to understand and glory in the unflinching heroism of the Belgian people and their sovereign. . . . It is our solemn determination that on the inevitable day of victory Belgium shall be restored to the place she has so richly won among the self-respecting nations of the earth."

COUNCIL O. K.'S SCHOOL BOARD MAYOR CHOSE

Lundin Called Boss of Democratic Party.

Appointment of Mayor Thompson's nine school board members was confirmed by the city council yesterday by a vote of 44 to 25. After the first roll call, which resulted in tabling a demand for an entire new slate, the result was never in doubt.

Democratic aldermen turned the trick for the mayor. Thirty-five of them lined up behind him and their number so impressed Ald. A. A. McCormick that he termed Fred Lundin the new Democratic "boss" of the town and the dethroner of Roger Sullivan and Carter Harrison. Throughout the meeting the mayor and Lundin were under a constant fire of criticism.

MAYOR GRATIFIED.

"Lundinized school board"; "Rottenest political boss the city ever had"; "Dirtiest type of back door politics," these were some of the phrases used to describe actions of the mayor and his friend. But at the end of it all the mayor smiled, leaned over and grasped the hand of Samuel A. Ettelson, the corporation counsel, who sat with him on the rostrum.

It was a rapid fire session. First came the report of the majority of the schools committee approving the appointees, together with a minority report asking they be set aside. A few minutes were wasted on a parliamentary debate, but Ald. Cullerton came to the rescue of the mayor and declared both reports should be deferred and published. The mayor upheld him, thus effectively smothering the minority report.

OPPOSITION MOWED DOWN.

Ald. Schwartz jumped to his feet, though, and moved that the mayor present a new slate. Ald Franz, chairman of the schools committee, asked that this motion be tabled, and was successful by a vote of 40 to 29. Ald. Rodrigues asked that the council be allowed to vote separately on each appointee, but his request went into oblivion by the same vote as the other. Then came the roll call on the confirmation of the list, and this is the way the council stood:

Ald. Fetzer's vote was one of the surprises of the roll call as it was supposed he would side with the administration. Jacob M. Loeb, president of the school board, aided him materially, however, in the defeat of former Ald. Merriam, whose seat he occupies.

McCORMICK HITS DEMOCRATS.

"We're beaten. I know it," announced Ald. A. A. McCormick when it was his turn to vote. "I wanted Fred Lundin, though, to appear before the committee, for I wanted to ask him whether he maintained the real mayor's office in the Hotel La Salle and I wanted to know whether he really was mayor. I wanted to know whether he really was a boss, but now I'm sure he is boss of the Democrats. He has dethroned Roger Sullivan and Carter Harrison. Look at the way you Democrats respond to his whip.

"This morning there was a hurry-up call from the corporation counsel's office and there you got your orders from Fred Lundin. There were some things in Mr. Loeb's diary about the mayor consulting Lundin, too, about which I would have liked to ask him. Here, evidently, from his remarks about Congressman Juul, is the man who is putting poison in the well of our patriotic life.

"LUNDIN DEMOCRATS."

"Now, you Lundin Democrats, you can go out to your wards and say he closed the saloons on Sunday, but that he also appointed a good school board, and you put schools above the saloons every time.

NATION ON VERGE OF ANARCHY, IS VATICAN REPORT

Militia Rows, War Divisions, and Strikes All Factors.

LONDON, June 19, 3 a. m.—The Daily Telegraph's Rome correspondent telegraphed under date of Monday:

"The vatican has received very grave news from Spain. The country is greatly agitated over disturbances among the militia and there are symptoms of anarchy. The new ministry is shaken and lacks authority, whilst there are rumors of a fresh crisis in conflicts between the Germanophiles and the interventionists.

"To complicate the situation a new general strike is considered to be imminent."

At Parting of Ways.

"The following account of some of the features in the Spanish crisis have been supplied to me by a well informed personage who recently arrived from Madrid.

"Spain now finds herself at the parting of the ways. Certain military incidents at Barcelona caused the feeling, which was already high, to reach fever heat. At a meeting of the mancommunidad, which is a kind of Catalonian parliament, Señor Prat de la Riba, the president, stated that the Catalonians aspire to independence. This declaration was intensified by a new journal founded in Barcelona, which openly stated: 'We are Catalonians and nothing else. They can prosecute and imprison us, but above and despite everything we will loudly proclaim that not at any price will we be dependent on the Spanish state.'

Cost of Living a Factor.

"There is also a great economic crisis, which must be solved rapidly. Practically every trade is on the verge of a strike. There is agitation among the railway men, coal is lacking and I am assured it is only a question of how much longer trains can run. The cost of living is increasing by leaps and bounds Within the last two months food prices have advanced 25 per cent in Madrid.'".

We Just Gotta Keep This Town Free from Crime!

Chief of Police Schuettler yesterday arranged to detail policemen and policewomen at the beaches to see that the law governing bathing costumes is not violated. Second Deputy Funkhouser also will be on the lookout, but even the city ordinance allows them this year to wear 'em shorter.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

Montreal, June 18.—The steamship Carthaginian, of the Allan line, struck a mine and sank shortly after leaving Glasgow for Montreal, according to information received here today. No details had arrived at a late hour tonight, but it is understood it did not carry passengers.

LONDON, June 19.—A dispatch to Reuter's Limited from Petrograd says the anarchists have seized the editorial rooms and printing offices of the Republican newspaper Russkia Volia.

PETROGRAD, June 18, via London, June 19.—The American commission, headed by Elihu Root, was busily engaged today in informal conferences with cabinet ministers and army and navy officers, who explained Russia's needs and began preparing parliamentary lists of supplies the United States can furnish.

John F. Stevens, head of the American railroad commission, has been ill for several days, suffering from inflammation of the ear.

LONDON, June 19.—The Poles have completely broken off relations with the Austrian government, says a dispatch to Reuter's Limited from Zurich, Switzerland, quoting Vienna advices.

LONDON, June 19.—The Stockholm correspondent of the Chronicle reports the arrival of Abdurrosched Ibrahim, representative to the Socialist conference from the Russian moslems, who has issued a statement in which he says he has been authorized to inform the conference concerning the moslem peace interests. He said that 25,000,000 Russian moslems are building great hopes on the conference, which they expect will claim self-government for all peoples.

FOOD CONTROL BILL IN PERIL OF FILIBUSTER

Wilson Plan Facing a Hard Fight in Two Houses.

Washington, D. C., June 18.—Opening of debate today in both branches of congress on the second administration food bill—for governmental control of foodstuffs and other necessaries—disclosed determined opposition, particularly in the senate, where one group threatened to prevent its enactment by July 1, as requested by President Wilson.

Passage of the bill by the house this week is expected by administration leaders. But in the senate the debate will be protracted for several weeks, and, unless the president adopts some extraordinary steps to hasten action, the law hardly can be enacted in time to set up the food administration before harvesting begins.

Administration supporters privately expressed fear tonight of a senate filibuster. They are prepared, if necessary, to invoke the senate's new anti-filibuster rules.

HOOVER TO MEET SENATORS.

In an effort to allay senate opposition it was arranged today to have an informal conference tomorrow between senators and Herbert C. Hoover, chosen by the president to be food administrator with immediate charge of exercising the powers sought.

At the suggestion of Senator Ransdell, Mr. Hoover was invited to appear at a public meeting of the agriculture committee and explain the legislation. A general invitation to all senators to question Mr. Hoover was extended.

In the initial discussion of the bill administration spokesmen urged that mobilization of America's food power in the war demanded radical steps and vesting of new and wide powers in the president. The opposition protested that a dictatorship and interference with business and individual rights were proposed and questioned the constitutionality of the legislation.

WILSON APPEAL IN LETTER.

President Wilson, in a letter to Representative Borland, today warned opponents of the food measures that they must be prepared to bear the responsibility for their defeat if they succeeded in accomplishing it.

"A certain disservice has been done the measure by speaking of it as the food control bill," the president wrote. "The object of the measure is not to control the food of the country but to release it from the control of speculators and other persons who will seek to make inordinate profits out of it and to protect the people against the extortions which would result.

"It seems to me that those who oppose the measure ought seriously to consider whether they are not playing into the hands of such persons and whether they are not making themselves responsible, should they succeed, for the extraordinary and oppressive price of food in the United States. Foodstuffs will, of course, inevitably be high, but it is possible by perfectly legitimate means to keep them from being unreasonably and oppressively high."

DEBATE IN BOTH HOUSES.

Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, chosen to have charge of the bill in the senate, urged it as a war necessity, declaring governmental control of food as essential as men and munitions. Senator Sheppard of Texas, Democrat, and Senator Kenyon of Iowa, Republican, also spoke in behalf of the bill.

In the house Chairman Lever of the house agriculture committee, also emphasized the necessity of the legislation. He said the president could be trusted with the powers proposed and that they would be invoked against "crooks" and not against legitimate business interests.

Opposition in the senate was voiced by Senators Gore, chairman of the agriculture committee; Reed and Vardaman, Democrats, and Gallinger, Republican. In the house opposition was led by Representatives Haugen of Iowa, Republican, and Young of Texas, Democrat.

WOULD HALT RAISING PRICES.

Senator Chamberlain told the senate he had been informed that there had been an increase of more than 50 per cent in the price of certain staple articles.

"I don't know if anybody knows the cause for this increase," he said, "but one thing, in the countries where there has been a tendency for the food prices to increase, legislation along the lines of this bill has tended to hold prices down. The purposes of this bill is to vest somewhere regulation of the food prices."

Senator Reed asked if bread lines in New York had not been instigated by German agents.

"I don't like to say," replied the Oregon senator, "but I think that agents of some foreign countries have been at work in an effort to limit the hand of this government."

Food Waste in Hotels.

Senator Stone said the waste in food in hotels and elsewhere by individuals should be stopped.

"There is enough food wasted that way to feed these people," he declared. "It is wicked waste and somebody ought to be authorized to prevent it."

Senator Gallinger said the proposition for a minimum price guarantee to farmers struck him as "extraordinary" and he asked: "Why limit this to the farmers and not extend it to all industries?"

Senator Chamberlain said the inducement was being held out to the producers to grow all they could and the government would make it certain that they received a fair price for their efforts.

Senator Reed insisted that under the provisions of the bill the government could take over control of every farm or mill and, he believed, every bank.

Senator Sheppard replied that this could be done in emergency cases, adding, "but I am not afraid to entrust that power to the president or to anybody he gives that power to."

Aimed at "Food Crook."

To bring "food crooks out into the sunlight," but not to injure honest business is the aim of the bill, Chairman Lever of the agriculture committee, declared in opening the house debate.

"The contest between German autocracy and American democracy," Representative Lever said, "will be determined in the end by the character and strength of the organization which one can put against the other. This means not only the man power of the nation, the money power of the nation, but every resource which may be used in the contest.

"We must either confer the so-called autocratic powers upon the constitutional head of our government or be prepared to have them assumed by the German kaiser. No war was ever won by a debating society. Every man, woman or child must be prepared to make sacrifices—great sacrifices.

Purposes of Bill.

"This bill aims to facilitate and clear the channels of distribution, to prevent hoarding, to prevent the willful destruction of necessaries, in order to enhance the price or restrict the supply; to eliminate injurious speculation, to regulate exchanges and boards of trade in order to prohibit undue fluctuation of prices, unjust market manipulation, or unfair or misleading market quotations; to reduce waste, including the power to regulate or completely to prohibit the use of cereals in the manufacture of alcoholic beverages, and to stimulate production by assuring the farmer a reasonable profit, guaranteed by the government, and a free and open market for his products, unrestricted by manipulation and uncontrolled by gambling operations.

"We intend in this bill to drive from the established agencies of distribution the market manipulator and the gambler."

Aid by the "Movies."

A phase of the educational appeal in the food campaign will be cooperation on the part of the movies.

Information for public propaganda, looking towards food conservation, it was announced today, will be handled through the courtesy of the National Association of the Motion Picture Industry and its allied organization, the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers. Mr. Hoover, in accepting the offer of the motion picture industry as a whole, designated the national association and the associated advertisers as the agency to represent the food administration in moving picture propaganda and publicity.

25 "Bos" Gathered In.

Twenty-five hoboes were gathered in the annual summer cleanup of the West Madison street district last night by the police of the Desplaines street station. All were locked up charged with disorderly conduct.

MUNITION MEN SEEK TO DODGE TAX ON PROFITS

Washington, D. C., June 18.—Widespread attempts on the part of munitions makers to evade the payment of profits taxes imposed by congress last September have been reported by internal revenue agents, who have been working for the last two months checking up the manufacturers' returns.

The extent of the attempted evasion thus far brought to the attention of the treasury totals more than $10,000,000, or approximately 40 per cent of the returns voluntarily made. Indications are that the figure will go as high as $12,000,000 or $13,000,000. Some of the largest concerns in the industry failed to make complete returns of profits, it is charged.

Inquiry Started Quickly.

Under the law, munitions makers are required to report to the commissioner of internal revenue their profits each year and to pay the government a tax of 12½ per cent. Virtually all of the 600 to 700 manufacturers made their returns, apparently in conformance with the law, showing profits which netted the government approximately $26,500,000 in taxes.

Commissioner Osborne set a field force of investigators to work almost immediately. They reported profits largely in excess of those reported to the government in many instances. One of the methods adopted was to charge off as expenses proportions of the cost of special munitions plants.

Many Returns Revised.

As a result of the investigation, returns to the government have been revised in many instances and will be in others, so that the total which the government will obtain in taxes will be at least $36,500,000.

One firm, which reported originally that it had made no profits, altered its report upon reconsidartion, while the investigators were at work in other plants and before its own had been reached, and sent the government a check for approximately $150,000 in payment of taxes.

The penalty for making false returns is fine or imprisonment, or both.

JEWS' WAR FUND GETS BETROTHAL RINGS OF 2 WOMEN

Two women have contributed their engagement rings to the fund for Jewish war sufferers which the Jews of the nation hope to swell to $10,000,000.

Mrs. Charles Brady of Rock Island sent jewels valued at $1,500, including her diamond engagement ring, to be sold at auction.

"I part with my engagement ring for my people's sake," wrote Mrs. Brady to Miss S. Bella Jerusalimsky, office manager of the Chicago joint relief committee, 720 West Twelfth street. "I am willing to give all my money for them."

Mrs. Fannie Pollack of Moberly, Mo., sent this note with her ring: "It is all I have, but I give it willingly for the cause."

FIFTY MILLION A WEEK PAID U. S.

New York, June 18.—Great Britain's weekly war expenditures in the United States amount to between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000, Lord Northcliffe, head of the British departmental missions in this country, announced tonight on his return from Washington. A single contract for $40,000,000 was placed in one day alone last week, he said.

Lord Northcliffe issued this statement: "I am not here to talk. I am engaged in a gigantic task of organization which precludes my accepting the countless offers of hospitality that have poured in on me since my arrival. I hope to gather new ideas for transmitting to England, and I shall be glad to answer any questions bearing upon the lessons to be learned from the many mistakes Britain and her allies have made since the time when they were so unexpectedly plunged into this horrible carnage."

MOTOR GENIUS NOW TO AID U. S.

Detroit, Mich., June 18.—[Special.]—Henry M. Leland, founder of the Cadillac Motor Car company of this city and recognized as one of the greatest motor geniuses of the industry, today, with his son, Wilfred C. Leland, withdrew from the automobile business to apply his ability to solving war problems.

The Lelands, father and son, achieved world-wide renown for their success in the development of gasoline engines. Henry Leland used a one cylinder engine in the first automobile built. He and his son, collaborating with other experts, then turned out two, four, and eight cylinder engines.

United States to Fix Price on Coal and Oil for Navy

Washington, D. C., June 18.—Secretary Daniels has ordered coal and oil producers to supply the enormous quantities needed by the navy at prices to be fixed later by the president when the federal trade commission has determined a fair rate. The navy will use 1,750,000 tons of coal and 50,000,000 barrels of oil, purchased under this application of the authority granted by congress.

Secretary Daniels said today that the coal operators proposed to furnish navy coal at a rate of $2.95 a ton at the mine. The navy has been paying $2.88 a ton delivered. The secretary directed the companies to ship immediately, the orders being prorated among the producers, agreeing to pay a tentative price of $2.33 at the mines pending a report from the federal trade commission.

ADJUSTMENTS TO CONDITIONS.

If the commission determines a higher rate is justified, because of increased cost of production, the department will equalize payments at the rate fixed. If $2.33 is too high, however, payments on future shipments will be curtailed to bring the entire purchase at the commission's rate. The $2.33 rate is being advanced by the government "on account" at present.

Oil quotations submitted, Mr. Daniels said, ranged from $1.58 to $1.86 a barrel, delivered at Port Arthur, although the present rate is 80 cents a barrel at that point. The department directed the producers to fill its orders for 50,000,000 barrels, leaving the question of price to be determined by the trade commission.

STEEL AT $56 A TON.

A tentative price of $56 a ton was obtained by the government today on steel for the great fleet of merchant ships to be built by the shipping boards' emergency fleet corporation. Previous contracts, let before congress gave the president power to commandeer supplies, called for steel at $95.

Today's contracts went to the Downey Construction company of New York, for ten vessels. Twenty-four wooden hulls also were contracted for. The contracts were signed by Chairman Denman of the shipping board, after he had refused to approve them when they first came to him from Gen. Goethals, general manager of the fleet corporation, naming a price of $95. The vessels will be ready in 1918.

The price of $56 will stand, Mr. Denman announced today until a final figure is set by the president or by some agency he may designate.

FINAL PRICE TO BE FIXED.

The country's steel plants, it was said today, accepted the price of $56 on condition that its acceptance would not determine the final price to be paid.

Talk of differences between Mr. Denman and Gen. Goethals over the shipbuilding program was revived here today with Mr. Denman's forcing down the price of steel. In voting a $500,000,000 appropriation for shipbuilding congress authorized the president to exercise powers granted in the act through any agency he might designate.

Both Mr. Denman and Gen. Goethals, it is said, are anxious that the other should not be designated to carry out the act's provisions. Gen. Goethals, it is understood, feels he can not accomplish half as much as he might if hampered by the shipping board with powers to direct his efforts. Mr. Denman, it is said, believes the shipping board should be given full powers.

ALARMED BY U-BOAT LOSSES.

"Take all the steel ships we can build," he said, "and double their number, then add the 1,000 wooden vessels somebody dreamed about and we cannot keep pace with German submarine sinkings if they continue at the rate they were going in April or even at last week's rate. The situation is so bad the imagination will not keep pace with it as far as only a few months ahead."

Chairman Denman, after a conference with President Wilson, said he and Gen. Goethals were on good terms and that there was nothing unusual in his White House visit.

NO CONTRACTS MADE HERE.

No local coal jobbers in Chicago have been given any of the navy coal contracts, according to F. G. Hartwell, president of the F. G. Hartwell Coal company.

"The contracts are made on mine run bases, and are given to the operators direct," Mr. Hartwell said. "It is possible that the large tonnage required for navy use will take the entire output of some mines. The open price for Pocohontas and New River coal has been between $5 and $6 per net ton. I do not know whether the government price will permit a profit, but I assume it will, as purchases will undoubtedly be made in great quantities."

U. S. TRADE BOARD TO STUDY FOOD MARKET HERE

Hope to Conserve the Supply in National Crisis.

Investigation into the cost, production, and conservation of foods in the territory adjacent to Chicago will be made by the federal trade commission in a series of hearings here early next month. An announcement to this effect was made yesterday by District Attorney Charles F. Clyne after a conference in Washington with Attorney General Gregory and members of the trade commission.

Prices of meat, flour, and canned foods will receive especial attention. Farmers and producers throughout the central states will be subpoenaed.

The purpose of the inquiry, according to Mr. Clyne, is primarily to gather data for use in conserving the food supply.

Grand Jury Hearing.

Statistics assembled by the government showing increases of from 10 to 100 per cent in the retail costs of staple foodstuffs in the last six months were placed before the federal grand jury yesterday by Assistant Attorney General Childs. The government will ask indictments of food brokers, speculators, and combines on charges of conspiracy and unlawful restraint of trade.

Throughout the day heads of departments of produce firms, storage warehouses, and brokerages showed their ledgers to the jurors.

Evidence was presented tending to show that consumers in Chicago have paid from 300 to 400 per cent more for potatoes than the farmers received.

Bumper Crops Predicted.

One of the largest crops of foodstuffs in the history of the country is in prospect this year, according to statements of C. J. Blanchard, chief statistician of the reclamation service, while in Chicago yesterday.

"It is not a problem of food shortage," he said, "but one of getting men to gather the crop, and to see that it is amply protected after it is gathered."

ENGINEERS WILL LIST PLANTS TO MAKE AIRPLANES

The Society of Industrial Engineers, organized in Chicago on May 26, at the close of the national conference on industrial preparedness, held under the auspices of the Western Efficiency society, yesterday was assigned the task of obtaining complete data regarding the equipment of all plants in the United States that can in any manner aid in the manufacture of aeroplanes or parts of aircraft.

The order directing the society to collect this data came from the council of national defense at Washington.

The society also will compile a list of all industrial engineers whose knowledge and training may be of value to the government during the war.

The society has elected Charles Buxton Going of New York chairman of its board of directors, S. T. A. Loftis of Chicago treasurer, and G. C. Dent of Chicago assistant treasurer and secretary.

WOMEN URGED AS AMBULANCE PILOTS AT FRONT

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

AVORD AVIATION SCHOOL, PARIS, June 18.—"Since the United States is now allied with France fighting Germany, I am violently opposed to American youths coming to France to act as ambulance drivers. Their duty is with the American army shouldering a rifle—American women in plenty are capable of driving ambulances here, and we can get all we need to replace the young men now driving," Dr. Edmond Gros, American physician in charge of the American ambulance drivers and American aviators, said yesterday in a speech before French officers commanding the world's biggest aviation training school.

"Before America entered the war voluntary enlistments of young Americans as ambulance drivers were patriotic and commendable," Dr. Gros continued. "But now that we are fighting, too, the place for young men is in the army.

"Let the Americans beyond the age limit and the women operate ambulances—women can drive automobiles as well as men, and there are plenty of them anxious to come to France and do it."

Urge U. S. Take School.

Dr. Gros proceeded to unfold a plan, which he intimated French authorities favor, that the United States should not waste precious time trying to start to build, organize, and operate big aviation training schools immediately but should take over from the French government some plant—Avord, for example—where coöperating with the French officers the United States could train pilots by the hundreds.

Dr. Gros favors the United States obtaining the Avord plant and using it to train Americans and letting the French pupils be transferred to other schools for training. Already all Americans learning to fly receive a preliminary course at Avord, finishing up at Pau.

1,000 Planes at School.

"When you inspect Avord school, see its enormous size, and then realize that only about 1,000 aeroplanes are here you can see how ridiculous it is for the people of America to talk about 40,000 and 100,000 pilots being turned out within a short time," Dr. Gros continued. "It probably would take at least three years to organize and perfect a school like Avord in the United States, and that is three years wasted at a period when time is extremely precious.

"Another thing, here in France there are many practice aeroplanes for beginners and pupils—obsolete aeroplanes battered at the front. In America there are not a thousand machines for beginners.

"We need all the pilots we can get, and as air superiority over the Germans becomes more marked so is victory hastened."

Chauncey McCormick Ordered to French Front

Chauncey McCormick, director for Chicago of the American ambulance field service, has been ordered to the French front, to be attached to the staff of Maj. Grayson M. P. Murphy, commissioner general of the American Red Cross in Europe.

MAKE AMERICA LEADER IN AIR, PEARY'S APPEAL

Washington, D. C., June 18.—Rear Admiral Peary, resuming his testimony today before the senate military committee in support of the bill to establish a bureau of aeronautics, urged that to become the first air power of the world should be fixed as the national aim.

"Why not take the initiative and lead instead of being pushed into every move of national preparedness, as has been the case with us for the last two years?" he asked.

Adjt. Fred H. Prince of Boston and Adjt. Lawrence Rumsey of Buffalo, members of the Lafayette escadrille, explained the work of American flyers in France and described the various machines in use. Prince is a brother of Norman Prince, killed in France.

Whole Country Must Wake.

Admiral Peary testified in part as follows:

"To give the United States proper air power—real air preparedness—we need immediate and full appreciation on the part of the public, the press, and the government of the vitalness, the magnitude, and the immediateness of this question of air power for the United States. Then we want:

"An aviator class similar to the present chauffeur class; thousands of young men throughout the country able to handle an aeroplane as a chauffeur handles his car—aero chauffeurs.

"A comprehensive aero coast defense system along the general lines the national aerial coast patrol commission has indicated and is urging. This system should comprise a continuous cordon of sentinel planes a hundred miles or more off the coast and large aero squadron stations near the principal coastal cities to protect the cities from air raids and for offense against a hostile fleet.

Huge Plant in Interior.

"A great central aeronautical manufacturing plant, similar to our largest automobile establishments, located in the interior of the country, where it can be protected to the last ditch.

"This all hinges and centers on the first item, a department of aeronautics, given that the other items will follow as a matter of course.

"We need aeroplanes for coast patrol protection, convoy of ships, frontier patrol, and protection for our army, for our navy, for air defense of our cities, the Panama canal, and Hawaii, St. Thomas, Guantanamo, and other like stations."

Russian Mission Makes Brief Halt in Chicago

Members of the Russian commission to the United States, traveling in five coaches of a special train, spent twenty minutes in Chicago yesterday, en route to Washington. The delegates, headed by Prof. Boris Bokhmetief, who will become Russian ambassador, did not leave their train. A telegram of welcome from Jane Addams, vice chairman of the Chicago committee of welcome, was read on board the train. It is expected the commission will make a longer visit in Chicago on the return trip.

Haiti Breaks With Germans.

MARCONI LAUDS AMERICA; PARTY OFF FOR THE EAST

Marquis Hears Hero Son Will Live as Busy Visit Ends.

Guglielmo Marconi, Italian senator and inventor of wireless telegraphy, was the chief speaker at a dinner given last night at the Blackstone in honor of the Royal Italian mission. The dinner was over early, as the distinguished visitors were compelled to catch their special train to Pittsburgh, their next stop, at 9:30 o'clock.

In his address Senator Marconi, who spoke in English, said:

"Wherever there is a just cause to be defended, a wrong to be righted, there you will find America! I never have doubted that you would have the will to join us as soon as you became convinced that the allies were fighting to uphold those principles of democracy and liberty which are as dear to you as they are to us.

"Among all the nations that are at war, Italy has the honor of being the one who is silently bearing the greatest strain and the greatest privation. No one of you knows the kind of war Italy is fighting, and only when it is known will the world realize the sacrifices."

What Italy Needs.

Italy does not ask men, said Mr. Marconi; she can furnish them. But she needs grain and coal and steel. She has no coal or iron. She will find her manufactories closed and her workers hungry unless she gets these ships.

"An essential condition of victory for us all," he said, "above all, is the construction of ships, many ships and more ships. The shipping problem takes precedence of all others; its solution now is success."

He said that the submarine problem has not been solved. He admitted his fear that no solution was at hand. Then with this plea he closed:

"I realize, as never before, that if there be any power on earth that can help us to victory for the sacred cause of democracy and liberty, it is the men who built this marvelous civilization, the men of America!"

Plea for Coalition Cabinet.

Mr. Marconi was introduced by Ald. R. H. McCormick, toastmaster, as the greatest scientist of "the only one of our allies fighting on enemy soil." Mr. Marconi was greeted with lasting applause and several times interrupted by the loud hand clapping of those present.

Medill McCormick, representative at large from Illinois, who spoke representing Washington, made a strong plea for a coalition cabinet. He said that America must accept the lessons that the European nations, allies and foe alike, had learned.

Pleging America to "march into the breach beside Italy," he said:

"The call is for integration of purpose, a coalition of purpose. It is not enough that we understand the wishes and purposes of our allies. It is necessary that we learn our part and our duties and when we have learned we must fulfill."

Marquis' Son Hero.

Marquis Borsarelli, eight times elected to the Italian chamber of deputies, made a heart touching talk. Those who heard him, his voice filled with pathos, did not know that just before he sat down at the banquet he had received a cablegram from his wife which said:

"Our son, Giulio, wounded at the front at Goritz, will live. He will be decorated for bravery. Wounded, he saved the lives of six soldiers and then captured six bomb throwing machines, not leaving the battle until he did so."

Toastmaster McCormick offered a toast to the Kily of Italy and Marquis Borsarelli, with much feeling, called for a toast to President Wilson. Each toast was drunk standing.

Thompson Not There.

Mayor Thompson was not present. Samuel A. Ettelson representing him. Others seated at the speakers' table besides those who spoke and the visiting members of the mission were: Maj. Gen. Thomas H. Barry; Horace D. Nugent, English consul general; Count Giulio Bolognesi, royal Italian consul; Capt. William A. Moffett, U. S. N.; Mr. Barthelemy, French consul; Antoine Volkoff, Russian consul general; Saubro Kurusu, imperial Japanese consul; Albert Moulaert, Belgian consul general; Dr. Cyrille Vermeren, Belgian consul; President Harry Pratt Judson, University of Chicago; Charles J. Vopicka, John Latta Ryan; Col. William J. Nicholson, J. P. S. Harrison, Col. Hull, Capt. Evers, Judge William Fenimore Cooper, Lieut. Col. McNeil, Col. Milton J. Foreman, Cleofonte Campanini, Capt. Fitch, Mr. Pardo, Mr. De Susa, Mr. D'Amato, Mr. Palma, Dr. Antonio Lagorio, and Simon O'Donnell.

Yesterday afternoon a delegation of members of the Italian societies of Chicago met the members of the mission at the residence of Ald. McCormick, where they have been stopping, and presented $1,500 to the cause of relief in the war. Of this $1,000 was in the name of the Unione Siciliano, Urbano Urbano, president, and $500 from the Society Guglielmo Marconi, Christ Grasiane, president.

Tour of Stockyards.

At noon a luncheon was served at the Saddle and Sirloin club, the visiting members of the mission being the guests of the four chief packing houses at the stock yards. Arthur Meeker, vice president of Armour & Company., was toastmaster, Minister Arlotta sitting at his right and Marquis Borsarelli at his left. They had just completed a tour of the packing houses, where they had seen the chief points of interest. Mr. Meeker told them:

"It has been a great pleasure to show you our packing houses, but we wish you to know that in America there are twenty-five similar plants, so that you may know something of America's ability to help."

Then he proposed a toast to the king of Italy. Marquis Borsarelli responded, offering a toast to President Wilson.

The dining room was hung in American and Italian flags, alternating, and at the end of the hall the six flags of the chief allies were draped.

Mr. Meeker personally conducted the visitors through the Armour plant, and Louis Swift, who sat at the speakers' table, had just come with them from the Swift plant. A short time was put in at the plant of Libby, McNeil & Libby. The party was much interested in goods being packed with labels printed in Italian for export to Italy.

After the luncheon the party, headed by a squad of motorcycle police, visited the Midway, passed the University of Chicago, rode through Jackson park, and then made the west side boulevard belt, passing through the winding drives of Washington, Douglas, Garfield, and Humboldt parks, stopping at Lincoln park to pay tribute to the memory of Garibaldi and Lincoln.

Marquis Borsarelli placed a wreath on the monument of Garibaldi, characterizing him in Italian as "the great liberator." Minister Arlotta, while placing a like wreath on the Lincoln monument, said in English:

"As a boy, as soon as I could read a book, I read 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' and about that time I read of the great power of this mighty man who had the ability to free millions from slavery. Now, in my old age, it is one of the greatest pleasures of my life to be able to thus pay tribute to him."

Cheered All Along Route.

All along the parkways during the forty mile drive men and women cheered the party. Many Italians, some of them workers in the streets, cried "Viva! viva!" and other Italian terms of welcome. Some groups, who recognized Marconi, inventor of the wireless, screamed his name after him and clapped hands in delight.

Everywhere that Marconi has been recognized by Italians they have accorded him the honor of chief hero of the party.

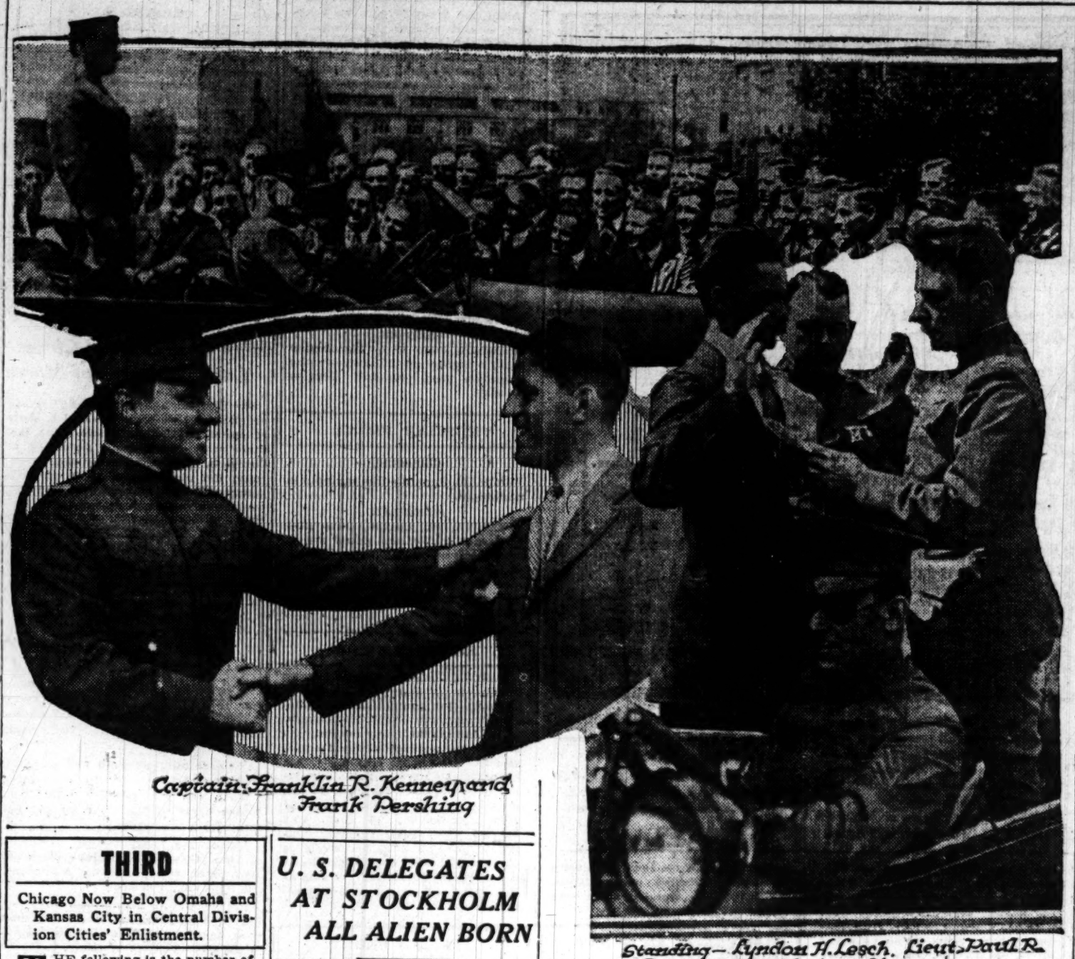
Fifty-six U. of C. Men Sworn Into Army Ordnance Corps and Stores Division—Go to Training Camp with Noncom Jobs in View.



Captain Franklin R. Kenney and Frank Pershing

Standing—Lyndon H. Lesch, Lieut. Paul R. Davisson, and Capt. Kenney.

Fifty-six men of the University of Chicago were sworn into the army as privates in the ordnance corps and stores division yesterday by Capt. Franklin Kenney, chief recruiting officer of Chicago. The men have just completed an eight week course in store work, consisting of accounting, army stores methods, etc., under the direction of the college of commerce and administration at the university.

The course was given at the suggestion of the council of national defense. The men are going to be sent to some training camp in the next few days to receive practical training and after a brief course will probably be given noncommissioned officers' positions. Their term of office is for the duration of the war.

Several of the men are well known athletes at the university. Among them are Frank Pershing, a nephew of the general, who is the captain-elect of the football team; Edward Marum, a member of the varsity baseball squad, and Lyndon Lesch, a graduate of this year's class.

U. S. DELEGATES AT STOCKHOLM ALL ALIEN BORN

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.
(Special Cable to Chicago Tribune.)

STOCKHOLM, June 18.—None of the three men sent by American Socialists to represent the United States in the Stockholm social democrat peace conference is a born American and only one is an American citizen. All of them are of Russian birth and Jews. Their selection was partly due to the difficulty of obtaining the state department's permission for American citizens to make the journey for the Stockholm conference.

The two Russians and one Russian-American representing the American Socialists arrived in Stockholm yesterday. The trio includes Dr. Max Goldfarb, editor of the New York Forward, published in Yiddish and the most widely circulated foreign daily in the United States; Boris Reinstein, a Socialist leader from Buffalo and for thirty years an American citizen, and D. Davidovitch of New York.

Passports from Russian Consul.

Goldfarb and Davidovitch and possibly Reinstein obtained their passports from the Russian consul at New York for traveling in Russia. Goldfarb brought his family and is sending them to Petrograd today.

These men will act in the preliminary Stockholm peace conferences and in the general peace conference convening July 10. Meanwhile Goldfarb represents the American Socialist party, Reinstein the Socialist Labor party, and Davidovitch the Jewish labor organization called the Socialist Territorial Labor party.

Thinks Wilson May Relent.

When I asked Goldfarb if he thought Hillquist, Lee, and Berger would be granted passports by Washington he said: "When I left America I thought not, because our government was so bitter against the conference idea, but since landing we have heard that England and France have lifted the bars. Washington may do the same, as our country is now their ally."

I asked: "Have you any message to send to American Socialists?"

He replied: "Nothing today. Tomorrow I shall meet Dr. Felix Adler of Austria, whose son is under death sentence. Huysmans already has arranged that interview. I shall see the representative of the Russian soldiers and workingmen's committee, who are now here.

Detained at Halifax.

Tomorrow also I and my comrades from America will confer with the Dutch-Scandinavian committee to learn how matters stand and what plans are afoot. You see we have been long without newspapers. Until tomorrow night I can make no statement. We left New York May 26 on the Oscar II., which was held up nine days at Halifax, where we were well treated."

Goldfarb will not only represent the American Socialist party as a delegate to the peace conference, but is here also in the interest of the international social democrat bureau here.

England's Delegates Citizens.

England's delegates to the peace conference also arrived in Stockholm yesterday and will confer with the Dutch-Scandinavian committee. England's delegates are citizens. Julius West is one of the four representatives of the English social democrat majority. West is accompanied by Thompson, editor of the London Clarion. The other delegates are Roberts, a member of parliament; Carter and W. C. Robinson for the majority, and Ramsay Macdonald, a member of parliament; J. W. Jowett, a member of parliament, and E. C. Fairchild for the minority.

Robert Carter Robinson will represent the English Labor party. West represents the Fabian society, Macdonald and Jowett the Independent Labor party, and Fairchild the British Socialist party.

OPENS NEW DRIVE FOR MORE MARINE CORPS RECRUITS

Following the receipt of a dispatch from Washington, which conveyed instructions to Maj. Brackett of the marine corps to remain in charge of the Chicago office until further notice, the major started a new campaign to get more recruits. During marine week 392 were accepted of the 2,000 applicants. Maj. Brackett attributed the failure of the applicants to the firm examination.

Maj. Brackett intends to send out his men and make promising marines enlist. To accomplish his purpose Walter D. Smith, second leader of the Marine band at Washington arrived in Chicago yesterday at noon to examine all recruits who wish to join the band, which will accompany the Second regiment of marines to France.

According to Ensign Childs of the navy only 25 per cent have passed examinations. The men who have passed the tests will be put through daily drills as soon as the camp in Grant park is put in shape.

Waiters' Strike Forces Crane to Wash Dishes

PETROGRAD, June 18.—Charles R. Crane, millionaire Chicagoan and one of the members of the American mission to Russia, had to make his own bed, act as his own waiter, and wash his own breakfast, lunch, and dinner dishes today.

With hundreds of other guests at Petrograd hotels, Crane was a victim of a general strike of waiters. They are demanding part ownership of all hotels and restaurants.

PLENTY OF FOOD AMONG TEUTONS TO BALK ENEMY

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

AMSTERDAM, June 17, via London, June 18.—A special correspondent who has just returned from an extensive trip through Germany and Austria, going as far south as Trieste, gained the impression that the allies should not hope to conquer the enemy by starvation. He says the scarcity of food is much less than a short time ago, because vegetables are plentiful in the central powers.

The correspondent was with the Austrian troops on the Isonzo front; they lacked nothing of food. In the Carso region only water was needed. Yet there were more than two liters of water daily for each soldier.

In Vienna the correspondent stood in crowds lined before the Market hall, the milk and butcher shops. Nowhere did he hear any one express a desire for peace. They complained, rather seriously, about the lack of sugar, of soap, of the small bread ration. But they said, in effect, rather seriously: "This has been going on for three years. Why not for two years more?"

DUBLIN REBELS GIVEN FREEDOM AND BIG PARADE

LONDON, June 18.—Large crowds gathered in Dublin this morning to welcome the released Irish prisoners, all of whom with the exception of Countess Markievicz arrived at 8 o'clock. Men with banners escorted the former prisoners to their homes. There was much singing of Irish songs and a great deal of cheering, but there were no signs of disorder.

In the house of commons Chancellor Bonar Law was asked whether the prisoners had been released on condition that the Sinn Fein party should participate in the forthcoming Irish convention. He replied that the prisoners had been freed unconditionally.

Count Plunkett Freed.

DUBLIN, June 18.—Count Plunkett, member of parliament and Sinn Feiner, and the other members of the Sinn Fein who were arrested on June 9, when attempting to hold a prohibited meeting here to protest against the imprisonment of Irish rebels, were released today.

RUSSIA SEEKS NEW TREATIES ON WAR POLICY

Minister Says Separate Peace Now Would Be Impossible.

PETROGRAD, Sunday, June 17, via London, June 18.—The desire to align Russia's international program with that of her allies as quickly as possible was expressed at today's session of the Pan-Russian congress of all councils of workmen's and soldiers' deputies by M. Tseretelli, minister of posts and telegraphs, who coupled this expression with sharp repudiation of any idea of a separate peace for Russia.

"We desire to hasten the conclusion of a new treaty in which the principles proclaimed by the Russian democracy will be recognized as the basis of the international policy of the allies," M. Tseretelli said. "Let us employ all possible means to the end that our program may agree with that of all the allied governments so as to avoid a rupture with our allies.

"Separate Peace Impossible."

"Let us reflect that the worst result of our struggle for universal peace would be a separate peace with Germany, which would destroy the results of the Russian revolution and prove disastrous to the cause of international democracy. A separate peace is, in fact, impossible. Such a peace would bring Russia into a new war on the side of the German coalition."

Minister Tseretelli described to the congress the steps taken by the government for the summoning of an interallied conference for the revision of the various treaties, exclusive of the London agreement engaging the allies not to conclude a separate peace. After speaking in support of the work of Minister of War Kerensky, he urged renewed activity by the army.

"When the country finds itself menaced by an attack from without," he declared, "it is the duty of the revolutionary army to be ready, of its own accord, to advance. The inactivity on our front has not consolidated the revolution, but has enfeebled it."

Lenine Attacks Cabinet.

Nokolai Lenine, the Socialist Radical, delivered a long harangue against the cabinet, its acts and its attitude, especially regarding the war, and against Minister of War Kerensky's appeal for an offensive, which he characterized as treason to the interests of international socialism.

M. Kerensky condemned the doctrine enunciated by Lenine, which he said was Marxism misinterpreted, and said the fraternization with the enemy which Lenine advocated was a remedy quite after the heart of the German general staff.

"We must prove to the internationals," said the war minister, "that we are not a negligible quantity and that we are possessed of a determination which will not allow itself to be dominated by an isolated unorganized group."

RUSSIANS DUE IN CAPITAL.

Washington, D. C., June 18.—Russia's war mission, whose coming is awaited with more than ordinary interest because of the internal situation facing the new Russian democracy, will reach Washington at noon tomorrow to discuss coöperation in the war with American officials.

Ranking officials of the state department will meet the envoys at the railroad station and, accompanied by a cavalry guard, will escort them to their headquarters.

JAPAN EXPLAINS NOTE TO CHINESE

TOKIO, June 17.—In explaining to leading members of parliament the action of the United States in dispatching a note to China regarding the restoration of domestic tranquillity, Viscount Motono, the foreign minister, said today that the United States had consulted Japan on June 6 suggesting that identical representations be made to China. Japan deemed it proper to consult its allies before responding.

The foreign minister understood Great Britain took the same view as Japan, which was that it was undesirable at present to make representations which might prove to be an untimely intervention. The attitude of France, the foreign minister said, probably was the same as that of Great Britain. Japan, therefore, decided to adhere to the policy of noninterference.

RUSSIAN PUBLIC UNCONCERNED IN U. S. ENVOYS' TRIP

Too Full of Their Own Problems; Root Is Sphinxlike.

BY MILDRED FARWELL.
(Special Cable to The Tribune.)

PETROGRAD, June 18.—Though hospitably received by the government, the arrival of the American envoys made scarcely a ripple in the surface of Petrograd's unofficial life. There were no public demonstrations. Revolutionary Russia is too full of serious problems to have a heart for festivities. No program of wining and dining has been arranged, as is customary for foreign missions.

The press is moderate in its comments. They express the belief that it is the commission's desire both to assist and to learn from Russia. The extreme Socialist organs suspect its motives, as they suspect every one's. In the soldier and laborer deputies' Bulletin there has been no comment, friendly or unfriendly.

Barren for Correspondents.

The winter palace, where the commission is housed, has been transformed into a homelike corner of America. There each morning representatives of the press sit at Mr. Root's feet. We have gathered in the marble walled drawing room yearning for his impressions of Russia. The correspondents, perched on the edge of gilt chairs, are agog with interest, like bright eyed, intelligent terriers, eager to snap up any crumb of news and run marking joyfully off to the telegraph office. Then we glean such items as that after lunch the members of the commission read the Russian papers thoroughly.

"It is a quiet ceremony," says Mr. Root, and he meditatively smiles that little, enigmatic smile which is a match for any interviewer.

Sparing of Speech.

Before the end of the sessions we find ourselves questioned, not questioners, but upon one of us asserting that the sight of an optimist would be refreshing Charles Edward Russell's comment was: "Can all that low pressure stuff."

Coming, as they do, with an open mind and knowing that they will be judged by deeds and not by words, the commission is urbanely sparing of speech. Wise men. The people that know Russia hope they will go away immediately without forming any opinion or stay long enough to gain the correct one on Russian affairs.

FORMER FIRST CAVALRY BEGINS BIG GUN STUDY

Classes in artillery technique and practice will be opened today for the officers of the Second Illinois artillery, formerly the First Illinois cavalry.

"The classes," said Capt. Frank R. Schwengel, regimental adjutant, "will be held at the armory in North Clark street and at the Lane Technical High school. Our instructors will be two regular army men, who are to be detailed at once but whose names have not yet been made known. The course of instruction will last five weeks. For the first few weeks we will study technique from text books. Later we will have field practice at various places in the country about Chicago. The work will be for officers only. We will hand on our instructions to the rank and file of the regiment in night drills at the armory."

The order from Springfield for the officers to attend day classes places them on duty as an artillery unit and they will receive state pay while undergoing instruction which will require the greater part of their time. Under orders from Adjt. Gen. Dickson two three inch field pieces were turned over to the regiment last night.

MAN OF REPUTE MURDER SUSPECT IN NEW JERSEY

Vermont Student's Slayer Believed to Be Known and Prominent.

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—That John V. Piper, the University of Vermont graduate who was working his way through Rutgers college at New Brunswick, N. J., and who mysteriously disappeared Feb. 12 last, was murdered, has been established, according to Prosecutor Joseph E. Stricker of Middlesex county. Unless the prosecutor's plans go awry the murderer will be under arrest within forty-eight hours.

Mr. Stricker admitted to a reporter at his home in Perth Amboy tonight that the suspect had been trapped after months of patient work by his office, and that the arrest would create a sensation. It was asserted by persons engaged in the investigation, though not by the prosecutor, that persons well known socially in New Brunswick may be involved, though they were not directly connected with the crime itself.

Suspect Stands High.

While the prosecutor has refused to give the slightest inkling of the suspect's identity, pending arrest, it has been learned from another source that the man's standing in the community is exceptionally high. He is out of the city just now.

It can be stated further, partly on the authority of the prosecutor, that no motive for murder has been discovered. This is the most baffling part of the mystery.

The prosecutor's case had been materially developed by the finding of Piper's body on English Line road, four miles out of Spotswood, last Saturday.

This established the fact that Piper had been shot to death with a revolver carrying the same size bullet as did the pistol found on Morris avenue, New Brunswick, the day after the disappearance.

Slain Last February.

The body was discovered close to the road by two men employed in scraping the surface of the macadam. Coroner John Hubbard, who has unearthed much of the evidence himself, gave it as his opinion that the man met death about the time he vanished, and in this he was borne out by County Physician Carroll, who performed the autopsy.

The evidence bears out the theory that the murder was committed not far from the place where Piper was living with his wife and two small children, eking out a living during his post-graduate course by tending the furnaces of wealthy neighbors.

BRITISH VESSEL BEARING TROOPS SENT TO BOTTOM

Sixty-three Persons Are Supposed to Have Died on the Cameronian.

LONDON, June 18.—The British transport Cameronian, with a small number of troops on board, was torpedoed and sunk by a submarine in the eastern Mediterranean on June 2, it was officially announced tonight. Sixty-three persons, including the captain of the transport, are presumed to have been drowned. The Cameronian was the Kamerun, a Hamburg-American liner, and was one of the interned German steamers taken over by the British and renamed.

Japs Destroy Submarine.

LONDON, June 18.—An official statement issued today by the British admiralty says:

"The Japanese naval attaché communicates that one of the Japanese flotillas in the Mediterranean on the evening of June 12 encountered an enemy submarine and immediately attacked it with, it is believed, good success and probably sank it."

Each Destroys Other.

New York, June 18.—In a battle between a crippled, stranded British steamship and a German submarine off the Italian coast in May both craft were destroyed, according to members of the crew of the American steamship Hilonian, who arrived here today. The Hilonian itself has already been reported sunk.

Uruguayan Ship Sunk.

New York, June 18.—A report that the Uruguayan bark Rosario had been sunk by a German submarine off the French coast was confirmed today by officers of a British transatlantic freight ship arriving here. The English vessel picked up the chief officer and eight men and transferred them to a French patrol boat. The rescued persons could not tell the fate of the captain and other members of the crew.

Warning Issued by Denman.

Washington, D. C., June 18.—Sinkings by submarines for the last week would average a total of nine million tons loss annually, William Denman, chairman of the federal shipping board, said today following a conference with the president.

RESERVE BANK RECEIVES THANKS FOR BOND SALE

Official Washington sent its congratulations to James B. McDougal, governor of the Seventh federal reserve district, and to all those concerned in the disposition of the $2,000,000,000 Liberty loan, yesterday. The day also developed the announcement that the Chicago district is more than $29,000,000 oversubscribed. The subscription in the Chicago district was $354,000,000. The final totals will not be known until later. The "flying squadron" of bond salesmen listed 97,625 persons with total bond takings of $24,938,000.

WITHHOLD CHICAGO REPORT.

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.] The treasury department and federal reserve banks still are tabulating the Liberty loan bond subscription figures, and another day has passed without official announcement of any figures. Returns reached the treasury department from Chicago, Philadelphia, and St. Louis, but their publication was withheld for revision. How soon the grand total will be announced Secretary McAdoo would not predict.

OFFICIAL STATEMENTS ISSUED BY VARIOUS NATIONS AT WAR

FRENCH FRONT

BRITISH.

LONDON, June 18.—We captured twenty-one prisoners this morning in the course of the enemy's unsuccessful attempt to regain his lost positions on Infantry hill. Our troops gained ground slightly last night on the Messines battle front in the direction of Warneton.

Early this morning the enemy delivered a strong local attack, under cover of a heavy bombardment upon the positions captured by us on the morning of June 14 east of Monchy-le-Preux. After severe fighting our troops were compelled to fall back from certain advanced positions which had been established by us in front of our main new position which we still hold on Infantry hill.

There was considerable artillery activity on both sides during the night north of the Scarpe. Hostile artillery activity continues in the neighborhood of Ypres.

AVIATION.

Yesterday the air fighting went in our favor. Ten German machines were brought down by our airplanes and five others were driven down out of control. Two of our airplanes failed to return.

FRENCH.

PARIS, June 18.—Marked artillery activity was displayed in the region of Laffaux, Pantheon, and the sector of Craonne-Chevreux.

In Champagne we carried out this morning a local operation which made us masters of a system of German trenches that formed a salient in our lines on a front of about 500 yards between Mont Carnillet and Mont Blond. In the course of this action we took forty prisoners, one of them an officer.

The Germans, without reason, continued to bombard the town of Reims, on which 2,000 shells were fired today. One civilian was killed and three were wounded.

Intermittent cannonading occurred at various points on the front last night. Our reconnoitering parties penetrated the enemy lines near Leintrey and southwest of Senones, bringing back prisoners.

BELGIAN.

PARIS, June 18.—Belgian communication—During the course of the night there was great artillery activity in the region of Lizerne and Boesinghe; during the day the cannonading was light along the whole front.

GERMAN

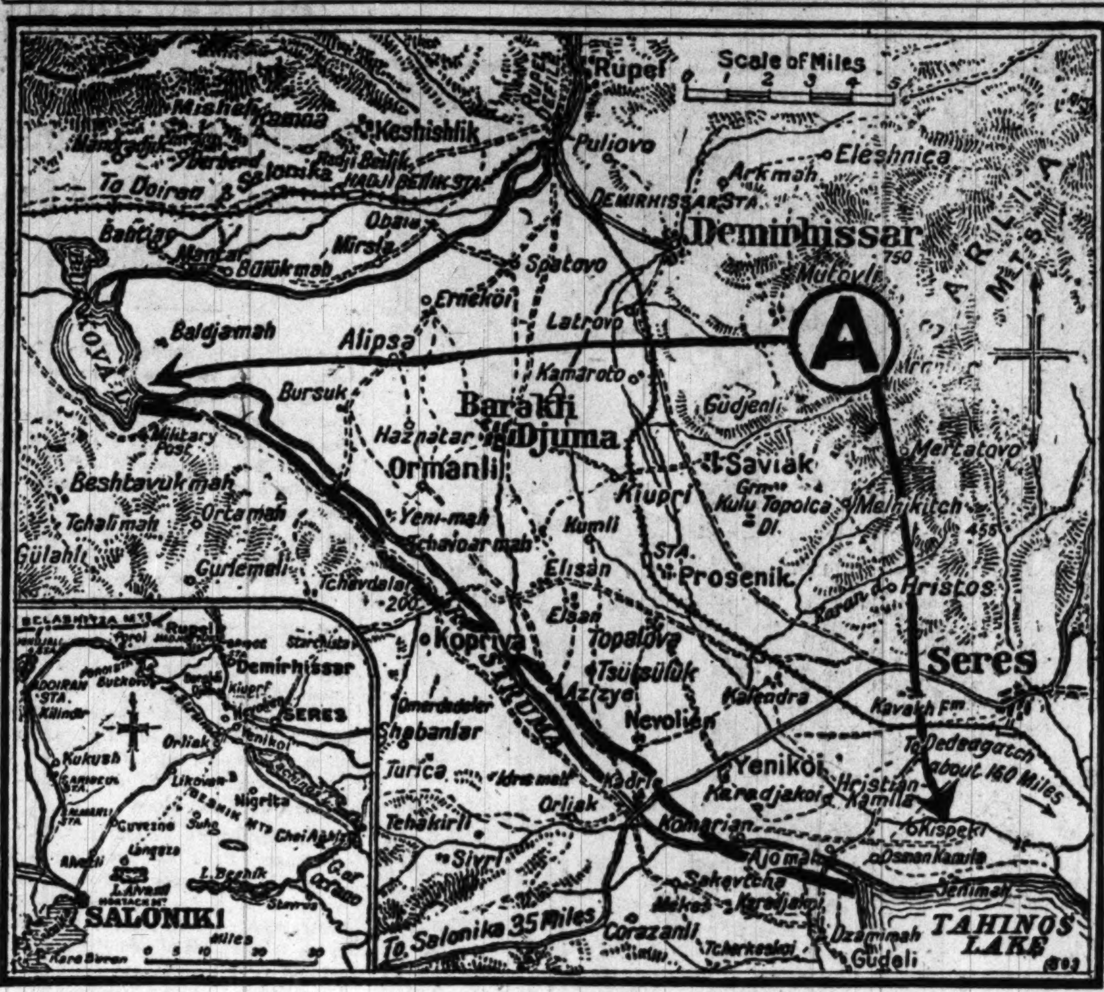
BERLIN (via London), June 18.—On the Ypres canal, on both sides of Ypres, on the Lys from La Bassee canal to the Sensee brook during the afternoon there was lively artillery fighting. Southwest of Warneton, east of Vermelles and near Loos English reconnoitering thrusts failed.

East of Croisilles, as on previous days, three English attempts to gain ground in attacks miscarried.

Army of the crown prince: Pursuant to an enterprise carried out successfully by thrusting troops this morning against French trenches near Cerny, the firing increased here and later also in wider sectors on the Aisne front and in western Champagne.

Army group of Grand Duke Albrecht: Aside from some encounters on territory before our positions, which resulted favorably, there were no important events.

BRITISH RETIRE IN MACEDONIA



The retirement of the British advance forces from the region east of the Struma river (A) is announced by the Bulgarians from Sofia. The only point held by the British on the left bank of the river is the bridgehead on the main road from Saloniki to Seres.

Sofia reports that the Bulgars have occupied all the villages and towns abandoned by the British. Apparently the retirement was voluntary and not under any pressure from the enemy.

This move is believed to foreshadow a new offensive by Gen. Serrail's forces in Serbia with the object of driving out the invader as far north as Nish.

The Struma is about thirty-five or forty miles northeast of Saloniki between Butkova and Tachinos lakes.

MACEDONIAN FRONT

BULGARIAN.

SOFIA, June 18.—[Via London.]—Along the Struma in the sector between Lakes Butkovo and Tahinos, the British abandoned the advanced position they had hitherto occupied and returned to the bridgehead position on the left bank of the river. Our troops occupy Ormanli, Barakli, Juma Kumli, Keupri, Prosenik, Kalendra, Beglikmah, Salmah, and Kakarasha. On the rest of the front there was weak artillery fire with successful reconnoitering by our troops.

SUNDAY STATEMENT.

Between the Vardar and Lake Doiran a British reconnoitering detachment of machine guns and automatic guns advanced during the night against our outposts near the village of Dautli. It was forced to retire.

Along the lower Struma we occupied several villages, including Elsnan, Hiristian, Osman, Kamila, and Kispeki. Near Osmanli, Yenikeui, and Osman Kamila engagements took place between advanced posts. On the remainder of the front there was weak artillery firing.

FRENCH.

PARIS, June 18.—British aviators successfully bombarded the Tumba railway station near Seres and several enemy munition depots. There was restricted artillery activity along the whole front.

Thessaly—The movements of our troops continue to be carried out without difficulty. All the communes in the region of Larissa and Volo have adhered spontaneously to the Venizelos government and have installed new civil authorities.

GERMAN.

BERLIN, June 18. — Macedonian theater—Southwest of Doiran lake Bulgarian posts repulsed English thrusts.

RUSSIAN FRONT

GERMAN.

BERLIN, June 17.—The situation is unchanged.

AUSTRIAN.

VIENNA, via London, June 18.—Eastern theater—Local patrol skirmishes occurred on the eastern border of Hungary. Russian raiding parties were repulsed near Brzezany. There was rifle firing all along the Roumanian front.

RAID NEAR RIGA

BERLIN, June 18.—Greater activity by Russian naval forces in submarine and mine warfare made necessary defensive measures on the German side, which had the following results: On June 13 our airplanes dropped explosive and incendiary bombs in large quantities on Russian bases, obtaining good results. On June 14 the military station on the island of Runeo, in the bay of Riga, was bombed with visible success. Following this enterprise our airplanes on June 15 landed on the island and destroyed the remaining portions of this base. All of our airplanes returned.

ITALIAN FRONT

ITALIAN.

ROME, via London, June 18.—Last night enemy infantry attacks against our positions on Monti Mosciagh on the Asioga plateau and on Hill 652 in the Vodice were broken up by our fire.

Yesterday enemy troops in movement in the Idria valley and in the Gargaro basin were again shelled and dispersed.

On the Carso plateau, northeast of Jamiano, by an advance we rectified a large portion of our front

AVIATION.

Two enemy machines were brought down yesterday by our airmen above Goritz. Last night two of our airships successfully bombed troops assembled around Tolmino and enemy batteries on Monte Hermada.

AUSTRIAN.

VIENNA, via London, June 18.—In the Monterombon sector detachments of a Bosnia-Herzegovina regiment drive the enemy from a vantage point, capturing one officer and twenty-eight men, and held the position against several counter attacks.

Otherwise there is nothing important to report.

AVIATION.

SUPPLEMENTARY

GERMAN.

BERLIN, via London, June 18.—There has been no important fighting on any of the fronts.

High Cost of Food Closes Last 3 of Chain of Stores

The Randolph Market and Grocery company, which once operated a chain of stores in the city, closed the last three stores yesterday. According to George O. Spencer, secretary of the company, the high cost of foods made it necessary. The creditors were told they would receive every cent owed them.

WAR HEADS HIT SNAGS IN PLANS TO SPEED ARMY

Constantly Changing Program; Too Many Experts on Job.

William A. Starrett of the architectural firm of Starrett & Van Vleck is chairman of this committee. H. B. Eaton, described as "an engineer with a broad experience in estimating and planning," was "borrowed" from the Du Pont Powder company to prepare an organization chart and advise on quantities and costs of materials for cantonments. His diagram left Col. Littell at the head of the organization with the committee on emergency construction and engineering works acting in an advisory capacity.

Next the committee furnished Col. Littell an advisory organization—a new one—headed by Maj. M. J. Whitson, drawn from the Grant Smith company of St. Paul, "a man with a broad experience as an executive of construction companies."

The conviction appears to be growing, nevertheless, that the experts are entirely too numerous and are balling up the work. For example, a committee on lumber was organized by Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the committee on raw materials of the national council, to advise on lumber supply and other technical questions. Various organizations of lumbermen sent to Washington numbers of experts to assist in working out the details of specifications for wooden ships and cantonments.

Almost invariably when the tentative specifications were submitted to practical lumbermen they were immediately shown to contain impossible items.

The detailed objections of the medical department to the latest cantonment specifications are not available. It may be that they will not necessitate an entire change of plans.

A statement issued today says that "the tremendous losses in the French army, due to inadequate housing and sanitary provisions in the concentration camps were carefully considered in planning the American buildings." Despite this precaution the latest cantonment specifications appear to have failed to pass muster when laid before the man who cleaned up the Panama canal zone—Maj. Gen. William C. Gorgas, surgeon general of the army.

A Ministerial Ty Cobb.

The Presbyterian ministers yesterday played baseball at a picnic at Winnetka following the meeting of the Ministers' association. Its president, the Rev. R. D. Hughes, said Dr. C. F. Wishart of the Second church, Chicago, "seemed very proficient at the bat."

RED CROSS TODAY OPENS CAMPAIGN FOR $8,000,000

$1,600,000 in Hand as 21 Teams Start Working.

A total of $1,600,000 has been subscribed towards the $8,000,000 which Chicago is to raise as its share of the $100,000,000 Red Cross fund—and the campaign does not begin officially until this morning.

Frank O. Wetmore, chairman of the executive committee, announced last night the complete list of contributions to date, as follows:

J. Ogden Armour	$ 500,000
Swift & Co.	500,000
Sears, Roebuck & Co.	150,000
Marshall Field & Co.	150,000
William Wrigley Jr.	100,000
Montgomery Ward & Co.	75,000
Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co.	50,000
Frank D. Stout	50,000
H. M. Byllesby & Co.	25,000
Total	$1,600,000

Details Discussed.

Final details for the campaign to be waged by the twenty-one primary teams composed of 210 of Chicago's leading business men were perfected at a dinner in the Hotel La Salle last night. Owing to the amount of time required by the work of organizing, it was decided to defer the address by Edgar A. Bancroft, announced for last night, until a later meeting.

The primary teams will not meet this noon, as announced, but will hold their first noon meeting tomorrow at the Hotel La Salle, when reports on the first day's work will be made. Conjectures were many, but the majority are of the opinion that the first day's work will net subscriptions totaling well over $1,000,000.

The auxiliary teams, composed of 250 men and headed by E. H. Williams, will hold their first meeting tonight at 6 o'clock at the Hotel La Salle, when their organization will be perfected. They will make daily reports to their headquarters, 1534-6 First National Bank building.

Edgar A. Bancroft, general counsel for the International Harvester company, who will address the primary teams during the week, expressed confidence last night that the full sum allotted to Chicago to raise will be subscribed.

For Humanity.

"This war is the most wasteful and devastating that the world has ever known," he said. "The only way to bring into it the humanity that is common to all peoples is through ministrations to the wounded, the sick, and the destitute, and the only agency for doing this is the Red Cross. Aside from the fighting forces, the unspeakable misery of the women and children is appalling, and their only means of relief is through the Red Cross. Chicago has been asked to contribute her share. Chicago realizes the need, and Chicago will answer the call."

Through the generosity of express companies, merchants, street and elevated railway companies, moving picture houses and other theaters, electric sign companies, and other concerns, the committee is enabled to wage an advertising campaign that is bound to bring desired returns.

Six thousand cards will be placed in street cars, 2,000 in elevated cars, and 500 posters on elevated platforms; twenty forty foot banners will be strung across streets, 2,500 placards will be placed in windows, and 600 posters and placards will be posted by Bill Posters union, local No. 1.

"Tribune" Readers Aid Widow of Navy Gunner

THE TRIBUNE yesterday received $16 for the aid of Mrs. Herman Matsche, wife of a former gunner in the navy, who, being honorably discharged, re-enlisted on the first call for volunteers. Mrs. Matsche was reported in destitute circumstances; three children ill of scarlet fever. A fourth child died a few days ago. The Red Cross announces that it will give her all needed help. "A Friend" sent THE TRIBUNE $10 to be given Mrs. Matsche; M. S. Green sent $5, and John A. Jameson sent $1. The money will be forwarded at once to Mrs. Matsche.

In addition to his $10 for Mrs. Matsche "A Friend" sent $50 for the Red Cross fund. It will be forwarded to the treasurer of the Red Cross today.

One Hospital, Two Ships, from National Red Cross

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.] Henry P. Davison, chairman of the war committee of the American National Red Cross, announced today that the Red Cross had just turned over to the navy department a completely equipped hospital at Philadelphia, near the League Island navy yard, that it also had given to the navy the Red Cross hospital ship Surf and was about to complete arrangements for turning over a second hospital ship.

Mrs Thomas at Isle O'Dreams

Dr. Harold E. Thomas and Adeline Millspaugh Bryant were married yesterday for the third time to "set themselves right before the law of Illinois and to still carping critics," Mrs. Thomas was a divorcee.

They have been married secretly for nearly a year—twice married, in fact. One ceremony was performed in Oakland, Cal.

RED CROSS SPIRIT

Speaks of Duties Which It Carries Out Wherever and Whenever There Is Suffering.

I.

Wherever war, with its red woes,
Or flood, or fire, or famine goes,
There, too, go I;
If earth in any quartr quakes
Or pestilence its ravage makes,
Thither I fly.

II.

I kneel behind the soldier's trench,
I walk 'mid shambles' smear and stench
The dead I mourn;
I bear the stretcher and I bend
O'er Fritz and Pierre and Jack to mend
What shells have torn.

III.

I go wherever men may dare,
I go wherever woman's care
And love can live,
Wherever strength and skill can bring
Surcease to human suffering,
Or solace give.

IV.

I helped upon Haldora's shore;
With Hospitaler Knights I bore
The first red cross;
I was the Lady of the Lamp;
I saw in Solferino's camp
The crimson loss.

V.

I am your pennies and your pounds;
I am your bodies on their rounds
Of pain afar;
I am you, doing what you would
If you were only where you could—
Your avatar.

VI.

The cross which on my arm I wear
The flag which o'er my breast I bear,
Is but the sign
Of what you'd sacrifice for him
Who suffers on the hellish rim
Of war's red line.

Charles Dawes Ordered to Active War Duties

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.] -Charles G. Dawes, Chicago banker, now a major in the engineer officers' reserve corps, was ordered to active duty by the war department today and assigned to the Seventh regiment of engineers, being formed at Atlanta, Ga., to go to France.

BRITAIN HATERS FLAYED BY T. R.; "PROTECTS US"

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 18.—[Special.] —Col. Theodore Roosevelt, in an impassioned speech tonight at the Lyric theater on behalf of the Red Cross, denounced the sentiment abroad in the United States against "fighting England's war."

"Traitors should be thrown out of the country," he thundered, following an exhibition of the preparedness film, "Womanhood." The colonel pointed the lesson of the film drama.

"Such pictures have actually occurred in Europe," he said. "The only reason it hasn't happened to us since April 2 is because of the British fleet and the British and French armies. Ours is an ignoble safety. We will get victory this time because of our foresighted allies. Some future time, if we are not ready, we will go down in unpitied disaster.

"There actually have been Americans to say 'Why should we fight on the same side as England, our ancient foe?' Any man who hates England more than he loves the United States should be thrown from the country. A nation must be judged by its conduct in any given crisis."

MORGAN AND CO. GIVES $1,000,000

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—J. P. Morgan & Co. and its Philadelphia branch, Drexel & Co., have given the Red Cross $1,000,000 outright.

George F. Baker has offered to build a hospital ship, and in case it does not cost $1,000,000 he will give the difference in cash, provided twenty others will make like contribution.

These announcements were made tonight at the opening of what Seward Prosser called the greatest campaign of its kind the world ever saw. Four hundred and fifty men and women on whom the burden of the work will fall sat down to a banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Mr. Prosser also announced that $14,000,000 toward the $100,000,000 goal had been collected.

Among other gifts announced were $250,000 from the American Car and Foundry company and $10,000 from Samuel Untermyer.

Special dividends amounting to $1,035,600 were declared by four corporations for the Red Cross. The corporations and the dividends are:

American Smelting and Refining company, 1 per cent on common stock, $500,000.

Bingham Mines company, 25 cents a share, $37,500.

American Radiator company, 1 per cent, $80,000.

WOMEN SPEED FOOD CAMPAIGN TO HELP NATION

Suffrage Association to Front with Request to Aid in Movement.

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.] —Plans for organizing the women throughout the country for the food campaign are getting under way. The home economics course is to be handled by a special committee already at work, headed by Dr. Alice C. Boughton, who is associated with the voluntary food administration already in operation under Mr. Hoover's direction. Others on the committee are Miss Katherine J. McKay, president of the American Home Economics association; Miss Martha Van Rensselaer, director of home economics, Cornell university; Mrs. Henrietta Calvin of the United States bureau of education, and Dr. Benjamin B. Andrews, professor of household economics, Columbia university.

Ask Women to Co-operate.

"Get behind Hoover," is the word being sent out by the woman's committee of the national defense council to each of its forty-eight state divisions. Each division is called upon to coöperate in getting the Hoover women's mobilization plan before the women of the country and to see to it that the proposed conservation pledges are signed and lived up to.

Tomorrow presidents of national women's organizations will meet with the women's defense council committee here to discuss food plans and elimination of waste.

Suffrage Body to Help.

Quick response to Mr. Hoover's appeal came from the National American Woman Suffrage association, which asked for an initial allotment of pledges and badges through its committee on elimination of waste headed by Mrs. Walter McNab Miller.

From its national headquarters in Washington and New York and its state and local headquarters all over the United States, Mrs. Miler says, the National Suffrage association is in position to enlist many thousands of housewives in the service of the food administration. The suffrage thrift leagues that have been organized during the last three months will recognize this as their particular opportunity for service.

RED CROSS FUND BOOMS FIRST DAY

Washington, D. C., June 18.—America today turned to the task of raising $100,000,000 for the Red Cross in an eight-day campaign, starting before the financial outpourings for the two billion dollar Liberty loan and its oversubscription have been tabulated.

With the campaign only one day old, telegrams pouring into the office of the Red Cross war council tonight told of generous donations in almost every section. Campaign committees of many cities wired they already had raised the sum tentatively allotted them or had exceeded the amount, but were planning an active canvass until the campaign closes next Monday midnight.

President Wilson telegraphed mayors of 100 cities, urging them to devote their efforts to helping the solicitation work in their communities.

New Swiss Minister Coming Soon.

BERNE, via Paris, June 18.—Dr. Hans Sulzer, the new Swiss minister to the United States, will leave here July 5 on his way to Washington. Dr. Sulzer will be accompanied by an extraordinary commission of commercial experts.

WILSON PRAISES PATRIOTIC PLEA SENT BY MOTHER

Appreciates the Spirit Shown in Giving the U. S. Two Sons.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—A letter from a West Virginia mother expressing her patriotic motives in sending two sons to the war and denouncing all slackers was made public by the White House today together with the reply of the president revealing his deep appreciation of the spirit she manifests. In her letter the mother says:

"Perhaps you will think me presumptuous to write a letter to you, but we are all one thing—loyal Americans. I simply wish to let you know what one West Virginian woman has done for our country. I have sent two stalwart, strong, healthy boys to the front.

"While it hurt me very much to bid them good-by, as I may never see them again, yet I know that our country needs them and I must not mind a few more pangs, must I?

Resents Other Mothers' Talk.

"Mr. Wilson, it makes me angry to hear some women talk. They say, 'O, Mrs. Meyer, how can you stand it to see your big, strong boys go away? It would kill me if mine would have to go,' and so forth. I tell them my boys are not cowards, that they volunteered as my father and brother did in the '60s, and that if such boys as mine did not go, who would go? The cripples, lame, or blind?

"And now one word more. I highly approve of what you have done, namely, sending troops over the water to put down the rebellion and stop this war business, this slaughter of the innocents. I took my sons in my arms, asked God to bless them, told them to be true to their country and not forget their mother."

Wilson Pleased with Spirit.

In reply President Wilson wrote Mrs. Meyer:

"Your letter of June 13 has warmed my heart. Your feeling about your sons is the feeling which I should think every mother in whom the true spirit of motherhood and of Americanism dwells would have, and I like to believe that it is true that the country is full of mothers of the same heroic and self-sacrificing sort.

"It quickens my pulse and strengthens my belief in the splendid capacity of this country to meet every crisis of this sort to receive such a message as you have been gracious and kind enough to send me, and I shall treasure it in my heart as a typical expression of devoted American womanhood."

BILL TO WIDEN RESERVE SYSTEM SENT TO WILSON

Measure Aimed to Mass Gold; State Banks Are Sought as Members.

Washington, D. C., June 18.—Amendments to the federal reserve act, designed to strengthen the financial system of the country by the concentration of gold reserves in federal reserve banks and to open the federal reserve system to the state banks and trust companies, were sent to the president today for his signature. The senate finally accepted a conference report previously approved by the house.

The first effect of the changes, it is believed, will be the shifting of more than $300,000,000 in reserves from the banks of the country to the federal reserve banks, where the gold will be ready for any emergency.

Under the existing law the banks had until next November to divert that portion of their reserves with other banks to the federal reserve banks. The amendments advance the date and the diversion of this gold to the reserve banks is ordered at once.

Expect Many Banks to Join.

Hundreds of large trust companies and state banks are expected to come in under the amendments. These institutions will bring into the reserve system billions of additional reserves. With their addition officials believe the financial system of the country will be as nearly impregnable as it can be made.

The institutions may join the system with the privilege of withdrawing at any time upon a year's notice—a privilege not granted them by the unamended law—or they may, by depositing a portion of their reserves with a federal reserve bank, become members of the federal reserve clearance system.

Resources Are 16 Billions.

The federal reserve system at present includes in its membership less than 100 state banks and trust companies. Resources of the system approximate $16,000,000,000, or about one-half of the total banking resources of the country. This figure is expected to be increased perhaps as much as 50 per cent during the coming year.

Another amendment facilitates the establishment of branches of federal reserve banks by simplifying the organization of the branches and decreasing the expense.

FIGHT or GIVE

But we can do our part here at home.

We can GIVE. And here is a need to prompt our supreme effort.

We should be willing to make some sacrifice if our young men and women offer their very lives for the cause.

How many of your dollars would it take to equal the gift of that soldier who has fallen, never to rise again?

How many would it take to equal the sacrifice of that young nurse whose soft hands will labor day and night to bind those gaping wounds?

There are 1,500 cities and towns in France alone that have been laid low in dust and debris.

Suppose you had lived in one of them, and for a year—two years—had been a homeless wanderer, orphaned and exiled by a war you could not understand.

But you are an American citizen—an upholder of the standards of freedom, justice, brotherhood of man.

Will you prove yourself worthy of them and of your country at this time when a definite duty confronts you?

That duty is to raise Chicago's share of the Red Cross War Fund $8,000,000.

God and your conscience will direct you to the right answer to the question "How much is MY share?"

4 Ounces of Butter Equal One Pound of Steak

Twelve cents worth of good butter supplies the human body with as much energy value as 25 cents worth of the best sirloin steak. Steak should sell at 12 cents a pound to be as cheap in energy-giving nutrients as butter at 48 cents a pound. (Values based on Bulletin 142 U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.)

In the day's work the average adult requires nine times as much energy-giving material as body-building material. Butter is an energy giver. Beef builds and maintains the human machinery. Butter supplies the energy which drives the machinery—the energy which enables you to do a day's work.

Don't Quit Eating Beefsteak, But—Eat Less Steak and More Butter

Broil your steak in butter; garnish it with butter after it is cooked. Butter supplies the energy needs in which steak is lacking. Then you require less steak, you will feel better and work better too, and your pocket book will feel the saving. Too much steak is to the system what a clinker is to the furnace: it produces uric acid, the cause of rheumatism and Bright's disease.

Energize your meals with butter. You can't eat too much butter in or on anything, because the system utilizes at once or stores for future use all that you eat, which is not true of an excess of meat food.

Buy Your Butter By Name

That's your guarantee of Meadow Gold quality—Meadow Gold purity, freshness, sweetness and uniformity. Meadow Gold is churned daily from pure cream efficiently pasteurized. Sold always in sealed yellow packages put up at the creamery.

We are so proud of Meadow Gold quality that our name is on every package. In the case of unbranded butter you never know from whence it came or who made it.

Ask your grocer for "Meadow Gold."

—Stephen Decatur.

PREPARE NOW.

Nearly every week brings a government statement or intimation that the mobilizing of the American army will be delayed longer than expected. We are getting proof that it is next to impossible to prepare for war after war has started.

If there were no purpose to be served by this experience we might accept the situation and do the best we can as rapidly as we can, thanking God that there is a bulwark of allies between us and our enemies and that one of our allies controls the sea.

But there is a purpose to be served by it if we are willing to take full value from experience, and if we are not willing to do that now the next time we have to raise an army we may be betrayed and not protected by conditions.

The regular army which will be sent abroad has had its efficiency impaired by the necessity of filling up with untrained men. Even this small establishment is not ready, not even with men, and less ready with material.

Now it seems as if the national guard could not be mobilized until September. The work of getting the camps ready delays calling the men into service. Consider what this means. We begin war in early April and cannot get even the national guard into training camps before September—and it may take more time.

We do not know how long after that it will require to put the guard into shape fit for modern war. It may take nine or ten months. It might take longer.

The conscript army will be inadequately officered for training and maintenance of discipline. It may require the services of the national guard and of what is left of the regular army to keep the new men in hand while they are being taught the military virtues.

We have a task of over a year before the American army will take shape as a dependable, reliable instrument of national defense. It may take much longer. And all this time we are at war, entirely helpless if we were not protected, struggling to get on our feet. We never would be able to do it if we were single handed in the fight.

The moral is as plain as day. The United States cannot afford to expose itself in this fashion again. We need a continuing military policy which will give us an army and keep an army for use. The time to adopt this policy and put it in operation is now. Now our deficiencies and the dangers to which they expose us are apparent.

If congress will pass a universal service law we shall have a correct military policy adopted. Then call out the young men of 19 as soon as equipment can be provided for them and training establishments provided for them, and we shall lay the foundation of American security upon a firm basis.

We have accepted the justice of universal service by adopting the selective conscription, but that is a compromise, and we have no legislation which will provide an army after the war is over. This will not be the last time the United States will need an army. It ought to be the last time it is found without one—and the better the army the less the danger of needing it.

Americans have to say: "Thank God for the British navy. It keeps the Germans out of America." They ought also to say: "Never again."

STATE AND NATION.

While it may be advisable to thrash out any questions of doubt, if, in fact, there are any, which may be involved in the passenger rate controversy over the state and interstate commerce jurisdictions, it is to be hoped and expected that the federal control will be emphatically reaffirmed in the outcome. The railroads cannot serve two masters and prosper, and the prosperity of Illinois as well as that of the whole country is directly involved in the prosperity of our system of transportation. When there is conflict between the state and nation over the regulation of these great agencies the will of the nation must be sustained—sustained even at the expense of the interest of localities. That is a part of our contribution to the unity and harmony of our country.

THE RED CROSS.

Appeals for money are numerous enough, but they will help convince Americans that war takes you and your money." The Red Cross is drumming the country now for funds needed to care for the men who will wreck their bodies and their prospects in serving their country. Although direct government provision, adequate and prompt, is the best method of handling much of the relief work, the Red Cross has its own work and has to cover government delinquencies, and it must have money.

THE AMERICAN FLYING CORPS.

There is now verification by Secretary Baker of recent reports that a special effort will be made to contribute to operations in France the largest possible flying corps at the earliest possible moment. This offers the best opening for adventurous young America that the war will afford and the best. Long before our infantry or artillery can make themselves felt in the war the American flying corps can be earning laurels for itself and making the Stars and Stripes respected over the battlefields of France.

It is not necessary to fall into the common error of laymen and think we can conquer the German army by this means alone. There are no short cuts to victory in a great war. Yet we can build aeroplanes faster than 42 centimeter cannon, and we can train a relatively very large and very formidable flying corps much sooner than we can build an army in the field. The 100,000 aeroplanes which Ilyers will take some time to produce, but the American flying corps is the sharp point of our lance and can be driven deep into the enemy while yet the American army is in embryo. The air service is perilous, but all combatant service is perilous and the flying man has all the romance of this war. American youth has not lost its gallantry, its love of the bright eyes of danger, and the American flying corps, we believe, will fill up rapidly.

SOCIALISM MADE IN GERMANY.

The preliminary statement of the peace terms of the Stockholm conference exhibits the culmination of the moral bankruptcy of the Socialist party. Idealistic in origin, the party has sold its inheritance for a mess of pottage. From the Marxian ideal of internationalism the party has advanced—or descended—to the Hohenzollern ideal of world domination.

The most ardent Germanophile could hardly frame peace terms more favorable to Germany than the Stockholm proposals. The correspondents themselves are assuming they approximate the demands of the German government. The recovery of German colonies, the retention of Alsace-Lorraine, no indemnity for Belgium, German control of Poland and Finland—these are certainly more distinguished by their essential Prussianism than by their essential socialism. We are even surprised they do not include a demand for an indemnity from the United States.

But it is not only in Germany and in Stockholm that the Socialist party is manifesting itself as an ally of German autocracy and a medium for Prussian propaganda. The activities of our own Socialists—Hillquit and Berger, for example—are on the same footing. These men wanted to take part in the Stockholm parley. They, or their supporters, were instrumental in expelling Charles Edward Russell from the party for accepting a position in the commission to Russia. Here in Chicago our Kennedys and our Rodriguezes are opposing conscription and seeking to hinder and embarrass the country in its prosecution of the war.

The true nature of this propaganda has been discovered by some of the Socialists themselves. Many have resigned from the present organization and are planning a new party. One of the leaders in this movement is John Spargo, who makes no bones about denouncing the peace agitation as German in origin and purpose.

The Socialist ideal itself is sufficient to discredit the present party attitude. Belief in a highly organized state with a strong central democratic authority is a primary tenet of their doctrine. Without such a state, capable of exercising sovereign powers, it would be impossible to put into effect any wide social changes. It would be equally impossible if the state were autocratic instead of democratic.

But our Socialists are defying the central democratic authority of our country in order to bolster up the imperial autocratic authority of Germany. Only by the wildest stretch of the imagination could we assume that Socialists anywhere sincerely believe that a German triumph would be a triumph for socialism or a triumph for humanity. It is not surprising, therefore, that the party is disintegrating; its moral collapse is already complete.

THE UNITED STATES AND JAPAN.

The Japanese commission which is soon to arrive in Washington for a conference over issues between the United States and Japan, particularly in China, may be able to reach an understanding with our officials which will compose some of the difficulties, but we fear that the only safe basis for anything like a permanent understanding is mutual respect.

We do not respect Japanese military ability, although undoubtedly we do not perceive clearly what it could do to us, but the Japanese do not respect ours because we have no army. There never has been a time when the United States cut its diplomatic patterns according to its military cloth, and it is irritating to powerful nations to be advised of the purposes of the United States when they are convinced there is no power behind the purpose.

In dealing with the Japanese, America is dealing with a nation which does not allow confusion in its thought. They are not interested in the brotherhood of man. They are interested in the Japanese empire. They intend that Japan shall get whatever it needs if it can be obtained. The only thing to be considered is the relation of the value to the effort. If the value will compensate and the effort promises success, the Japanese will make it.

They determine the value. We can only determine, where their policies conflict with ours, what the effort would be. A strong United States can make the effort forbidding. A weak United States could make it negligible.

Weakness will invite the Japanese to proceed to satisfy their own ambitions regardless of our demands and protests. We probably are safer now than we have been for years, but the complications which threaten trouble are not removed, and we do not believe they can be removed by agreements such as we have been making with Japan.

The issues represent essential differences in race, national organization and ambition, and economic development, and in such a conflict the strong nation will have its way and the weak nation will either yield or, being too proud to do that, will be defeated and humiliated.

Editorial of the Day

THE ILLINOIS EXPERIMENT.

[From the Sioux City Tribune.]

Students of government, politicians, and taxpayers will watch with interest the experiment of Illinois in consolidating the work of the various state boards. Instead of 126 separate bodies, each administering some particular branch of the state government, and each acting independently of the other, all will be merged into nine general state departments. The change will take place July 1.

Illinois is the first state to undertake the consolidation of its various governmental departments. New Jersey has discussed such a scheme for several years, but has never taken definite action. Kansas has considered adopting the commission plan of state government, but political influences have thus far thwarted what appears to be sound economy.

There is no question that the cost of state government in every state in the union is too high. The tendency among politicians is to create jobs for politicians or appointees of politicians. One party is just as keen for pork and patronage as the other. The rule holds true from federal officialdom down to the ward and township organizations.

If Illinois can prove that the cost of administration can be reduced without decreasing efficiency, or if the quality of public service can be increased without added cost, by means of consolidating the various departments, a really important piece of political pioneering will have been performed. If the experiment succeeds there will be a rattling of dry bones in neighboring states. Iowa, in particular, is ripe for a bit of housecleaning. And there are others.

Sir: The Professor has been up against his limitations again. He was assigned to teach the principles of mechanics in the new aviation school at one of our universities; his class had come from a training camp. The first morning he entered the lecture room the whole class, khaki-clad, rose, came to attention, and saluted. Completely bewildered, the Professor quickly went through an adjacent door, and in the hallway met a fellow-member of the faculty. He told him what had happened, and exclaimed: "Good God! What shall I do to get them unsaluted and into their seats again?" D.

We have a great number of boys in the United States, but the question which looms before the parent is what will become of this boy or that one. So they should be kept from sheer thought they may never realize the helpfulness of knowledge—" former knowledge is mostly the intellect" fortunate is the boy who has private teaching it is most honestly given the most profound giving chance for growth—developing into originallity; wheather immaginative or judicious.

Grasps the broad shield, and one the sword; thy brow,
Glorious in beauty tho' it be, is scarred

WHY NOT PURE ICE CREAM?

STREET tells us in the "Modern Hospital" that the people of this country eat annually 100,000,000 gallons of ice cream and they pay for it annually $150,000,000. Isn't it about time that the ice cream business was put on a business basis and supervised as are other foods? As it is now a fair proportion of the typhoid fever is due to eating ice cream; likewise some part of the diarrhoeas and cases of food poisoning—any disease liable to be spread by ice cream. On top of all this ice cream often offends the aesthetic sense.

The average bacterial count of ice cream is well up in the millions—in fact, oftimes in the hundreds of millions. No other food eaten by man or by other animals has so high an average bacterial count as ice cream.

Montclair, N. J., has proven that high bacterial counts in ice cream are not necessary—that they are due to filthy methods of handling in vogue merely because the health authorities have never stopped them, the public is indifferent, and the manufacturers have no incentive to do better.

The New York commission on milk standards for ice cream has drawn up certain standards for ice cream, and these standards, having been published by the public health service, are available for the public. Is it not about time for public sentiment to force health and food departments to adopt these standards or others equally as high?

Street reports finding ice creams on the market ranging from 2 to 19 per cent in butter fat. He quotes McGill as having found a range of butter fat from 2.8 to 30.3. The man who makes a rich ice cream should not be asked to compete with the man who makes one that contains only 2 per cent fat. It is impossible for the consumer to tell the approximate content of butter fat from the taste or the appearance, for ice cream is not now a simple compound. It is made from skim milk or condensed milk homogenized with butter. No cream as such is used now in ice cream. To this there are added fillers, binders, sugars, and flavors. The smoothness and the absence of granulations and crystallizations are due to the fillers and binders and to the aging of the product prior to freezing. Twelve per cent milk properly aged and properly mixed with fillers and binders will make a smoother cream with more body than an 18 per cent pure cream mixed with sugar and flavors and frozen when fresh.

The calories in three and one-third ounces of several foods are as follows:

Old style ice cream	219
Modern ice cream	177
Sirloin steak	251
Halibut	126
Eggs	160
Milk	72
Butter	811
Cottage cheese	112
Cream	202

In ice cream the heat producing elements of the milk are supplemented by those of butter and sugar.

Ice cream is a good food. It should become a staple article of diet. It will come into its own when health departments are active enough to guarantee its safety and supervision prevents the man who makes 2 per cent cream from driving out of business the man who makes a richer, better product.

TRY.

G. S. writes: "Would you kindly advise me about getting into government service, navy preferred. I am 17 and am sound, as far as I know, only when a small child I had infantile paralysis and my right foot is about an inch shorter than my left. One would not notice it unless I pointed it out to them. It is not noticeable and gives me no bother.

"If I cannot get into the navy is there any branch of service I can get into?"

REPLY.

If I understand you correctly the muscles of your leg and foot are strong. You can walk all right, but your right foot is smaller than your left. If this is correct the recruiting surgeon would probably accept you. Get your parents' consent and try. When the naval recruiting surgeon passes you you are in the service. When the army recruiting surgeon passes you you still have to pass an army mustering in surgeon.

DIABETES.

Worried writes: "A man 35 years old is found to have diabetes. His doctor says there is quite a bit of sugar in urine.

"1. What are his chances for recovery?

"2. What are symptoms for the worse?

REPLY.

1. The chances are good, provided the man will regulate his life and particularly his eating.

2. Increase in the percentage of sugar, tendency to boils, persisting cough, change in weight not accounted for by change in diet, albuminuria, acidosis.

3. I have known men with diabetes to live twenty-five years after the disease develops. Your man might reach 70.

BABY IS DOING WELL.

E. R. W. writes: "Kindly advise me about the following: 1. My six weeks old baby since birth has little lumps of undigested food in her stool. She is breast fed and gains one-half pound weekly. She is also a little constipated. 2. How much water should she drink a day, and also is there any harm in taking water right after nursing?"

REPLY.

1. She is doing finely. Have the mother drink a little more water and eat a little more fruit and vegetables. Otherwise change nothing.

2. You will not succeed in getting her to take much water. Give her a little before she nurses, if you can.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

[Copyright: 1917: By the Brentwood Co.]

BENEDICT XV. has announced his intention of bestowing the Golden Rose upon Elizabeth, Queen of the Belgians, in token of his own admiration, and of that of the papacy, for the unselfish devotion to the cause of her stricken country, and of her quiet heroism since the beginning of the present war.

It may also be regarded as another manifestation of the profound sympathy of the holy father for the cruel sufferings which Belgium has been called upon to endure for near three years past.

There seems to be an impression that the bestowal of the Golden Rose has always been restricted to women, in particular to those of royal and imperial rank. This is by no means the case. In its origin, which is very remote, it was employed as a token of pontifical regard for the prefects of Rome, and the first instance of its being conferred upon any one not a prefect of Rome was when Urban II. presented it in 1096 to Falcon, count of Angers, after the Council of Tours. After that it was bestowed by various pontiffs upon not only rulers, but even upon republics.

Thus, it was presented by Martin V. to the republic of Florence, in 1419, and to the republic of Venice by no less than six different pontiffs, on the last occasion by Gregory XVI. in 1833. Pope Eugenius IX. bestowed it, 1444, upon Henry VI. of England, while James III. of Scotland received it from Innocent VIII. Henry VIII. of England previous to his defiance of the papacy received it from three different pontiffs, namely, Julius II., Leo X., and Clement VII. And among other rulers thus honored were the German Emperor Sigismund, Kings Charles VI. and Charles VII. of France, and Philip II. of Spain.

The first woman to receive the Golden Rose was Queen Joanna of Naples, in 1356; and after that it came to Queen Isabella of Spain, in 1493; to the German Empress Eleanor, in 1452; to Queen Catherine Medici of France, to Queen Mary Tudor of England; while in 1625 it was sent by Pope Urban VIII. to Queen Henrietta of Great Britain, the French consort of the ill-fated Charles I., who met his death on the scaffold at Whitehall.

In more modern times it has been restricted wholly to Catholic women of sovereign rank. Thus, Pius IX. gave it to Queen Maria Pia of Portugal, sister of the late King Humbert of Italy; also to Empress Eugenia, to Queen Maria of Naples and the Two Sicilies, the heroine of the siege of Gaeta; and Leo XIII. to the murdered Empress Elisabeth of Austria; to Christina, queen mother of Spain, and to Queen Marie Amelie of Portugal.

The Golden Rose consists, not of a single blossom, but of a cluster of delicately wrought buds and flowers, springing from a stem, the leaves being of exquisitely wrought green enamel. The buds and flowers are adorned with darkhued sapphires, and the plant is set in a vase of silver gilt, with the papal arms in relief, and an inscription.

The Golden Rose is always blessed by the pontiff with much ceremony on the fourth Sunday in Lent, and in the principal flower, or jeweled rose, there is a small aperture in which the pontiff on these occasions places the duly consecrated incense, balsam, and powdered amber.

The rose, which represents a value of some thousands of dollars, is conveyed to its recipient by a specially appointed pontifical ablegate, who presents it to the royal or imperial lady during the course of a religious ceremony. During the mass the rose is placed on the altar, and after the Ite Missa Est the ablegate reads aloud the papal brief and then hands it to the royal lady, after which he presents her with the Golden Rose, which she receives kneeling. While she reverently kisses it the ablegate repeats the following formula: "Will your majesty accept this present and with it the divine grace which the holy father implores upon you from God?" The Golden Rose is then replaced on the altar and the religious service is brought to a conclusion.

There is no case of the Golden Rose having ever been presented to any woman not of royal or of imperial rank, and the statements frequently published on this side of the Atlantic to the effect that it had been bestowed by Leo XIII. upon Miss Mary Gwendoline Caldwell of Washington, D. C. (who died as the Marquise de Moustier-Merinville), in recognition of her generosity to the great Catholic university at Washington, D. C., were based on a misapprehension and untrue.

Almost every week brings the announcement of the sale of family treasures by great English nobles, who, in view of the heaviness of the taxation resulting from the war, and which is certain to be still further augmented, are endeavoring to convert everything that can be spared into cash. Last month Lord Ellesmere disposed of the world famed library formed by the Duke of Bridgewater to Henry E. Huntington of New York at a price of over a million dollars.

And now it has been made known that early next month the ancient firm of Sotheby, which has been in existence since early in the seventeenth century and which has just moved from its old quarters to new premises in Bond street, will offer at auction a quantity of the treasures of the Earl of Pembroke and Montgomery, including two world famed suits of armor worn by the grand constable of France and by the Royal Duke of Montpensier when taken prisoners by the first Earl of Pembroke at the battle of St. Quentin in 1557, two suits of armor for which the late Duc d'Aumale, who was anxious to add them to his collection at the palace of Chantilly, offered in vain to the late earl $100,000 apiece.

Other Pembroke treasures which will be offered for sale will be Rembrandt's portrait of his mother, Andrea Mantegna's panel painting of Judith and Holofernes, and the well nigh priceless Pembroke collection of prints, including many original sheets of Albert Durer.

The Earl of Pembroke, fifteenth of his line and who is also twelfth Earl of Montgomery, is by no means unknown on this side of the Atlantic, having, as Lord Herbert, made a practice for several years prior to the war of spending the winters, with his wife (formerly Lady Beatrice Paget, sister of the Marquis of Anglesey), on the Pacific coast, at Pasadena. They were usually accompanied by a party of young Englishmen, relatives and friends, which made up a dashing polo team that gave the various polo clubs in California plenty of sport. His father's younger brother, Sir Michael Herbert, died as British ambassador to the United States, leaving an American widow, sister of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and of Mrs. Ogden Goelet of New York.

FULL PROTECTION.

Morris, Ill., June 12.—[To the Friend of the Insured.]—In March, 1872, I took out a policy in the Washington Life of New York City, which was taken over by the Pittsburgh Life and Trust company. Some time ago I saw a report that seven men had cleaned out everything, even the reserve. If you can give me any information about this it will be gratefully received.

W. C. MAGUIRE.

There seems to be no cause to worry about the security of your policy in the Pittsburgh Life and Trust company, formerly in the Washington Life Insurance company. The schemers did not get very much money, compared to the total assets of the company, and it looks now as if most of the loss will be made good. There is even talk of reorganizing the company and putting it in business again. The reserves seem to be untouched, so that there is full protection back of every policy.

ASSESSMENT INSURANCE.

Chicago, June 3.—[To the Friend of the Insured.]—I am carrying $2,000 insurance in an assessment life association, paying $8.40 for $1,000 on a policy issued at age 24. Now I wonder what the experience has been with companies with such low rates, and whether they can exist when other companies charge $15 to $20 for $1,000. Would it be safe to keep paying the premiums?

MAX A. SPRINGER.

Assessment insurance is all right for those who know what they are getting and do not expect more than they pay for. Many men who are fully informed carry assessment insurance for temporary protection.

HIGHER RATES AND PROTECTION.

Chicago, June 7.—[To the Friend of the Insured.]—I have a $1,000 policy in the Royal Arcanum and would greatly appreciate your informing me as to the financial condition of this organization. It recently raised the amount of premium to almost double. I would like to know if it would be wise to continue payments or endeavor to arrange for some sort of cash settlement. Can you tell me whether I would be successful in making a settlement, and if so, in what manner? A. J. C.

The Royal Arcanum reported assets on Jan. 1 of $4,430,587, with liabilities, consisting entirely of unpaid claims, of $909,054. If by a cash settlement you mean a surrender of your certificate for cash, the answer is that fraternal orders are not allowed to give surrender values before age 70 unless they are on an adequate reserve basis. When a fraternal order raises its rates the higher they go the better chance it has of giving permanent protection.

IMPLIES INCREASED COST.

Chicago, June 12.—[To the Friend of the Insured.]—An assessment life insurance company advertises that it will issue straight life policies at age 40 at the rate of $18 per $1,000. This being about ¾ less than other companies ask, would like to know if it is reliable.

H. E. SCHULZE.

An assessment company cannot guarantee permanent protection without increase in cost. It would cost only a few dollars more to get old line insurance, the permanence of which is secured by reserves that are guarded by law.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

ILLINOIS PASSENGER RATES.

Chicago, June 18.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Only a short time ago the newspapers of this city stated there never was such a profit making period in the history of railroading in the United States and now comes the cry of raising rates, which seems so inconsistent. There is a law on the statute books of Illinois stating that 2 cents per mile should be the maximum passenger rate in all parts of the state. This law has been in force for ten years. Now comes St. Louis and complains that it is being discriminated against. How inconsistent!

There are more people going from Illinois into Missouri than from Missouri into Illinois. Even if it were not so would it not be wiser to have the interstate commerce commission order the Missouri railroads to lower their rates and not discriminate against Illinois? If there be any wrong it is the state of Missouri that is doing the wrong by allowing railroads to charge more than the railroads in Illinois. It tends to discourage the citizens of the country when they realize that all controversies between corporations and the citizens are always determined against the interests of the many.

The railroads should obey the laws of this state instead of going into a neighboring state for the purpose of having the laws of this state set aside, thereby causing over 5,000,000 people to become dissatisfied with court decisions and the actions of their officers whom they put in charge of their public positions. Gov. Lowden and Attorney General Brundage are deserving of much praise for the stand they have taken in this matter. CHARLES I. NEIMARK, 727 South Ashland boulevard.

EFFICIENT AIDS FOR THE PRESIDENT.

Chicago, June 18.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Your editorial, "For a War Government," should create a strong impulse for just that kind of government for the times that now obtain.

Unquestionably it is a very difficult and disagreeable procedure for a ruler to abrogate on a considerable scale appointments which, when made, were believed to be as good as possible along political lines, and to dismiss men of standing and ability who in the nation's present exigencies should give way to men especially fitted for the tremendously important special tasks which the government must now provide for having performed.

Let us hope that such a view will come or be brought to the president and to us all, and let us also hope that, seeing the expedience of such a course, the president will serve the nation immeasurably by proceeding as rapidly as possible to put its machinery on such a basis. The test would be a severe one, but as few men in the history of our country have had to shoulder such responsibilities as has President Wilson, might he not be expected to assume this one? It would make him a place in our history so high as to be second to none. In isolation for performance we can think of nothing it would so much resemble as Gethsemane.

GOVERNMENT PURCHASE OF POTATOES.

Chicago, June 18.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I have just learned through a relative who resides in one of the northwestern states that agents are busy placing contracts for the 1917 potato crop.

Why not have our government secure at least a large part of this year's crop by buying it now from the growers? In doing this the government could give assurance to the farmer of a fair return for his labor and would save us from the heartless grip of price boosters on that commodity for next fall and winter. C. A.

WHEN MORALISTS ARE IMPERTINENT.

Chicago, June 18.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—It seems to me from past articles the moralists (I use that word to designate the people who are using their energies along these lines, not including the army chaplains or the Y. M. C. A.) seem to have taken a particular stand on the man in a uniform. I served in Texas last year with a company composed of 163 men, and in a rank that brought me in contact with these men closer and better than any one else, and there was no outside need necessary for their morals. The chaplains and the Y. M. C. A.s can take care of them very efficiently. Both of these departments stand for everything good and they don't need the added assistance of moralists who seek to impose their will on the army men, such as taking away their tobacco.

If all the agencies that tend to preserve the moral and physical strength of the men in khaki were concentrated in the chaplain and the Y. M. C. A. the work would go on very much better because these men have a working knowledge of conditions and the so-called moralist is working on theory. Let him confine his efforts to his own locality.

THE MEXICAN QUESTION.

Chicago, June 13.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—"The best way to settle the Mexican question is to pay no attention to them."

This statement made by Orr in "The Tiny Tribune" has hit the nail on the head. I, as a Mexican, have frequently been asked in this country whether I thought that intervention by the United States in Mexican affairs was a necessity. My reply, generally speaking, has been to the effect that no intrusion would be necessary or justified; while, on the other hand, a rigidly enforced embargo on arms and ammunition to Mexico in this country would have saved a great deal of trouble there.

If the United States wanted to participate in Mexico's affairs, they should do it by standing by some Mexican government, which they would give all facilities; while making sure—as far as practicable—that its opponents were not given any. Firemen cannot successfully fight a fire if the water is cut off, and inflammable material thrown into the burning pile instead. And, under the circumstances, it would not be fair to blame the firemen for failing. So is the case with Mexico. F. J. ROSS.

SOME WHYS.

Chicago, June 18.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Why is it that aliens who have been in this country for more than five years can secure employment, or go into business for themselves, as the case may be, and yet, when war is declared, continue their employment or their business without being subject to call for military services?

Why is it that no law has been passed compelling all aliens, after the required length of time as a resident of this country, to become American citizens, so that in case of war they, too, can and should do their share as well as native born Americans?

A great majority of aliens coming into this country get the idea that if they do not take out citizen papers they are not duty bound. Under present conditions we native born Americans are shouldering an additional burden—that of protecting the foreign born in this country, who, to all intents and purposes, are willing to evade responsibility under present laws. This is an injustice that should be righted without delay.

These final figures put an end to stories that 1,000 men would have to leave camp because they do not come up to the mark. They support the estimate of Col. W. J. Nicholson, commandant, that 3 per cent will be a liberal estimate.

At last the tangled pay rolls—tangled by the national guard and the mileage problems—were straightened out by the quartermaster so that the last company of students was paid. Everybody in camp now has money.

Mrs. Arthur Ryerson Turns Beautiful Lake View House Into Convalescent Home for Sick Children.

"Mary" from Children's Memorial Hospital in billiard room of Arthur Ryerson's home, which is now children's playroom.

Fourteen afflicted children from the Children's Memorial hospital this summer are to have the best time they ever had. They are to be the guests of Mrs. Arthur Ryerson of 2700 Lake View avenue, who has converted her beautiful house into a convalescent home for the children.

Mrs. Ryerson left for the east last week, and in her absence the house belongs to the children, some of whom have never known real homes in all their stunted lives.

Most of them are now too sick to play very lively games, but whatever will add to their enjoyment and be of benefit to their bodies has been provided. The big drawing room upstairs has been cleared of its formal furniture and in place of it there are eight or ten neat little hospital beds, some small white chairs, and other appurtenances of an ideal children's ward in a hospital. A new white gate has been added to guard the smaller children from falling downstairs.

In the east room downstairs, where there used to be a billiard table, there is now a kindergarten table, and all sorts of toys are scattered about.

The house is just across the street from the park, and when the weather is good the children who are well enough will be taken there to play. Miss Carolyn Martin of the social service department of the Children's Memorial hospital is in charge.

"It seems a shame," Miss Martin said yesterday, "that in as large a city as Chicago there are only three convalescent hospitals. Many of the children could get well if they only had the proper environment to do it in."

Graduation Honors for Chicago Girls at Smith

Northampton, Mass., June 18.—The Ivy day exercises of Smith College commencement were held today. Graduating day exercises will be held tomorrow. Among the students from Chicago graduating with the degree of A. B. are Margaret Hay Adamick, Marion D. Cole, Lucile K. Englisch, Isabel Gardner, Marion Gould, Helen K. Grant, Cora V. Howland, Martha B. McGuire and Clara T. Schmidt.

NEARLY 300 MEN SEEK TO ENTER SECOND R. O. T. C.

Nearly 300 men who want to train in the second series of military training camps as candidates for admissions in the officers' reserve corps, United States army, obtained application blanks yesterday from Maj. Paul B. Malone, in charge of enrollments. This number is nearly one-third of the Illinois quota, 971, for the new camp at Leon Springs, Tex.

Most of those inquiring for blanks were men above draft age. Applicants over 31 years old will stand the best show for admission, it is said.

Capt. Cromwell Stacey has been assigned to take charge of applications for Illinois. He is stationed at Fort Sheridan and applications must be delivered to him either in person or by mail.

Physical tests for applicants for the second series of camps will not be as exacting as for the first camps, according to Maj. Malone.

Gov. Lowden Appeals for 4th of July Celebration

Gov. Lowden has joined the state council of defense to arouse the patriotic fervor of Illinois for observance of Fourth of July. In a statement, he says: "The issues in this are the issues for which our fathers fought and died. The war raging now will decide that those principles shall apply to all mankind, or that they shall perish from the earth. The revolutionary fathers, failed, if we do not now complete their work."

POST DRAFT LIST IN EACH PRECINCT OF CITY TODAY

Patriotic Duty to Report Men Who Failed to Register.

Printed lists of men of military age who registered for service on June 5 will be posted in their home precincts in Chicago today. Through this publicity the federal authorities expect to apprehend intentional dodgers and shirkers who have not already been caught.

Citizens who fail to find in the lists the names of men who should have registered, are asked as a patriotic duty to report omission to Hinton G. Clabaugh, chief of the federal bureau of investigation.

Comparisons to Be Made.

Groups of Mr. Clabaugh's assistants will compare the lists with the election registration of the city, as well as with lists of applicants for chauffeurs, barbers, and other state and city licenses.

Through the aid of publicity Mr. Clabaugh expects to locate several hundred men in the city who received registration cards by fraudulent means and did not put their names on the records. The identity of more than a dozen of these persons has already been established.

Another source of information is the records in the office of the immigration commissioner and the offices where the applications for naturalization have been filed.

Sixty More Arraigned.

Sixty men who could not show registration cards were brought before United States Commissioner Mason yesterday. Ten of them were sent to the county jail. More than 350 indictments against shirkers have been prepared and will be presented to the grand jury for action some time this week.

BRAISTED FINDS CONDITIONS GOOD AT GREAT LAKES

Surgeon General William G. Braisted, accompanied by the assistant director of the military relief department of the Red Cross, visited the Great Lakes Naval training station yesterday to inspect the work and make provision for the future. The surgeon general expressed himself as fully satisfied.

The general health of the station is excellent, running only from 2½ to 3 per cent of sickness, except for the increases in epidemic diseases, when the per cent of such ran as high as 6 per cent, Dr. Braisted said.

The recommendations for the control of the conditions made by the surgeon general some time ago have been carried out as rapidly as can be expected.

Few seriously sick cases are in the hospital—not more than one dozen. Although many are detained as convalescent, all are contented and present an unusually robust appearance.

MAYOR'S SCHOOL SLATE APPROVED BY BIG MAJORITY

Lundin Called Democratic Boss by Indignant Aldermen.

the archbishop and asked him to name two appointees. Why not be frank about these things? Why not have it all out in daylight?"

Ald. Kennedy expressed the hope that the individual members of the new board would not be under indictment within a year or two.

"This slate is the most miserable excuse for public school efficiency that has ever been sent from a mayor who was chosen on the issue of the public schools," he said. "If they scuttle the ship, wreck the school system, and indictments come, you're responsible. Loeb, in his diary, said the mayor had twenty-six aldermen he could deliver cold at any time. Well, they're on the job today. It's a shame and a disgrace that you'll humiliate the people of this city to the rottenest political boss the city ever had—Fred Lundin."

"I don't want to be classed as one of the twenty-six cold ones," said Ald. Adamowski, apologetically. "My children are at stake here."

"Yes," shouted Ald. Horne, dramatically, "we're fighting for the teachers and school children of Chicago." Numerous "Ha ha's" were directed at him.

Ald. Iliff declared the examination of the appointees by the subcommittee was a farce. Ald. McCormick made the council laugh when he read some of the questions and answers and Ald. Rodriguez said the intellectuality of both the subcommittee and witnesses before it was about on a par.

"It was up to the mayor to answer Mr. Loeb's charges," said Ald. Schwartz. "If you want your school board 'Lundinized,' I don't. You are voting to allow a discredited Republican boss to take over the schools. I don't propose that my school children shall stand for this, if I have any more."

Hyphenated School Board.

The council roared at the last remark and the mayor banged his gavel to restore order. Ald. Doyle then arose and attacked both the mayor and Mr. Loeb.

"We never had efficiency while Jake Loeb was in office," he said. "I'm not voting for the mayor now, but I am voting against the Jake Loeb school system. The mayor shouldn't choose board members because one is an Irishman, another a Pole, another a Catholic and another a Protestant. He ought to know we're all Americans now."

"I want to be with the man who is right and I think the mayor is right in this instance," said Ald. Thomas J. Lynch. "Talk about bosses; well, you Republicans have had Deneen, Roy O. West and today you have Lundin."

To make confirmation ironclad Ald. Michaelson moved to reconsider the vote, and his motion, in conformity with the administration's plan, was laid upon the table. Announcement of the final roll call brought applause from the gallery. The school board appointees will probably take office today after the city clerk administers the oath to them.

The New School Board.

Mrs. E. G. Snodgrass and Dr. Sadie Bay Adair, three years.

Charles S. Peterson, Edwin S. Davis, and Albert H. Severinghaus, one year.

"I was glad to see the council take the action it did," said the mayor. "Now we'll have an investigation of the schools system."

Corporation Counsel Ettelson denied that he called a conference of aldermen in his office before the meeting. He said it was customary for aldermen to ask his advice on parliamentary questions before each council session. The council will meet again on Friday, and the last meeting before the summer vacation will be June 26.

The mother was taken to the Elgin asylum three years ago and the father placed the children in La Grange institutions. The father said he was unable to bring the children up properly without the mother and wants them placed in a private home.

Offer of $1,300 to Be Made for Arrests in Keet Case

Springfield, Mo., June 13.—Assistant Prosecutor Dan M. Nee announced that the judges of the Greene county court would offer a reward of $1,000 for the "apprehension and conviction of all the persons connected with the kidnaping and murder of the Keet baby." Mr. Nee also stated that in reply to an appeal sent to Gov. Gardner last Thursday, the governor today advised that he, as governor, would offer a reward of $300, the largest sum he is empowered to offer, for the arrest and conviction of each of the kidnapers.

ADIEU SADNESS MANTLES SCHOOL BOARD ROOMS

There was something of the sadness of farewell yesterday about the precincts of the school board rooms as news came from the city council that the new board was confirmed.

President Loeb, who recently had his office refurnished in comfortable blue leather furniture, went from one chair to another getting a last sensation of enjoyment from the soft depths.

"I'm having a cushion made for the bench in the corridor," he explained.

Extend Their Sympathies.

Several of the president's friends on the board visited the office to extend their sympathies and farewells. Others telephoned.

"What will you do now?" asked one man.

"I'm going to join the Lonesome club," replied Mr. Loeb.

Mrs. C. O. Sethness was one of the members who appeared.

"I've called a meeting of the adjustment committee for tomorrow," she said. "What will I do?"

"You can call them up and tell them not to come," suggested Mr. Loeb.

"What is your opinion of the action of the council?" asked the reporters.

Played Mayor's Game.

It was the general feeling that the board in electing Supt. Shoop for four years and returning most of the sixty-eight teachers had played the mayor's game during its last precipitate sessions. An analysis of the council vote showed the labor aldermen with the mayor.

"It looks as if the Loeb rule would be next," said one of the visitors, "and the teachers' federation will go back into union labor."

Several trustees believe Charles S. Peterson, who was confirmed for a one year term, will be picked for president. President Loeb may be deposed by a two-thirds vote. Mr. Peterson said he did not know that he was to be chosen for president and would not say whether or not he would accept the position. Several of the new members said they had made no plans to depose President Loeb, as they have not yet been together.

THE SCHOOL BOARD

What It May Do to Loeb, and Other Facts.

What the new board of education may do:

President Loeb may be deposed by eight votes. His term as a member will continue for five years. Six votes will elect a new president for a year.

Lewis E. Larson, business manager; John D. Shoop, superintendent of schools; and Angus Roy Shannon, attorney, have been elected for four years at $12,000 a year. They cannot be removed except under charges and a trial by a committee of board members, with approval by the board.

The new board may elect a secretary to take the place of Mr. Larson, who is at present holding two jobs. It may fix the salary of secretary.

The other big jobs in the business department, architect, chief engineer, purchasing agent, auditor, and chief clerk, are under civil service.

These men dipped their pens into the current of their own lives and wrote words that put a holy discontent into the souls of thousands

THESE men, and others like them, have told in The AMERICAN MAGAZINE what they have found out about the problem of living. Each told his own story—for every man has at least one story—and each story so told had something in it for everyone else—as the sequel proved.

For what we are really interested in is ourselves—our lives, our health, our incomes, our families, our jobs. As a natural corollary to these interests, we have the liveliest curiosity about other men. What would they do in a situation like ours? What did they do? There you have it—

Biography and Autobiography

This recipe for The AMERICAN MAGAZINE is self-perpetuating. It rests on the things that really matter to its readers. Its readers have responded in the only way that counts—by buying it. The AMERICAN MAGAZINE is pulling—pulling with an even, steady, strong-armed strength. It is a new kind of magazine with a field of its own—a field it has made its own, and which is made up of human beings that are alive, curious, discontented, ambitious and successful. The present rate for space is far too low—but what can we do? We can't hold the magazine down. We can't raise the rate again—yet.

Is it necessary to say more?

Proceed with Inquiry Despite Warning by Dyer.

In spite of the threat by Federal Judge K. M. Dyer of St. Louis that he will cite Gov. Lowden, Attorney General Brundage, or any other official of the state for contempt if they take any step to interfere with his order upholding the interstate commerce commission's ruling for a 2.4 cent passenger fare on railroads, plans for a legal battle were decided upon yesterday at Springfield.

The legislature has adopted a resolution that in attempting to put into effect a tariff of more than 2 cents a mile the railroads are operating in defiance of the laws of Illinois.

The first step in the test cases over the power of the interstate commerce commission will be taken tomorrow morning, when the president and chief traffic men of each of the twenty-five railroads centering in Chicago will be brought before Judge Charles M. Foell to answer contempt proceedings brought by Attorney General Brundage in the name of the state of Illinois. This move is in open defiance of the dictum of Judge Dyer.

Dyer Refuses Details.

Judge Dyer refused last night to make a statement as to what he will do, but referred to his decision of June 7, and added:

"Wait until the Illinois officials attempt to interfere with my ruling and then you'll see what I will do."

In the decision referred to Judge Dyer said:

"It is the duty of these carriers to put in force the rate that the interstate commerce commission said that they might put in and not to stop on account of any supposed interference with the command of this court. If they had gone on and put in force the rate as the court directed them and some one else had arrested their men, or the attorney general, or any one else in the state of Illinois had directed their men to be arrested, I would have no trouble in citing these individuals to come down here and show why they should not be adjudged in contempt of this court."

Says Lowden Is Firm.

Gov. Lowden and Mr. Brundage had a long conference at Springfield yesterday over the rate situation. After leaving the executive offices Mr. Brundage said: "Gov. Lowden is firm in his stand behind the law officers of the state in the determination that the state law shall be enforced. We are progressing slowly, but safely, endeavoring to take no chances in protecting the rights of the people of the state of Illinois.

"All that I can say at this time is that our first effort will be to bring in the officials of the railroads that were named in Judge Foell's order for contempt.

"This means that we shall try to serve the president and the chief traffic manager of each of the twenty-five roads some time tomorrow. Assistant Attorneys General Wilkerson and Buckingham are in Chicago preparing the notices that will be served. Where the railroad has no president who is in Cook county we will get the highest officer available."

The proceedings will involve all of the main trunk lines entering the state except the Wabash. Two or three roads that radiate from St. Louis will not be reached by the Chicago cases. Attorney General Brundage will come to Chicago today and will be present when the cases are started before Judge Foell.

Suspends Rate Increase.

The state public utilities commission yesterday suspended for one hundred and twenty days the 15 per cent increase in freight rates sought by the railroads. The suspension is to date from July 1.

Young New York Woman Awarded Record Damages in Suit for Breach of Promise Against John R. Manning, Aged Millionaire.

Miss Honora May O'Brien

New York, June 18.—Miss Honora May O'Brien today was granted $225,000 damages in her breach of promise suit brought against aged John R. Manning.

The decision of the jury which heard the evidence in the case of the 28 year old "Irish rose" against the 84 year old millionaire was that $200,000 was for her sufferings because her courtship was dragged through the newspapers and the marriage balked, and the other $25,000 represented the price the jury figured the old man ought to pay because he was so "smart" in his answers on the witness stand.

RISE IN TAXES NOTED IN BOOKS OF ASSESSORS

A general rise in taxes is noted in the field books of the board of assessors, the increase affecting banks, packers, and wholesale grocers. Also it may be noticed that twenty-four aldermen pay no personal property tax and only five pay taxes on personal property of more than $2,500.

All banks of the loop district, whose 1916 assessment was lowered by the board of review on a plea of poor business, have met with an increase comparable with that of the Continental and Commercial National bank, which is the highest, with an assessment of $25,150,000, as against $18,382,500.

Armour & Co.'s schedule has been increased from $2,875,000 in 1916 to $3,108,750, while Swift & Co. remains at $3,150,000. Among the wholesale grocers there have been notable increases, that of the highest one, Sprague, Warner & Co., from $1,247,183 to $1,410,476.

PATRIOTISM AND LUTHERAN UNITY AROUSE CHEERS

Many of German Descent Attend Banquet of Brotherhoods.

BY THE REV. W. R. NORTON.

Patriotism and Lutheran unity were the words which aroused 1,021 Lutherans to repeated applause at a banquet last evening in the Hotel La Salle.

The banquet marked the opening of the fourth Federal Council of Lutheran Brotherhoods which will be in session today at the hotel and will culminate in a rally this evening at the Blackstone theater.

A Dead Issue.

"The question whether we ought to have gone into the war is a dead issue," said W. A. Granville, president of Pennsylvania college, Gettysburg, Pa., who spoke on the subject, "The Lutheran Church and American Citizenship."

"We are in the war and it is our business to win it. The harder we strike the quicker will come the peace for which we all long.

"Any country which is good enough for a man to live in is good enough for a man to die for. It is this land which gives us our living and our children their opportunity."

J. L. Zimmerman of Springfield, O., president of the council, spoke hopefully of the prospects of Lutheran unity which is expected to result from the meeting of the general synod which opens in Unity church tomorrow at 10 o'clock, to which the brotherhood meeting is preliminary.

Worker for Unity.

Mr. Zimmerman was referred to by the toastmaster, the Rev. Charles G. Heckert, president of Wittenberg college, Springfield, O., as "the man who has done more than any other man in America for Lutheran unity."

"Many of us are of German descent," said Mr. Zimmerman in beginning, "and we are not ashamed of it, but as Americans we will fight any nation that destroys the place where democracy lives."

The addresses of welcome to Chicago were delivered by Judge O. M. Torrison, who took the place of Mayor William Hale Thompson, who sent word he could not be present because of his attendance at the reception to the representatives of the Italian government, and the Rev. J. F. Seibert, D. D., superintendent, northern Illinois synod.

Bondsman Turns Against "Habeas Corpus" Jones

Thomas F. O'Connor, a codefendant, yesterday pleaded guilty and will turn state's evidence against Attorney E. A. "Habeas Corpus" Jones, who was placed on trial before Judge Lockwood Honoré to answer to a charge of conspiracy. Jones and O'Connor are said to have presented a fake bond, signed with the name of Municipal Judge Courtney, and thus obtained the release of Howard S. Thompson, held on a confidence game charge.

UNIONIZE

They're Film Inspectors, and Happy, but Would Accept More Money.

Miss Elsie Lesher

Fair film inspectors employed by the various Chicago exchanges made headway in the formation of a union yesterday when a meeting was called in the Temple court building. It is proposed to have the girls form an auxiliary to the Motion Picture Operators' union, and this latter organization is backing the fight for a union.

The girls explained they are satisfied with their hours and are not specially enraged over their present rate of pay, but they want recognition. However, according to one member, there will be no objection if more money is paid.

There are 320 girls employed in the Chicago exchanges and many of these went on a strike on Friday. Several companies were affected, but peace is expected soon.

FORESTERS WAVE AXES AND CHEER SPARTAN CHIEF

M. W. Saxon, major-general of the Woodmen Foresters encamped in Grant park, reviewed 3,000 men yesterday at their first dress parade in true Spartan style. Two weeks ago his leg was broken in an automobile accident. When the Woodmen saw him wheeled to the reviewing ground in a chair, they waved their aluminum axes and cheered.

Mrs. May Meade of Topeka, Kas., is the only woman, officially, who is a member of the camp. She is Maj.-Gen. Saxon's nurse.

Competitive drills were conducted throughout the day and will continue today. Companies are dressed in various colors, including blue, cream, green, yellow, gray, brown, khaki, white, and black. United States army officers are judging the drills. More than $6,000 in prizes will be awarded.

Many of the crack teams have been broken up by the war, it was said, and except for that several thousand more Foresters would have joined the camp.

HEAR DIVORCE SUIT AGAINST COUNT GIZYCKI

Testimony in Judge Thomson's Court Shows Cruelty.

After more than two years of delay and continuance the divorce suit of the Countess Gizycka, who was Miss Eleanor Patterson of Chicago, came up before Judge Charles M. Thomson yesterday. Much delay was caused by difficulty in serving the notice of the suit on Count Gizycki. Although the bill filed by the countess only charges desertion, several acts of cruelty were related by one witness.

Ethel Mary Gernat, who was formerly the nurse of Felicia, the 11 year old daughter of the countess, told Judge Thomson of three occasions when the count had struck his wife.

Nurse Relates Story.

"I first met Countess Gizycka in 1909," said the nurse. "She was in Vienna at the time. I cared for Felicia for more than sixteen months, and during this time I observed both the countess and her husband closely. He was a man of violent temper and he frequently drank to excess. Several times I saw him intoxicated."

The nurse continued with a description of the count's actions in various European cities—St. Petersburg, Paris, Vienna, Pau, and at the count's country home in Lowlica, Russia.

"In Pau I heard the count slap the countess," said Miss Gernat. "On two other occasions I knew he had been cruel to her."

Demand for "Settlement" Told.

Judge Thomson was told of the kidnaping of the child several years ago by the count and of the demand by the count's lawyers for a settlement of 400,000 rubles as a condition precedent to the child's return.

The marriage of Miss Patterson to the count took place in Washington April 14, 1904. In 1908 the countess filed suit for divorce, naming three Vienna women corespondents. Later these charges were dropped and desertion was made the basis of the suit.

FREED BY MARRIAGE

Woman Preacher Performs Ceremony in Morals Court.

Roy Briggs and Daisy Logan were answering the usual charge in the Morals court yesterday. But they solved all their legal difficulties by marriage.

Their slumbers had been broken on Saturday night by a policeman. Daisy, although blonde, plump, and mature with the assurance that 35 years imparts, was in a flurry before the bar of justice and her companion was nervous at being away from his job.

"How long have you known this woman?" Judge Uhlir asked him.

"Your honor, for nine years we have lived together. We haven't yet saved money to get married, although we have spoken of it often."

A woman in black bonnet stepped forward.

"Economic conditions are against morality, your honor. Men and women haven't money to be married on. Upon your recommendation, please, your honor, I shall advance the money for the marriage license for this couple and perform the ceremony myself."

"Nine years together is recommendation enough to warrant a marriage—or I don't know what one is," said the judge.

When the couple returned the woman minister, the Rev. Alice Phillips Aldrich, performed the marriage ceremony. In the manner of the Quakers the two knelt facing one another and holding each other by the right hand and took their vows to hold, to love, and to cherish in sickness and in health.

"Discharged," said the judge, and this was their first wedding gift.

Butter and Eggs

To Housewives:

Your test of the service rendered by any food distributing agency is prices. Does it raise or lower them?

Like everything else, butter and eggs are high. Chickens and cows eat the same food as hogs and steers. An increase in their products as great as in beef, pork and grain might be expected.

BUT WHAT ARE THE FACTS?

It is apparent that if dealing on the Chicago Butter and Egg Board has influenced prices, it has kept them down. This must always be the effect of unrestrained, competitive trading, such as we conduct. It is the exact opposite of monopoly.

Our operations, in fact, have been the most effective check upon the tendency of a few great corporations to monopolize this business.

LEONARD HANDS K. O. TO NELSON IN THIRD ROUND

Thumping Stopped by Referee After 6th Knockdown.

"Tribune" Decisions

At New York—Benny Leonard knocked out Johnny Nelson [3].

BY IGOE.

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—It took Benny Leonard a little less than three rounds to thump all the fight out of Johnny Nelson at the Harlem Sporting club tonight, by way of celebrating his debut in New York as the lightweight champion of the world.

Nelson took a terrific beating, being floored six times in all, once in the second and five times in the third. After going down for the last count, he arose, very groggy, and Referee Kid McPartland placed his arms around Nelson and led him to his corner.

It was the first time that Nelson had ever been stopped. Nelson was game and the harder he was hit the harder he came in for more. As early as the first round it was plain to be seen that Nelson was not going to be in championship company long.

Wavers to His Corner.

When the bell rang for the first round Nelson had a few private ideas as to the general direction of his corner. He made it finally, but not on a bee line. The first knockdown came in the second round. A short right hook sent him sprawling, but he could take it, and got up and fought like a fiend until the bell rang.

Nelson will remember the third round the longest day he lives. McPartland saved him from going down just after the bell. A right hand smash knocked him into arbitration and McPartland grasped him to save both from going to the floor in a heap.

Game Attempt to Fight On.

A right brought Nelson to his knees in his own corner just after this. He got up and was kept busy getting up and going down. He took the count on two occasions, but was on his feet instantly after the other knockdowns.

Jeff Smith Trims Rowlands.

Cincinnati, O., June 18.—[Special.]—In a fast fifteen round bout before the Elmwood club tonight Jeff Smith of New York was awarded the decision over Len Rowlands of Milwaukee. Rowlands had the better of the argument in the sixth, seventh, and eighth rounds only, Smith being the aggressor and taking the honors in nine rounds, with three about even.

Dolan Outfights Jack Russo.

New Orleans, La., June 18.—[Special.]—Sunburst Dolan of Chicago tonight won from Jack Russo in fifteen rounds. Dolan outfought Russo at every angle of the game. Hubie O'Brien refereed. There was no other decision for him to give, Dolan piling up enough points in ten rounds to win.

Moore Outpoints Wolfe.

Memphis, Tenn., June 18.—[Special.]—After an absence from the ring of four months, due to a broken right hand, Wilson (Pal) Moore, local bantamweight, gained an eight round decision tonight over Kid Wolfe of Cleveland. Moore had five rounds, including the last two, while Wolfe had one, the third. The second and sixth were even. It was a hard fought contest, in which Moore's cleverness at long range earned him the decision.

Kramer Beats Mike McTigue.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 18.—[Special.]—Billy Kramer won from Mike McTigue in the windup at the National A. C. tonight after six rounds of hard going. Paul Doyle of New York was entitled to the decision over Eddie Wagond in the semi-windup. Little Bear was defeated by Joe Dorsey. Billy Rolfe, U. S. N., meted out a walloping to Joe Augatis. Young Lawrence was outfought by Mike Daley.

Turfman Madden to Share Winnings with Red Cross

New York, June 18.—[Special.]—John E. Madden proposes to do his part, if not in one way, then another, to help in the world struggle for democracy. Disappointed in a plan that interested him to ship grain from this country for the use of thoroughbred stock in England, he announced today that he would subscribe 10 per cent of the amount of purses won at Belmont park to the Red Cross and that he will do the same at Aqueduct and Saratoga Springs. Madden won eight races at Belmont park—more, in fact, than any other owner, and the Red Cross will profit fully $600 by it.

Owner of Power Cruiser Honored with Loving Cup

E. F. McDonald Jr., owner of the power cruiser Wa-wa-tay-see, was presented yesterday with a $100 loving cup by Dr. Haldane Clemensen, a member of the board of education, for the fine showing made by his boat in the impromptu race from Chicago to Michigan City on Saturday. Wa-wa-tay-see, which started as scratch boat in the event conducted as a side feature of the Columbia Yacht club's Michigan City cruising race, finished six minutes ahead of the second boat, Buckeye II., owned by Commodore E. E. Fies of the South Shore Power Boat club.

AT THE BILLIARD ROOMS.

Otto Reiselt, who represented Pittsburgh in the Interstate league last year, arrived yesterday to compete in a four handed three cushion tournament at Mussey's Monroe street room, which will start Monday. August Kieckhefer, Charley Morin, and Jess Lean will be the other players.

Charley Le Gros defeated Charley Ward, 50 to 31, in 69 innings in their Chicago Billiard league match at the Casino room, and now is tied with Ward for second place. Each had high run of 4.

DETROIT LOCALS.

It is reported that two people walked across Woodward Avenue last week without getting run into. They were probably the Dodge Bros.

Everybody got excited out to the Red Cross golf match Saturday because one of Mr. Ford's partners dropped $50 into the contribution box, and done it unassumingly and without saying "Here is $50." This gent's income last year was, they say, $13,000,000. Personally, we cast $1 into the box and done it unassumingly and without saying "Here is $1." Nobody got excited. This is a percentage problem.

The dance floors here are very slippery and one used to tripping all over the light fantastic on brick floors cannot show up at his best.

They have no confidence in human nature here and the whole 900,000 population have bumpers on the backs of their cars as well as the front.

The folks were knocking Hugh Jennings pretty fierce a week ago, but Tyrus has started hitting again and that makes Hughey a pretty fair manager.

A high wind added several strokes to the cards. Mrs. Letts went out in 43, five strokes over par, and came home fairly well until she reached the sixteenth hole, where her ball insisted on taking a bath in the canal. She took ten for this hole and came home in 49.

ST. LOUIS YOUTHS LEAD GOLF PLAY

St. Joseph, Mo., June 18.—High winds prevented low medal scores in the first flights of the qualifying round in the Transmississippi Golf tournament at the St. Joseph Country club today. Young players from St. Louis municipal courses provided the features. C. L. Wolf of the Forest Park Golf club of that city turned in low medal score of 80. Frank L. Lynch and James Manion, present state champion, clubmates of Wolf, crowded him with cards of 81. Harry G. Legg of Minneapolis, Transmississippi titleholder, also turned in an 81.

Other low scores were:

Alden B. Swift of Chicago, former champion, 86; J. D. Cady, Rock Island, Ill., 82, and W. F. Brooks of Minneapolis, president of the association, 89.

H. L. Hankinson of Minneapolis was elected president of the association tonight, and Hill Crest Golf club, Kansas City, was awarded the 1918 tournament.

Defer Action on Ouimet's Plea for Reinstatement

New York, June 18.—At a special meeting of the executive committee of the United States Golf association today Francis Ouimet, former national amateur and open champion, and J. H. Sullivan Jr., both members of the Woodland Golf club of Auburndale, Mass., appeared personally and applied for reinstatement as eligible amateurs. Three members of the committee were unavoidably absent and it was decided to defer action on the applications until all the members could be brought together. Another meeting will be convened in the near future and an official decision announced.

O. K. ON STELLI AS SKAT CHAMPION

SKAT officials put the official O K on the card of John Stelli, 4536 Irving Park boulevard, as champion of the twentieth annual tournament of the North American Skat league. His card stood the test of the 4,000 others that were examined all day yesterday by Secretary Oscar Schwemer and some twenty assistants and came out on top. His record was 26 games won without a loss and earned $1,000. Stelli is an employé of The Fair. Second prize went to H. Schlesinger, an insurance man of St. Louis, who had 25 victories in 27 plays, but won with 1,033 points, 45 points more than the next high man. Charles Freitenhauser of Cicero ran third with the best solo, a diamond solo against ten matadores.

The temporary offices of the league, in the Congress hotel, were closed last night, all of the visiting officials leaving for home on late trains.

The Chicago Fly Casting club cast regular events at their pool in Garfield park Sunday. Considering the good fishing weather the attendance was good. The Washington Park Amateur Casting club cast three events at the pool in Washington park, with L. De Garmo taking the heavy end of the victories.

E. P. Evans, secretary of the Anglers' club, Douglas park, landed a number of new members recently. In fact, the casting game in this town right now is making big headway, other clubs reporting new members every week.

The Illinois Casting club will cast at their pool in Washington park next Sunday. Visitors, whether they come to cast or to look on, will be shown every courtesy. Watching the boys in action is a good way to kill some time on a Sunday.

Schurz High Protests Crane's Baseball Title

The Crane Tech team, which won the championship of the Chicago Public High School league and was beaten for the prep championship of the city by De Paul academy, had its right to the public high school title challenged by Schurz at the final meeting of the board of control yesterday. Schurz's statement charged that members of Crane's team had played Saturday and Sunday ball, which would be a violation of the high school athletic league's ruling against prep athletes competing for two teams.

The annual elections of the high school athletic board of control resulted in the selection of George L. Steffens of Austin as president for the sixth time.

SCHOBER DRAWS WITH REUBEN IN 2 HOURS ON MAT

Hoosier and Bluejacket Grappler Quit Even; Both Well Spent.

BY HARVEY WOODRUFF.

Ben Reuben, Chicago's best middleweight wrestler, who recently enlisted for the marine service at Great Lakes station, and Billy Schober of Indianapolis, wrestled for two hours without a fall at the Haymarket theater last night. Referee Ed Smith then called the bout a draw.

Both men were well spent at the finish from their fast work through the two hours. Seldom are spectators given such an exhibition of ability to break seemingly dangerous holds and such a kaleidoscopic change of offense and defense as Reuben and Schober showed.

Previous Bout to Reuben.

This pair met previously at the Coliseum, as a prelim to the Lewis-Olin bout, and gave a great exhibition in which Reuben won a one fall bout, the second being called off on account of the late hour. Schober, who had trained especially to retrieve his laurels, began carefully, in contrast to his Coliseum effort, and for ten minutes was on the defensive. After that he did fully his share of the work and the men were in and out of the ring and all over the mat, first one and then the other on top.

There were lulls toward the end, when both were tired from their long tussle under the hot stage lights. These periods of comparative quietude were only long enough for the men to get freshened before they were at it again.

Outcome Fair to Both.

Each man did his share of the work, and it really would have seemed unfortunate for a lucky fall to have terminated the affair at the close after honors had been even all the way. Both men were clever and agile in breaking holds. This was easier, of course, because their bodies became slippery from perspiration after a few minutes grappling.

Exhaust Echoes
by SHEPPARD BUTLER.

SECRETARY DANIELS' order seizing 50,000,000 barrels of oil for the use of the navy comes with no particular shock of surprise to persons identified with the automobile industry. Although none have permitted their apprehensions to appear in the public prints, a shortage of gasoline, aggravated by government seizure of most of the available supply, is precisely the catastrophe that many manufacturers, dealers, and experienced car owners believe to be a possibility of the near future.

Expert opinion differs as to how well grounded these fears may be. Testifying before the senate public lands committee the other day, Francis S. Peabody of Chicago, chairman of the coal committee of the council of national defense, said the country is not producing enough oil to win the war. If something isn't done to develop new wells, he added, the reserve supply will be exhausted in twelve months and production will be 50,000,000 barrels less than the requirements.

On the other hand, Dr. Walter F. Rittman of the United States bureau of mines maintains that the production of synthetic gasoline by the so-called "cracking" process is increasing so rapidly there will be plenty to meet any ordinary increase in demand. As to the extraordinary increase involved in the war operations of the army and navy, however, he makes no prediction.

All but $1,000 of the $21,000 offered in prizes for Saturday's 250 mile auto Derby was paid to eight of the ten drivers yesterday by Referee C. H. Foster. The awards for ninth and tenth places were held up for an official ruling on protests filed by Ralph De Palma, Tom Alley, and Ed Schilo.

Louis Chevrolet, who finished ninth, is charged by the protesting drivers with having carried a third man in his Frontenac to help his teammate, Joe Boyer, get his car back on the track. Fontaine at one stage of the race pushed his Mercedes half a mile to the pits to get a new valve spring. There is a rule which would uphold the protest against Fontaine, but no precedent to prevent Chevrolet's carrying a third man if he so desired.

Alley and Schilo also claim they finished ahead of De Palma's Packard, though the tape shows the Italian took eleventh place by forty-six seconds.

The newly formed Touring Club of America perfected its organization at a meeting at the Chicago Automobile club last night by electing a board of directors composed of W. G. Tennant, Harry Newman, Thomas J. Hay, E. F. Meyer, John P. Dods, Burley B. Ayres, and B. F. Affleck. Arrangements are under way for making all local units of the national body affiliated organizations of the American Automobile association. The organizers are out for 10,000 members in the Chicago territory. When the local organization is completed a national membership campaign will be launched.

Corns Lift Out With Fingers—No Pain!

Ice-Mint, as this new preparation is called, is said to shrivel up hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes so that they can be lifted out easily with the fingers. It's wonderful. Think of it; only a touch or two of Ice-Mint and real foot-joy is yours.

There's not one bit of pain or soreness when applying it or afterwards and it doesn't even irritate the skin.

If your feet are inclined to swell or puff, or if you have cracked or bleeding toes, it will draw the inflammation right out and quickly heal the sore and tender places. It is the real Japanese secret of fine, healthy, little feet and is greatly appreciated by women who wear high heel shoes and by men who have to stand on their feet all day. Try it. Just ask in any drug store for a small jar of Ice-Mint and learn for yourself what solid foot comfort really is. There is nothing like it.—Advertisement.

Trade your old car and save money NOW

You've been thinking of trading the old car. You've been trying to decide between trading and "having it fixed up," haven't you? But have you figured it out in dollars and cents?

Overhaul the car thoroughly	$225.00
Repaint	75.00
New Tires	140.00
Miscellaneous repairs to top and body	40.00
	$480.00

Think of it! You will have invested $480.00, but you will still have a 1913, 1914 or 1915 model. And it would not bring $50.00 more on the used car market. This means $430 is wasted.

But this is not all! Consider that the new cars are advancing in cost daily, while the old car deteriorates in value.

By trading in your old car now you can save this $430 in addition to the liberal allowance we will give you on your old car.

EXPLOSIONS IN RANKS OF SOX COST TWIN BILL

Boston Gets Bunker Hill Day Battles, 6-4 and 8-7.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Boston, Mass., June 18.—[Special.]—Chicago's gallant White Sox lost two trenches today while Boston baseball fans were celebrating Bunker Hill day. The Red Sox bombarded them to a 6-to-4 defeat in the morning and then to an 8-to-7 licking in the afternoon. The latter defeat, however, was caused by an explosion from within the Sox ranks in the ninth inning, when they kicked in four runs for Boston.

Not in years has there been such a complete and comprehensive blowup as the Sox had in that ninth. Going into it they had a three-run lead, and Red Faber, who had relieved Jim Scott in the sixth, was hurling in old-time style. There was no fear, but Eddie Collins messed the ball on Pennock, the first batter, then Hooper followed with a single.

Risberg's Fumble Fills Bags.

Janvrin was next and bounced down to Risberg, who fumbled and kicked the ball around, and the bases were filled. Hoblitzel hit to Gandil and was out at first, Pennock scoring, then Gardner lifted a short fly to Felsch. It looked safe then, but Duffy Lewis, who never should have come to bat, poled a single to right center, sending Hooper and Janvrin in, tying the score.

Lewis took second on Felsch's foolish peg to the plate, then he went to third on a wild pitch. Walker next bounced to Risberg, who messed that ball even worse than the former, and Lewis came over with the winning run. It was a tough one for the Sox to lose, but Boston shouldn't get much credit for winning it.

The Sox got after Foster early in the game, but spoiled chances for more runs by careless baserunning. They had two one with one out in the first, but Weaver must have thought two were out and started home from second when Jackson flied to Lewis. Of course Buck was doubled.

In the same inning Risberg attempted to score from third on a short fly to Lewis. Risberg got in all right when Thomas fumbled, but the umpire ruled he had left third before the ball was caught.

Sox Score Two in Fourth.

In the fourth two were driven home. Gandil began with a double and Risberg sacrificed. The squeeze was next, but Schalk bunted so hard that the ball went to Scott, who tried a play at the plate. The throw was too late and Gandil counted, while Schalk was safe at first. J. Scott popped out, but Leibold tripled to right, scoring Schalk.

With one out in the fifth Jackson walked and Felsch was safe on Gardner's error. Gandil was hit in the ribs, and after Risberg struck out Schalk singled, sending two home.

Heavy firing by the Red Sox got two in the fifth. Walker and Thomas doubled, the former scoring. Shorten hit for Foster and popped out, but Hooper singled, Thomas stopping at third. He tallied when Henriksen, hitting for Barry, grounded out.

In the next round they drove J. Scott off the slab. With one out Lewis singled and scored on Walker's double. E. Scott grounded out, but Thomas was safe on Gandil's fumble, then Pennock poked a single to right, scoring Walker. J. Scott was yanked and Faber took the job, whereupon Hooper popped out.

Two for Rowlands in Seventh.

Gandil singled in the seventh and scored on Risberg's triple. Schalk then singled to left and Risberg held third, fearing a catch, then came in when he saw it was a hit. He would have been out at home, but Thomas dropped the ball. That was all until the big ninth inning blowup.

The defeat of the Sox in the morning was directly responsible for a three base blow by Larry Gardner in the seventh inning, when the bases were filled with two out and two runs needed to tie or three to win. Larry drove in the three with a wallop over Nemo Leibold's head, then came home when Duffy Lewis lammed one to left.

The Sox had a terrible time in that round. Leading by two runs, Danforth started by walking Agnew. McNally was sent out to run. Mays groundered out, then Hooper walked, and when two balls and no strikes were called on Barry Danforth was yanked, Cicotte taking his place. Barry then pulled out and let Shorten take his place and Cicotte hurled two more wide ones, letting Shorten walk and filling the bases.

Counter Move by Rowland.

Hoblitzel went up to hit for Gainer, the former being a left handed swinger. Rowland countered by yanking Cicotte and sending in Williams. Manager Barry then yanked Hobby and sent up Janvrin. The latter bounced feebly to Weaver and McNally was forced out at the plate. Then came Gardner, and although he swings left handed he hit the first pitched ball for three sacks, and the game was as good as over.

The Sox hit Mays hard in the second, singles by Gandil, Risberg, and Russell, with a pass to Schalk and a sacrifice fly to Leibold, netting three runs. The other came in the seventh when Mays made a wild pitch with Leibold on third.

White Sox Notes

Boston, Mass., June 18.—[Special.]—The Sox caught a train for Chicago at 6 p. m. and are due to arrive tomorrow at 5 p. m.

Chick Gandil and Ernie Shore nearly mixed in a fist bout during the morning game while Shore was coaching at first. Referee Barry McCormick stepped forth and stopped the fight on a technicality.

After his experience of Saturday, President Frazee of the Red Sox had plenty of police officers on hand today. Coppers were stationed on the field and four mounted police were ready to gallop in should anything start.

Mays would have been ineligible to pitch today had the American league enforced a rule adopted last year, viz., that any time a player is put off the bench by an umpire he is automatically suspended for three days. Mays was put off Saturday by Umpire Connolly.

TWO SOX SERVED WITH WARRANTS

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Boston, Mass., June 18.—[Special.]—Buck Weaver and Fred McMullin of the White Sox were served with warrants for arrest at 2:15 p. m. today. The charges were for assault and made by Augustin J. McNally of Norwood, a nearby suburb.

McNally was one of the mob which attempted to break up the game Saturday, and during the fussing is supposed have bumped McMullin's fist with his eye. Also he is supposed to have had his fingers on the railing just when Weaver let his bat fall.

The case will be called tomorrow and defaulted, as the two players will be on their way to Chicago. District Attorney Nathan Tufts of Middlesex county scheduled his house and lot as security for the appearance of the boys when the Sox come here again.

Phils Get Frank Schulte from Pittsburgh Club

Philadelphia, Pa., June 18.—Outfielder Frank Schulte today was secured by the Philadelphia Nationals from Pittsburgh by the waiver route. Schulte will report to the locals at once. He joined the Chicago Nationals in 1904 and played with them until last summer, when he was traded to Pittsburgh. Several weeks ago Schulte suffered a broken rib. He has not played much with Pittsburgh this year.

Mitch Puts New Punch in Cubs and Bruins Pounce on Reds, 4-2

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Cincinnati, O., June 18.—[Special.]—Manager Mitchell gave his Cubs a shake-up today and produced a lineup which had the punch to win the opening game of the series with the Reds in one inning. Score, 4 to 2.

All four of our tallies were made in the fourth inning, when the Cubs concentrated their fire on Fred Toney to excellent purpose. The Reds hit Al Demaree just as hard as we did Toney, but Al was more effective when in trouble and foxily scattered the hits from one end of the game to the other.

The new background for the Cub pitching had Flack in right field and Wortman at short, instead of Wolter and Zeider respectively. Although Wortman booted a chance for a double play in a critical moment, he took care of everything else and nailed one runner at the plate.

Flack New Leadoff Man.

Flack was made leadoff man in the batting order, Mann being promoted to second place, followed by Doyle and Merkle in the responsible berths where hits usually mean runs. The combination worked perfectly both ways.

The first round listened as if it was not Demaree's day, for the Reds grabbed a lead of one run with only one out, but a double play came to Al's rescue, and from then on Demaree had the commanding hand himself. The Redlegs would not have scored off him again if Wortman had not tried to make a double play too fast in the eighth, resulting in missing it entirely.

The double header which was arranged for today was postponed out of courtesy to the Red Cross association, which staged a patriotic parade downtown in its drive for new members. Only one game was advertised, and that was delayed until after the parade.

Cubs Cop in the Fourth.

The Cubs were passive in Toney's hands for three innings, then went out and copped cleanly in the fourth. Leslie Mann led the winning assault with a double close to the right foul line. Doyle sent a triple crashing over Rousch's head, scoring Mann. Merkle singled and Doyle counted. Williams bunted toward first. Toney tried to make an impossible play to force Merkle at second and pegged so wildly that Fred reached third.

Deal drove Merkle home with a single to left. Wortman walked, filling the bags, and Elliott flied out so far that Williams walked home from third with the final Cub run. Demaree fanned and Flack flicked a bounder to Shean for the third out.

The Reds were first to score, on a pass to Groh and singles by Rousch and Chase in the opener. Wingo rapped a fast one to Doyle, and a double play checked that attack. Trouble did not threaten again until the sixth; then Rousch singled with one out, went to second on Chase's demise, and to third on a passed ball. Wingo walked and started a double steal which resulted in the finish of Rousch at the plate.

Wortman Musses Up Double Play.

In the eighth, with one down, Kopf singled. Rousch hit one near second base for a cinch double play, but the ball got away from Wortman. Chase singled, scoring Kopf. Rousch attempted to lead a double steal, but Elliott nailed him at third and Wingo fouled out.

Notes

The fans here have become so skeptical about the Reds that they do not stand up in the seventh inning.

Jim Vaughan is expected to be ready to pitch in a day or two, but his salary wing is still lame from the wrench he gave it in practice last week.

When Rousch was retired at the plate in the sixth he cut a chunk out of the heel of Elliott's shoe with his spikes. Rowdy took an inventory and continued the game with the accompaniment of a slight limp.

Doyle made a fast play to stop Thorpe in the seventh. The redskin opened with a hot bouncer which squirted off Demaree's mitt. By hustling and making a swell one handed play Doyle got the pill to Merkle in time for the out.

Chase pulled one of his inimitables in the ninth. Wortman rapped to Groh, who threw high and wide to first. Chase stepped back of the bag, speared the ball with one hand, and with the same motion swung his arm so as to tag Wortman as he slipped past.

Ball Player, a Slacker, Arrested During Game

Becker, Minn., June 18.—[Special.]—After farmers living near here had demanded his arrest because he openly boasted he did not register, Benjamin Anderson, 24 years old, president of the Socialist club of Snake River township and a ball player, was arrested by J. A. Wessel, United States marshal, at Becker. Anderson's arrest was witnessed by more than 500 people who had gathered at the ball park. He was playing left field for the Snake River team when Marshal Wessel stepped on the field and took him into custody.

LEAGUE UPHOLDS ACTION OF TENER IN M'GRAW CASE

New York, June 18.—There can be no appeal from the fine and suspension recently imposed upon Manager McGraw of the New York Giants by President Tener, according to a ruling of the board of directors of the National league today. As a result the $500 fine and sixteen-day suspension inflicted on McGraw for his attack on Umpire Byron at Cincinnati, June 8, stands, despite the protest and appeal filed by President Hempstead at the conference of his fellow magnates.

The members of the board went upon record as approving the fine and suspension and announced that McGraw's alleged statements reflecting upon the president of the league would be the subject of inquiry at a special meeting tomorrow.

The session, which was an all-day affair, was attended by all the eight club presidents composing the board of directors. In addition, Umpires Byron and Quigley were present, but were not called upon to testify.

ENTENTE PAYING COST OF INERTIA BEFORE THE WAR

Superior in Man Power, but Couldn't Put Force Into the Field.

[THIRTIETH ARTICLE.]

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—In the preceding series of articles it has been shown that, in spite of the fact that the entente has been much superior in every resource, the enemy after nearly three years of war not only has not been defeated but is still in possession of considerable allied territory and may be contemplating another general offensive before we will have had the time to really furnish material to our allies.

As it has been publicly stated by prominent officials on more than on occasion that the decisive winning of the war depends upon us, it is important that we thoroughly understand why vastly superior potential resources have been unable to overcome smaller ones.

Must Avoid Allied Mistakes.

It is evident that if we do not avoid the same mistakes our potential resources, which are relatively small by comparison with those which our allies have had at their disposal, will also fail to produce the desired result—complete victory.

The first thing noticeable in the beginning of the war was that while our allies had a total white population of 240,500,000 to but 116,000,000 of the enemy, a proportion of more than two to one, the number of troops which they could put in the field immediately only bore the proportion of five to three. This was primarily due to the fact that Great Britain, one of the greatest powers, had not adopted universal service, with the result that she only had immediately available a small regular army instead of several millions, as would have been the case had she had such service.

Question of Preparedness.

As everybody else had large armies which they could immediately put in the field the fighting commenced without delay. Thus it was a question of how much each country had prepared prior to the war and not a question of how many civilians there were in the country who could be made into soldiers after war was declared.

The next question was what had been done in the various countries to make the men not actually in the army at the moment war was declared available for field service. In all the universal service countries, which included all of them except Great Britain, the great mass of the men had done their service in the active army when young men. Therefore, the great majority were trained soldiers and available for active service at any time called to the colors, provided arms and equipment were ready for them as well as trained officers to lead them.

Situation in France.

In France the intention was merely to use these men to bring the active units to war strength and then to replace casualties as they occurred. Therefore no effort had been made to provide the arms, equipment, trained officers, artillery, and all the many kinds of material necessary so that the surplus reservists could be organized immediately into new divisions.

Germany, on the other hand, had provided everything for such new organizations, with the result that she immediately mobilized 2,000,000 men on the French border frontier, as against 1,300,000 mobilized by the French on their side. The allies believed that the Belgian forts of Liege and Namur would be able to hold the Germans on the line of the Meuse river for some time, if not indefinitely.

The Germans, however, had carefully studied the strength of these forts and had constructed and arranged to bring into the field guns sufficiently powerful to smash them. This they did, thus opening almost immediately a road through Belgium and turning the left flank of the French, who were mobilized along their eastern frontier facing to the east.

Due primarily to the lack of sufficient railway development for a rapid mobilization and above all a concentration along their western frontier, the Russians were not ready to strike in time to prevent the enemy from using the greater part of his force against France alone.

Ratio Nearly Reversed.

Therefore, due to a failure to prepare in time of peace to immediately throw the full strength of their man power properly equipped against an enemy on the outbreak of the war, the tremendous allied superiority in white population of more than two to one resulted in 1,300,000 Frenchmen having to face 2,000,000 Germans, or an almost complete reversal of the proportion.

Due to the same neglect, but on a much larger scale, we are unable to bring to the aid of our allies the millions of trained soldiers which only universal service can produce and whose aid they are so much in need of.

DORIS ANDERSON REPEATS STORY OF GIRL'S DEATH

Doris Anderson, 14 year old daughter of Samuel C. Anderson, 942 North Hoyne avenue, failed to give any additional light on the death of her little companion, Grace Hagemann, who was mysteriously shot last May, when arraigned yesterday before Judge Mary Bartelme in the Juvenile court. The hearing was on a petition to have Doris adjudged an incorrigible child.

The little girl told her story straight through, practically the same as she told it at the coroner's inquest, and she made only a few contradictions. At the inquest Doris testified that Grace shot herself.

Enlistment Frees Man Tried on Murder Charge

Judge Kersten of Criminal court gave Joseph Hucker, 19 years old, his liberty yesterday when Attorney Burres presented an affidavit showing Hucker had enlisted in the United States cavalry. The boy was tried last year on a charge of murder, but the jury disagreed, one man holding out for conviction.

McGOVERN DIVE SHUT BY MAYOR; LICENSE SEIZED

After five days of deliberation Mayor Thompson yesterday revoked the saloon, restaurant, and cigaret licenses of McGovern brothers, 661 North Clark street. The saloon and cabaret, which have been wide open for months, were closed last night.

"The vileness of this place," reported Chief of Police Schuettler, "beggars description and it is a menace not only to the neighborhood but to the entire community."

The lid was off, as far as McGovern's was concerned, every night in the week, according to the chief's report. More than twenty women were always on hand to drink with customers, and the entertainers vied with each other in supplying dissolute songs and dances. Boys and girls were welcomed in the cabaret.

June 6—I entered the place and a girl came and asked if I wanted any company. I answered that I did not mind. The waiter came over and she ordered whisky and I ordered beer. She said, "I have seen you some place before, chicken."

June 6—I was approached by a waiter, who immediately ushered me to a vacant table near the entertainment. Found about seven girls entertaining patrons. Whenever a girl was requested by a patron one was furnished by either the waiter or manager. I asked the waiter if he could furnish me with a girl and he assured me he would. Pretty soon two girls came over to my table.

June 7—I visited the place through the bar. While standing at the bar, looking through the door leading to the cabaret, I was constantly beckoned to come in and sit at a table by a waiter, and another man, whom I learned was McGovern, also employed the same tactics. I finally went in and was seated in the rear of the cabaret behind a post. I noticed the patrons and entertainers participating in a vulgar dance.

Youth Says He Was Robbed.

When the place was raided a week ago Saturday night several minors were taken. Sergt. Charles E. Turk reported to the chief. In his communication also was sent the mayor. He said:

"A young man reported to me that he had been robbed of his watch and money by one of the girls in this place. When the raid was made I found five minor boys, one 16 years of age, and the other four between 18 and 19. I also found a number of girls under the age of 21, who claimed it was their first time to enter such a place.

"The entertainers were scantily clad and highly colored. I found an entrance from the cabaret leading back of the bar, out of the sight of the public, to the hotel."

Sergt. James Gleason and Lieut. Charles K. Hertz removed the licenses from the saloon yesterday and closed the door. Last night approximately 250 persons gathered at the door, bemoaning the closing of the place and blaming the McGovern brothers "for killing the north side." McGovern's license was revoked once by Mayor Harrison.

JUNE—HEROINE

Mrs. June Smith Keith Slater

JUNE KEITH, the movie actress, is the heroine of another romance. In an unheralded ceremony she was quietly married yesterday at the home of her father, Douglas Smith, the banker, in Hubbard Woods, to Edwin C. Slater of New York. The Rev. McElveen, pastor of the First Congregational church of Evanston, performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Slater first figured in a romance when she was a schoolgirl in the east. This was an elopement with a college man named Keith, THE TRIBUNE is informed, and did not meet with the approval of Banker Smith and his wife.

Since then—the actress is now 30 years old—she has tried acting in the "legitimate," in movies, her auto has been the target of police bullets in Lake Forest, and she has had a prominent rôle in an auto accident that cost the life of a boy in Evanston.

Girl Playing War Shot in Eye with Air Gun

When Julia Friel, 4 years old, of 4968 Berteau avenue, was captured as a "spy" last night by a troop of "soldiers" commanded by Joseph McDermott, 8 years old, of 4037 North Lawler avenue, to young Joseph fell the duty of executing her. He loaded his airgun and fired. The girl screamed and fell. The father of young McDermott carried Julia to the German hospital, where it was said she will lose the sight of her left eye.

Detective's Bullet Fatal to Young Auto Thief

Kenneth Conway, the 19 year old auto highwayman who was shot by two detectives June 2, died yesterday. He was one of seven men pursued after they had stolen a machine, and which crashed into the curb at Division and La Salle streets. Detectives William Boyd and Charles Walsh gave chase, and fired when the men ran, wounding Conway.

SWEDE POSES AS ENVOY AND GETS AWAY WITH IT

Hotel Keepers Take His Word and Also His Checks.

At the end of his thirty-sixth year Carl G. Frossel of Chicago took an inventory of himself. He had, in addition to a new suit and a blond mustache, a few dollars, a command of Swedish, and a profound dislike for work.

So—

Carl Frossel quit his job and set out to live without working. It was easier than he had anticipated. With the help of 200 calling cards engraved with the name of W. A. F. Ekengren, the Swedish minister at Washington, and a fine hand for check signatures, Frossel crashed into the loop with a raft of new baggage and began putting up at the better hotels.

He Travels Incog.

He would explain to the hotel clerk that for sundry weighty matters he wished to travel incognito. His name, therefore, would be inscribed in the private register, the temperature in the hotel would suddenly jump to 103 degrees from excitement, and the whisper would go forth that his excellency had the sixth floor suite.

Bell boys appeared from all directions whenever the distinguished "envoy" stepped from the elevator. A half dozen clerks smiled warmly when he approached the desk for his mail, and ventured to suggest that it was a pleasant afternoon. Prominent business men loved to be his host at small dinners and to cash his checks.

Frossel went to New York. Here the business of being an envoy was so easy it almost made him homesick. In fact, New York fell so hard that Mr. Frossel is now in the Tombs, that justly celebrated institution.

Flag Brings Swedes.

It was last Saturday. Mr. Frossel entered the Ritz-Carlton and whispered his identity to the clerk. As usual, his name was neatly inscribed on the private register. As usual, he was given the royal suite, and the 25 per cent diplomatic discount. But, the inevitable slip: The clerk forgot that his distinguished guest was incognito and flew out the Swedish flag in front of the hotel. Swedish citizens came flocking. So did the police.

And yesterday Frossel was held in $2,000 bonds in a New York police court for obtaining money under false pretense. With his arrest came the discovery that, by representing himself as the Swedish envoy, he has obtained thousands of dollars in money and valuable articles within a few months. Because of the illness of Minister Ekengren the forgery charges will not be pressed.

Only One Complaint.

There is but one "squawk" against Frossel at the detective bureau, although, according to the New York police, his operations in Chicago may amount to more than $5,000. L. J. Meahl of 1339 Eddy street obtained a warrant for Frossel's arrest, charging him with passing a worthless $50 check.

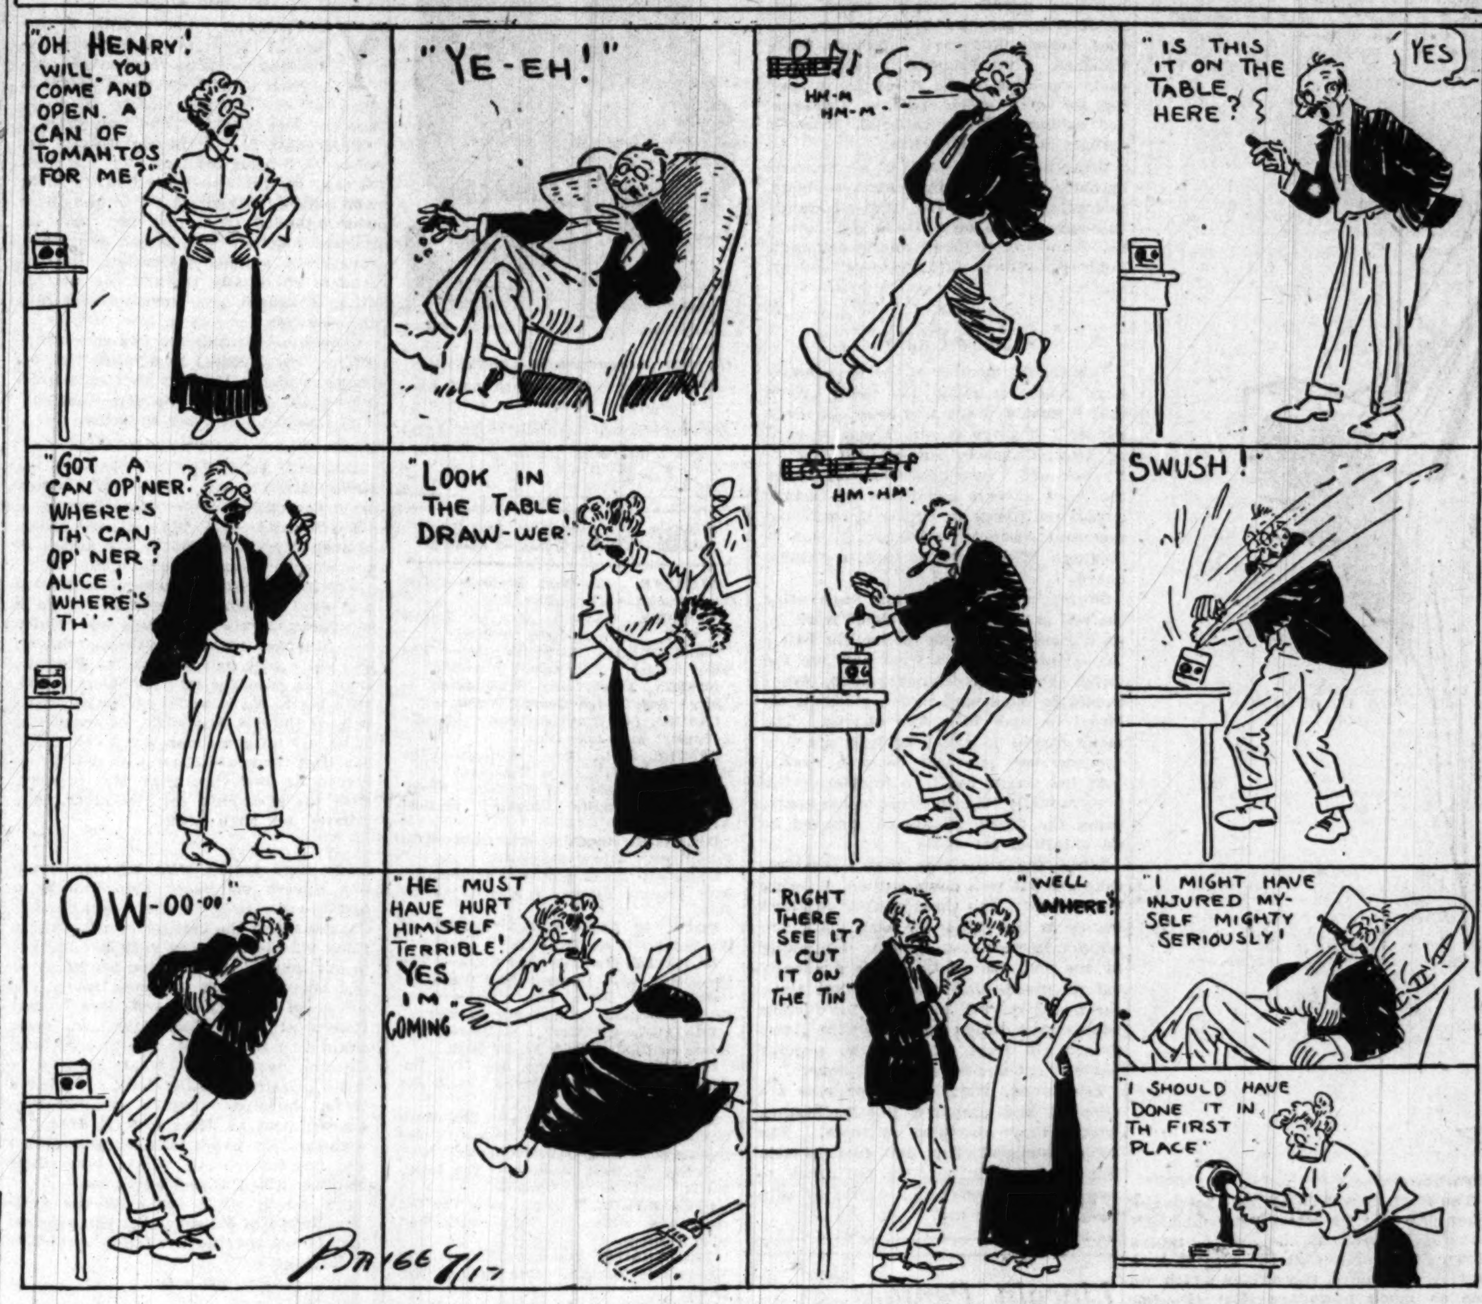
Englishman Ends Life in Home of Thomas Marshall

Richard Hocking, 40 years old, an Englishman, committed suicide yesterday in the residence of Attorney Thomas Marshall, 7000 Perry avenue, by shooting himself in the head with an automatic revolver. Mr. Marshall, who is a member of the law firm of Marshall, Smith & Feindt, 10 South La Salle street, and a cousin of Hocking, said he had been in ill health. Hocking, who was unmarried, lived for the last week at the Marshall residence.

Realty Operator Sued for $25,000 Alienation

Joseph De Vore, real estate operator in the Hartford building, was sued for $25,000 alienation damages yesterday by Frank M. White, who owns a large grocery store in Rockford. De Vore, who is 54 years old, is alleged to have met Mrs. Cassie White in Peoria several weeks ago. It is said they came to Chicago and were arrested on a statutory charge last week.

A HANDY MAN AROUND THE HOUSE



CORONER TO CURB 'JOY RIDING' BY ROADHOUSE CLAN

"Drunks, speed maniacs and joyriders have got to behave themselves on the roads of Cook county," declared Coroner Hoffman last night. "I intend to get some action, from the county board during the coming week, that will give me funds enough to increase the number of motorcycle policemen on duty along the roads to the roadhouses within thirty miles of the city.

"If the county board won't grant the funds I shall ask Chief of Police Schuettler to lend me some men, and Sheriff Traeger to deputize them.

"The latest speeder outrage—the accident of Sunday morning in which Roy Wilson drove his machine with such reckless abandon along the Milwaukee state road north of Niles that four machines were wrecked, one man killed, and several others injured—must not be repeated.

"Conditions along the limits roads are as congested Sundays as is Michigan boulevard. An overwhelming majority of the drivers are sane men, who drive carefully. The small minority, who tear through among these law abiding drivers, endangering lives and property, are the men who must be curbed."

"The safety first commission has two motorcycle men who are on duty along the roads leading into Chicago every day, and without a rest from Saturday morning until Monday morning," said the sheriff. "There should be at least half a dozen more such men, during the summer months at least.

"Speeding should be made an offense with a penitentiary sentence where the recklessness of the driver results in destruction of property or loss of life. The only recourse now, except in loss of life, is a civil suit for damages by the victims. Fines of $5, $10, or even $50, such as the judges now impose, merely give zest to the speeders' game."

It was reported that an effort would be made to get the authorities to shut down the liquor selling in the roadhouses out of the city limits on Sundays—simply as a life saving measure.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

THE TRIBUNE of Tuesday, June 12, told that the Supreme Court of the United States had on Monday annulled Judge Landis' order that the 377 damage claims arising from the Eastland disaster be tried together.

Harry W. Standidge writes that he represents 373 claimants, and that the report in THE TRIBUNE was a misstatement of fact. He says that a copy of the Supreme court opinion was received by him yesterday, and that its purport is this: That the Indiana Transportation Company, charterer of the Eastland at the time of the disaster, was, as defendant, served with a citation in the original suit of the Estate of Earl H. Dawson, a victim; that, later, 372 additional claimants were joined with the Dawson estate, and an amended suit was filed; that, therefore, the defendant could not be proceeded against under the amended suit until served with a citation involving its terms. "The court," adds Mr. Standidge, "did not hold that the libelants must try their cases separately."

The paragraph in THE TRIBUNE was an Associated Press dispatch.

Thursday's table of the weather said the deficiency in temperature [since January 1] for the previous twenty-four hours was 187; Friday's gave the deficiency for the next twenty-four hours as 184. Readers call attention to the normal for both days, 66, and ask how a cool day like Thursday could be marked by decreased deficiency.

The Weather Bureau, which furnished the tables, explains that a mistake by one of its compilers gave 184 for Thursday instead of 200, the deficiency for June 14 since January 1.

However, as numerous readers find fault from day to day with the weather tables, irrespectively of their integrity, this is a good time and place to explain how comparative temperature is computed. There was not necessarily an error in Friday's: the mistake was discovered when THE TRIBUNE asked about it.

Normal for any day [date] is the average temperature for that date through the last forty years. Each new day's average temperature is compiled as the mean of the maximum and minimum for that day, and then compared with the fixed normal. Deficiency [or excess] since January 1 represents in degrees the accumlation from that date.

THIRD DEGREE MEASURE VETO ASKED BY HOYNE

Following a conference with Chief Schuettler yesterday State's Attorney Hoyne last night telegraphed Gov. Lowden a request to veto the alleged third degree bill recently passed by the legislature. Chief Schuettler will take similar action.

Mr. Hoyne asked for a hearing.

"The bill is apparently directed at abuses which never have existed in the police department, at least in present years," Mr. Hoyne said. "It would prevent the authorities from taking aggressive action against criminals and if made a law we might just as well close up shop."

False Imprisonment Alleged in $50,000 Suit

Melville Rothschild and John L. Little of the National Bond and Investment company, were made defendants in a suit for $50,000 damages filed in the Superior court yesterday by John M. Smith, former mayor of Dixon, Tenn. Attorney Charles E. Erbstein brought the action on a charge of false imprisonment.

According to the attorney, Smith was arrested in Honduras last February on complaint of the defendants, who alleged at the time that Smith had embezzled $18,000 from the National Bond and Investment company.

Smith was acquitted yesterday by a jury in the Municipal court. It took ten minutes for the jury to decide Smith was innocent and another hour for Smith to file the suit.

Chicago Attorney Freed on Conspiracy Charges

Cedar Rapids, Ia., June 18.—Indictments against Harold W. Jerka, Chicago attorney, and Doris Byrne and Mahala Reed, local girls, charging conspiracy to obtain $15,000 from Franklin Junkerman, were dismissed today. The state did not oppose the petition asking quashing of the indictment and Judge Ellison ordered them stricken from the records. A jury recently disagreed after sitting in the case for several days.

12—COUNTS—12

That Being the Number of Charges Made by Mrs. J. E. Ingram Against Her Husband.

MRS. BEATRICE E. INGRAM of Glencoe, in filing suit for a divorce against Joseph E. Ingram, an attorney, makes twelve separate charges of cruelty. They were married Aug. 10, 1912, and lived together until May 21 last. The dozen charges she makes are:

He drank intoxicating liquors at all hours.

Threatened her with a gun.

Lighted every light so she couldn't sleep.

Boasted of blackmailing prominent people and threatened her and her attorney if she started suit.

Mrs. Ingram says she deserted her husband when she could stand his cruelty no longer.

Trolley Men Stand Pat on Pay Boost Demands

Union leaders believe Chicago surface lines are able, by reason of their supposed increased profits, to pay higher wages to their employés. That is to be the union stand in present negotiations, it was announced last night by William D. Mahon, international president of the street railway employés' union. Union chiefs will meet with Mr. Busby today.

Cutler Shoe Head Hit by Auto.

Albert J. Metzel, president of the Cutler Shoe company, 125 South State street, was injured yesterday when struck at Madison and Franklin by an automobile driven by M. C. Stanton of 2087 South Park avenue.

BAILIFFS ALL BLITHELY DENY PAYING 'GRAFT'

More Serious Turn to the Gemmill-Cermak Row May Come.

The committee on bailiffs of the Municipal court of Chicago yesterday sat on the triangular wrangle which started last Friday when Judge William N. Gemmill declared there was graft in the office of Chief Bailiff Anton J. Cermak in the form of money which he said bailiffs were forced to pay in order to remain in favor. The statement was later modified by Judge Gemmill when he stated he did not believe Cermak profited personally by the money. Judge John Stelk eased into the controversy as an ally of Cermak.

The committee consists of Judges Stelk, Howard Hayes, and Sheridan E. Fry. With Chief Justice of the Municipal Court Harry Olson presiding, more than 100 of Cermak's bailiffs were quizzed as to whether or not they were asked to or did voluntarily contribute money in connection with their duties other than the 50 cents monthly dues to the Bailiffs' Benevolent asociation.

All Answer "No."

With pleasant unanimity the bailiffs all answered in the negative. Many of them asked to be sworn, but this was not done in view of the fact that Judge Gemmill had retracted in part the statements made Friday which some of his fellow jurists characterize as having been delivered in "the heat of passion and without full cognizance of their import." Concerning the original statements, the doughty chief bailiff has announced that if they were made as quoted he purposed instituting civil suit against the judge.

The quizzing of bailiffs was characterized by Judge Olson as being "not a special investigation, in view of the fact that Judge Gemmill has stated that he does not believe Mr. Cermak has profited personally from the moneys alleged to have been collected."

Feared Fisticuffs.

Judge Gemmill was asked by Judge Olson to be present at the inquisition, to be given an opportunity to aid in the questioning. In a pencil notation on the bottom of the letter Olson sent him asking him to attend Judge Gemmill wrote, "Cannot be there."

Cermak had not been invited. It was feared that if the two men were present at the hearing there might be trouble. Following the Friday meeting Cermak and Gemmill had come into contact, and it required the interference of several judges to prevent a fistic encounter between the two. As it was, Cermak was forced to content himself with calling Gemmill "a liar, a cur, and an ingrate."

Serious Turn Possible.

Following yesterday's session Judge Olson announced the investigation would proceed today with the quizzing of some of the forty-two bailiffs who have been discharged since Cermak's incumbency. It is believed there will be less harmony in the testimony of these men. Should it develop that they should testify to the payment of sums to Isaac Doff, alleged by Judge Gemmill to have been the collector, the investigation will take on a more serious note, but will not, it was said, necessarily prove graft on the part of Cermak personally.

"While I do not want it to appear as an official statement, I would like to say that personally I have high regard for Cermak's ability and honesty," said Judge Olson. "He may be a wet politician, but he is a dry bailiff. He is a sober and two fisted official. I do not believe that his connection with the United Societies intrudes into the administration of his duties as chief bailiff."

Cermak Tenders Books.

Cermak has tendered the books of the benevolent association to the committee on bailiffs for examination to substantiate his full denial of the statements by Judge Gemmill.

"In reply to Judge Gemmill's statement that I am not complying with the requests of judges in reducing my forces," Cermak said, "I will say that he knows so little about the bailiff's office that I question whether he knows the floor in the city hall where it is located."

Judge John Stelk, of whom it was said by Judge Gemmill that he was for years Mr. Cermak's attorney and virtually owed his judgeship to the chief bailiff, tripped verbosely into the mêlée with a statement denying that such was the case, and going one or two better by declaring that Gemmill has wrongly usurped the credit for the motion to economize $50,000 worth in the conduct of the bailiff's office.

"Bernard Shaw of Court."

"A committee was in session night after night in preparing that resolution, and Gemmill didn't even know it was contemplated until the matter was brought up, at which time he leaped to the motion, and has since taken the credit for it," declared Stelk. "Gemmill poses as the unofficial Bernard Shaw of the court—a sort of critic extraordinary in the face of pronounced reactionaryism. As a matter of fact he has opposed nearly everything this court has ever tried to accomplish.

"He lacks that one great requisite for the judicial temperament—he cannot control himself. That fact is demonstrated by the manner in which he has conducted himself in the present issue."

Why Gemmill Won't Appear.

Summing up his attitude to date, Judge Gemmill said yesterday: "So far as my responsibility is concerned, I have never retracted one word of any utterances made by me in public, or before judges, nor do I now. I have no confidence in Judge Stelk as a member of a committee to investigate Mr. Cermak, his political god, and I will not appear before any committee of his.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Crêpe Shantungs are certainly "coming out like thunder outer China 'cross the bay." For summer wear the leading Paris houses are advocating this fabric and it is said that Mme. Paquin has designed for herself a frock of China blue crêpe Shantung set off with touches of machine stitching in cream. The skirt of this frock is, like the others designed by this house, extremely narrow—hardly more than two yards around.

Then, too, Shantung is being widely used in suits, and certainly for our frying American summers there can be no wiser choice.

The frock shown today has chosen the Shantung way of being fashionable. Of natural colored silk, its skirt tapers down from fullness at the hips to that narrow line about the ankles which we see so much nowadays. But the impressive thing about this frock is the new scarflike collar which ties in the back and which is, of course, adorned with machine stitching. The color of this trimming is corbeau blue repeated in the cuff fixings and the whole makes, in connection with that smart lisere hat of black straw with its jungle of burnt ostrich, an extremely smart summer frock for street or restaurant or the afternoon bridge.

The Successful Home Garden

This department will appear daily and Sunday in "The Tribune." Inquiries from readers desiring through neighborhood and back yard gardens to decrease the cost of living should be addressed to The Garden Editor.

BY J. F. H. HEIDE.

SOW NOW—Green and wax pod beans, half-long garden carrots, early corn, cucumbers, summer endive, leek, lettuce, melons, late peas, pumpkins, icicle radishes, New England spinach, and early varieties of the following in seed bed for late "catch crops."; Cabbage, red cabbage, Savoy cabbage, Brussels sprouts, kohlrabi, and kale.

TRANSPLANT NOW — Brussels sprouts, early and midseason cabbage, midseason and late red cabbage, Savoy cabbage, midseason and late cauliflower, self-blanching or green celery, eggplant, kohlrabi, lettuce, okra, peppers, and tomatoes.

Swiss Chard.

This thrifty member of the beet family is so generally useful and easily grown that it should really find space in every garden. If there is only a square yard or two of space, sow it entirely to Swiss chard. t struggles bravely under the most adverse conditions of factory smoke and fumes as well as in congested tenement districts, even though sun is lacking. Where all else fails, try Swiss chard.

Sowing may be done any time after the soil is workable, say about April 15, until June 30; but the earlier, the better the results. If sown from now on, the drills [about three-quarter inch deep] should be filled with water, which is allowed to soak in before sowing. The seeds should be about an inch apart in the row and one foot between rows.

As the plants begin to interfere, they are gradually thinned to six inches apart, using the tender plants so removed as an excellent pot herb.

When the remaining plants mature, they are cut well down without injuring the crowns. The three or four smallest leaves in the center of each plant are left for further development. Beginning at one end, the whole bed is gradually cut as needed for use. By that time, the first part will be ready for further successive cuttings throughout the entire season till frost. Hence the popular name, "cut-and-come-again spinach."

The broad, white stalks or ribs are stripped and prepared like asparagus, which they resemble in taste. The foliage stripped off is used like spinach. Surplus product may be fed fresh to poultry, or preserved by drying or canning for winter use.

Apollo Club Seeks Guarantee.

The membership of the Apollo Musical Club has been circularized by its ways-and-means committee with a view of obtaining the names of public-spirited men and women appreciative of the work and aims of the club, who could reasonably be approached for contributions to a guarantee-fund against future deficits. "As you probably know," the circular says, "no musical organization of the character of the Apollo Club is self-supporting anywhere in this country." E. B. By Mae Tinée.

YESTERDAY, yea, yurrily, I was one of the atoms of the mass attending en masse the services conducted by Mr. Charles Chaplin in most of our motion picture theaters, said services labeled "The Immigrant." Proceeding to the theater nearest the office, such being my lazy way, I started to pass in, but was prevented by those who before me had passed in and those who intended to, before me, pass in. Packed together in a jovial, expectant, constantly moving formation, the intenders effectually blocked the way of other intenders, yea, yurrily, even unto the sidewalk.

Crablike, I backed out and shook myself. "This," said I to myself, "is not, thank goodness, the only theater in town where one may worship Mr. Chaplin." And I went on my way rejoicing.

But, as is the way of life, I rejoiced too soon. Many weary steps had I taken from the office haven before I found a place where I could enter, sit, and enjoy, unpushed and untrodden, the antics of the world's greatest laugh producer.

You have to hand it to him—the man is a genius! When all a gent has to do is to appear merely to set this war ridden old universe rocking with merriment, he's not a gent, he's a scientist. Pasteur, with his cure for hydrophobia; Carrel, with his Nobel prize for operation; Ehrlich, of the 606, and Crile, of anesthetic fame, are all great men, but I venture to say that there are those who will go on record as believing that Mr. Chaplin, with his sure cure for the blues, is a greater one than these.

The time passed with the gentleman this release on board ship and in a restaurant. It is in the steerage that Charles meets the beautiful and unhappy Edna who is traveling with her mother to our land of the free and the home of the brave. (Loud applause when the statue of Liberty heaves into view.) Parted at Ellis island, the two meet again in a restaurant, where, penniless, Charles, nevertheless, treats Edna to a meal. Entrez complications. We leave them, however, buying a marriage license, poor as Job's turkey, drenched with the rain which falls on umbrella-ed and un-umbrella-ed alike, but sillily blissful—which is as we like 'em.

It's worth while for even the anti-Chaplinists to attend a Chaplin release, just to see the fun the fellow next him is having!

COMMENT

Goldwyn Pictures corporation announces the opening of an office in Chicago for the distribution of Goldwyn pictures. The location will be at 110 South State street and F. M. Brockell is the slated manager.

Mrs. Margaret Talmadge, mother of the sisters Norma and Constance, bought Liberty bonds to the amount of $10,000.

Following "Wild and Woolly," Douglas Fairbanks' coming release will be "The Optimist," in which, judging from the title, the famous smile is apt to be worked overtime.

Bright Sayings of the Children

"I been," gulped Donald, "I been washin' the hose!" M. C.

Frances Elsie came over to visit us the other day, and, having heard her mother was not well, we asked what the trouble was. The youngster replied: "Why, she sat on the cold stone steps and attracted rheumatism."

W. SPINE, 2329 West Madison street.

Mary was visiting in the country and had been stung by a bee. She didn't seem to mind the pain so much, but she had a sensitive disposition. She ran sobbing to her mother and said, "I don't see what he did it for, 'cause I hadn't done a thing to him."

Fresh Air Is First Essential to Rosy Cheeks

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

If you missed the Antoinette Donnelly series telling how she reduced Mrs. Eva Lane thirty-six pounds in six weeks, or how she added twenty pounds in five weeks to Miss Helene Barnett's weight, or how she corrected a head of dry, thin, falling hair and an oily scalp with dandruff, or the article on treating Miss Hill's complexion for pimples and blackheads, send a stamped, addressed envelope and the information will be mailed to you. Any other questions pertaining to beauty and hygiene will be gladly answered.

ELLA: IF YOU LIVE IN A part of the city where the air is bad you undoubtedly have the explanation for your colorless cheeks, because good fresh air is the first essential to a rosy, clear complexion. Isn't it possible for you to walk in the evening out and away from the depressing neighborhood in which you say you live? You ought to make the effort, even at a sacrifice, to walk three or four miles every night. Then in most communities there are opportunities for swimming. Go in for this. Eat foods that are fresh and wholesome. Let me send you a list of the foods and some hygienic living principles that go into the making of good blood. Send me a stamped, addressed envelope. It is too long to print here.

MRS. M. E B: I AM AWFULLY GLAD to learn of your successful reduction of nineteen pounds, following my instructions. If I were you I would take just one exercise from each of the groups of exercises contained in the instructions I sent you and I would suggest that you take the simplest one from each group and practice these for ten minutes every morning and every evening, and of course you want to keep up the walking, also keep an eye to your diet. That ought to keep you in trim. Thank you for your compliments and I hope I'll hear from you again soon.

Washington and Cream Pie.

FOR a great many years, and possibly today in some localities, a good sized tin plate with a straight up rim was called a Washington pie tin. Today we call these plates layer cake tins, or we might call them torte tins.

It has recently been maintained that a Washington pie was a cake baked in such a tin and filled with a cooked custard (cream is the more general word). After giving a recipe for "cream pies," which was the name for these cream filled cakes in Maine a generation ago, Miss Parloa gives right after the recipe one for "Washington pies," or rather this statement: "Make the outside the same as for cream pies, and fill with any kind of jelly or jam you choose."

Probably Miss Parloa in her day set the standard in such things for all New England, if not for a much larger area. It was jelly that made the Washington pie, and a combination one cannot heartily recommend today.

One simple layer cut in two and filled with a cooked cream is a most agreeable and simple dessert, and contains a good many more food units than most deserts of equal bulk. One formula is: One tablespoon of butter, four tablespoons of sugar, one egg, one-half cup of water, one and a fourth cups of flour, one teaspoon of baking powder.

Bake, and when it is nearly cool split it with a hot knife and put in the following cooked cream: From two to four tablespoons of flour, according to thickness desired, or two level tablespoons of cornstarch blended with a tablespoon of soft butter. Put on the stove with one and a fourth cups of milk and four tablespoons of sugar. Stir all the time until it thickens and is well cooked, then with the fire low stir in one well beaten egg, a pinch of salt, cook a minute, and add a teaspoon of vanila. Put in cake when partly cooled. A newer fashion is to serve with whipped cream over the top.

Real Love Stories

She Ran Away.

SHE was a country girl, pleasant to look upon, who came to the city for employment. In passing to and from her work she often noticed a handsome man in the main office, and in time it happened that she was transferred to his department. Notwithstanding the fact that he was married, there developed a feeling neither could master, and, realizing how futile it was, she resigned, packed her things, and went away, giving him no hint of her destination.

Four years later, while taking dictation, she was surprised by her employer's dictating a letter to The Man wishing him success in a business venture. She supplemented the letter with a few words of "wished for prosperity," and speedily received a wire of appreciation and a lengthy communication. His wife had died, he wrote, and for a long time he had been trying to find trace of the girl who had slipped away.

"The Tribune" will pay $5 for every real love story published. If you know one, submit it, and write no more than 300 words. Address Doris Blake, "The Tribune," Chicago. No manuscripts returned. If you have a perplexing love affair upon which you need the counsel of a friend, write Doris Blake. Send stamped, addressed envelope if you wish personal reply.

Sixteen Far Too Young.

"Dear Miss Blake: How old is the average girl when she marries? Is 17 too young? Is it wrong to talk seriously about marriage with a boy if the girl is 16 and the boy 16? ROSIE."

If I remember correctly, statistics have it that the average age of marriage for girls is between 21 and 25. However, in recent years the percentage of women marrying between 25 and 30, and even up to 32 and 33, has increased tremendously.

Why talk seriously at 16 about marrying? Why not talk about lighter things? Not until you are 20 should the serious problems of life, such as marriage, trouble your young heads.

Lincoln Pennies Sent to Inspire Youth of France

"MAY you grow like the great Lincoln, whose likeness I send you."

These words, written on a bit of paper in which a shiny Lincoln penny is wrapped, are being sent in the pockets of each one of a hundred little garments made for French boys and girls whose families have been impoverished by the war. The garments, blouses and trousers and pinafores, were received yesterday at the French war shop, at 60 East Washington street, from Miss M. W. Vernon, and are to be forwarded at once with a consignment of much needed sheets and pillow cases to the offices of the American fund for French wounded in Paris.

One of the most urgent appeals received recently by Mrs. Russell Tyson, who is in charge of the shop, asks for flour, as many districts are calling in vain for bread. It is the suggestion of Mrs. Tyson that a "flour fund" be started to raise money for the purpose of relieving the sufferers.

Among those who were at the war shop yesterday were Mrs. William E. Clarke, Mrs. A. A. Small, Mrs. Benjamin Carpenter, Mrs. R. R. McCormick, Mrs. Dana Corbin, Miss Marie J. Rozet, Mrs. Keith Spalding, and Mrs. Rudolph Holmes. Col. W. J. Nicholson was a visitor during the afternoon.

Mountains Call Many Families for Summer Rest

To hear the stories that the winter ...ern debutantes and the busy matrons tell about the healing wonders of vacationing out in some beautiful mountainous wilderness of the ... impresses one with the wisdom of ... new "human conservation" movement that is being regarded as a part of the general trend toward laying up ... of strength against a time of need. ... week new groups are leaving for ... mountains of the west to spend long ... in the wild and lovely districts ... are just being opened up and are ... kept in their original state.

... of the places popular among ... who say they love the quiet of ... mountains and the rest in the wilderness is the Big Horn mountain district, in northeastern Wyoming.

One of the first to "discover" this region was Mrs. Potter Palmer, who went out there two or three years ago and brought back wonderful tales of the beauty of the country. Others who have been on various ranches where the city "dudes" (a technical mountaineers' term for any of us who come from the towns) ride and fish and motor over mountain roads are Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Letts and their family, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elting, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Agar, Mrs. Harry Gordon Selfridge and her children, and Mrs. Edward Morris. Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Graham and their son of 600 Barry avenue will leave on Friday for the Big Horn mountains.

What little boy or girl wants to drive a gentle, devoted Labrador dog who has a harness in which he pulls behind him a little cart? The dog has just come from Canada, and is of distinguished pedigree, being cousin to one of the dogs which Dr. Grenfell, the Labrador explorer-missionary, drove on his long missions in the north. Mrs. J. Ellsworth Gross of 3800 South Michigan avenue has recently received the dog and cart from a friend in Canada, and will sell him for war relief funds to some child who will appreciate him and treat him well. He is said to be accustomed to children.

NOTES OF THE CLUBS

The National American Woman Suffrage association has decided that at present, picketing is de trop, and has gone in for canning. "Save the family jars and join the suffrage preserve corps," is the latest slogan of the association. Mrs. Walter McNab Miller, chairman of the suffrage thrift committee, has sent a letter to state chairmen of like committees regarding the shortage of glass jars and other containers. She advocates "concentration camps" for containers, where they may be redistributed to those in need.

Miss Harriet Vittum, director of the woman's committee, council of defense; Mrs. Moses L. Purvin of the Woman's City club, and other representatives of women's organizations discussed various forms of amusement and entertainment for soldiers in camp. Charles Weller, who is employed by the war department to look after this side of camp life, urged that the women open their homes to the soldiers for week-end visits. It was also suggested that various men's clubs in the city which have swimming pools extend the hospitality of the pools to the soldiers.

Budget System for Red Cross.

Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross, in fixing allowances for Chicago families left dependent by the soldiers, sailors, and others called by the government for war service, will use the maximum budget system of the United Charities.

Here's the Story of Youngest Hero in City

BY CINDERELLA.

All the world loves a hero, specially these days. And this is about the youngest one in Chicago, and named Robert Franklin Hood.

One day last week things were going along about as usual at the St. Luke's-Michael Reese base hospital unit, 77 East Washington street. Women were breathing hard over the making of gauze dressings at the green topped tables, others with corrugated brow were cramming for forthcoming exams in surgical dressings, and still others were teaching in nursy caps and long sleeved aprons.

Mrs. A. P. Knight, the doorkeeper, was at her table by the door when it opened and in came a lady with the hero. His eyes came to the top of Mrs. Knight's table and they were shining and wistful. The lady asked if Red Cross memberships might be bought there, and then said her little boy wished exceedingly to become a member.

The doorkeeper, Mrs. Knight, is a very pretty and a very charming southerner, with an only son in the officers' reserve at Fort Sheridan. So she was delighted at this evidence of precocious patriotism. But wait. The little boy produced pennies, pennies, pennies, and then more pennies.

"You see," said the mother, "my boy earned this money by doing a hundred things—errands, scrubbing steps, sweeping the walk, wiping dishes—anything to earn the money for the Red Cross."

P'raps that didn't make a sensation and a hit with Mrs. Knight and also with Mrs. Edward F. Carry, who was teaching surgical dressings that morning.

The first thing Robert Hood knew he was standing on a table, and such a very pretty person called Mrs. Carry was making a little speech about him and his hundred errands. Now all the Red Cross workers gave three hearty feminine cheers, and hurrahs and things, and then Chicago's youngest hero walked modestly away.

And these Boy Scouts, how wonderful they are! All along the north shore last week little figures in khaki were canvassing every house in every lovely suburb with notebooks to see who had and who hadn't Liberty loan.

Gone forever is the old fashioned boy, who broke windows, and ate "all day suckers," and kicked the family cat.

They say the Boy Scouts of France are perfect wonders too. They are seen in great numbers, mornings now, in the Bois in Paris; little black eyed curly headed chaps ranging from 7 to 10 years. Some of the older Boy Scouts have even done duty inside the battle lines.

When Roland Harriman, younger son of Mrs. Edward Harriman was married in New York the other day to Miss Gladys Fries, the ceremony took place at St. Bartholomews. And what do you 'spose they had for an awning? An American flag, a very big one. They say it made a wonderful effect on the façade of this handsome church. New York is still uproariously patriotic. So much so that you can hardly eat for rising up to the strains of "My Country" and "The Star Spangled Banner." If it keeps up, all this enthusiasm, they'll be demanding lunch counters at the Ritz and Plaza.

Substitute Foods to Save Wheat Urged by Hoover

In response to the latest word from Herbert C. Hoover in regard to thrift in foods, the Illinois division of the woman's committee announced yesterday that the finished registration card on which women all over the state will be asked to sign for service will contain the food conservation pledge requested by Mr. Hoover.

At the registration office, 60 East Madison street, the conservation department had a showing yesterday of window cards telling what to eat for energy in place of wheat, of which, according to Mr. Hoover, we must be most careful. The following list of foods will give the same amount of energy as a slice and a half of wheat flour bread: One apple, one egg, one and one-tenth ounces of dates, thirteen double peanuts, three teaspoonfuls of sugar, three tablespoons of cornmeal, and two tablespoonfuls of uncooked rice.

The speakers' department of the committee, which has issued a call for volunteers, received word during the day that Mrs. Lambert O. Wile is to establish an extension lecture bureau in the headquarters at 120 West Adams street. One of the first extension bureau lectures is to be one by Henry B. Ward of the University of Illinois bureau of fishery. Mrs. Medill McCormick is another speaker for the woman's committee. She will address a meeting of 500 women in Rochelle, Ill., on Friday.

The "home defense pudding" recipes have come in in such numbers that it will be impossible to make the award for several days, it is announced. The pudding must be tested and tasted to be sure to get the very best one. An efficient corps of pudding tasters will meet at the School of Domestic Sciences tomorrow.

The woman's section of the Navy league is issuing a call for fifty blankets for boys from the Great Lakes Naval station who have just been placed on the training ship Commodore, now anchored off Grant park. It seems that when the last contingent of finished jackies left the training ship they took their bedding with them, and the young apprentices have been finding it rather cold at nights. They have been supplied with kits by the young women of the Navy league, who, on Saturday, in addition to work for the marines leaving that night, got the emergency drivers together and rushed over to the Commodore kits for all on board. But the blankets are yet to be supplied. The emergency drivers will do their part in delivering them.

So generous has been the response to the plea for a Red Cross ambulance in the name of the college women of Chicago that the fund is oversubscribed. A committee consisting of Mrs. Annie P. Kenny [Wellesley], Mrs. P. S. Peterson [Mount Holyoke], Mrs. J. B. Burton [Oberlin], has turned over to Chauncey McCormick the sum of $1,600 for the ambulance, but college women are urged to continue their contributions, which will go either for a second ambulance or for the benefit of the general ambulance fund.

A junior Red Cross department is to be formed at the College club under the chairmanship of Mrs. Archibald Cattell, 5474 Hyde Park boulevard. Students returning from college are to be guests of honor at the Friday tea in the club rooms. All college girls, daughters of members, and their friends are invited to come to the club and assist in perfecting the new organization.

Itching Rash All Over Face
Was a sight. So bad could not shave. Skin very red and sore. Some nights did not sleep on account of itching. Used a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Ointment and was completely healed.
From signed statement of Wm. Kniering, 6310 Cottage Grove, Chicago, Ill., Sept. 29, 1916.
Cuticura Soap, to cleanse, purify and beautify, Cuticura Ointment to soften, soothe and heal, have been most successful in the severest forms of skin and scalp troubles, but greater still is what they have done in preserving clear skins, clean scalps, and good hair as well as in preventing little skin troubles becoming great ones. This has been brought about by using no other soap for toilet purposes than Cuticura. It is ideal for the complexion because so delicate, creamy and fragrant.

Wheat prices broke sharply yesterday, resting spots showing net declines of 10⅜@10½c. There was rather liberal selling by houses with seaboard connections, while the demand was light and scattered. The weakening of cash wheat and the fact that a car of new No. 2 red wheat at St. Louis sold at $2.40, about 50c under the old wheat figure, together with the excellent crop and weather advices, all served to create bearish sentiment. Spring wheat is now making rapid progress under the favorable weather conditions, while the hot and dry weather in the southwest is ideal for the harvest work there. Texas is offering new wheat freely. Selling was led by Knight-McDougal, Lewis, Clement-Curtis, and Jackson Bros.

Cash wheat here was dull, and several cars of No. 2 red failed to draw a bid. No shipping sales were reported. Clearances for the day were 716,000 bu, against 765,000 bu a year ago. Primary receipts totaled 696,000 bu, against 1,155,000 bu last year. The visible supply decreased 3,716,000 bu for the week, while Canadian stocks decreased 2,543,000 bu. North America shipped 9,755,000 bu wheat last week, against 10,736,000 bu a year ago. Australian shipments were liberal at 1,976,000 bu.

Late Reaction in Corn.

Corn rallied sharply from an early break, but fell back again later and closed 1@2¼c lower. December was relatively weakest because of favorable weather conditions, while seaboard houses were free buyers of the old crop months. The weather map, showing warm and dry weather over most of the corn belt, caused heavy selling of corn at the outset. Commission houses absorbed the offerings and prices took a quick turn upward and ran in many of the shorts. Jackson Bros., Wagner, Bartlett-Frazier, Lewis, Harris-Winthrop, and Mincer were best buyers. Late selling was influenced by the break in wheat and good weather outlook.

Cash corn ruled unchanged to 1½c lower, with local shipping sales 40,000 bu, including 25,000 bu to the seaboard.

Oats Market in Decline.

Oats finished 1@1½c lower, with July relatively weakest. Latter was sold freely by the Armour concern, which in turn bought the September. There was early buying of July oats by export houses. Prices started out weaker, with corn, and later rallied on good commission house buying. Cash oats were ½@2c lower, with local shipping sales 30,000 bu. Some export business was reported at the seaboard. Clearances for the day were 765,000 bu. Primary receipts totaled 963,000 bu, against 859,000 bu a year ago.

Provisions were irregular at the close. Pork finished higher, lard lower, and ribs steady to a shade easier. Trade was moderate, with some increase in outside demand for meats. Western markets received 98,950 hogs, against 132,560 a year ago. Lard exports last week totaled 1,696,000 lbs, against 9,740,000 lbs a year ago, while bacon exports were 8,480,000 lbs, against 11,408,000 lbs last year.

Weak Market for Rye.

Rye was quiet and easy. No. 2 closed at $2.40@2.42 nominal. Receipts were six cars.

Barley firm for good grades. Malting sold at $1.26@1.42, feed and mixing at $1.10@1.22 and screenings at 60c@$1. Malting was quotable at $1.25@1.48, feed and mixing $1.10@1.26 and screenings 50c@$1. Receipts were 28 cars.

Timothy steady. September, $8.50 bid and $8.60 asked. Country lots, $4@7.75 nominal, with sales at $5.75@6.25. Clover quiet; contract prime, $18.15 nominal. Country lots, $12@17 for poor to choice.

Flax market was lower, with cash quotable at $3.16@3.18. Duluth closed 2@3c lower, Minneapolis, 1@4c lower and Winnipeg, 1@3½c lower.

GOSSIP OF THE BOARD OF TRADE

FARMERS are beginning to realize the necessity of grain exchanges in the merchandising of wheat. The southwest is already clamoring for the removal of trading restrictions in the wheat markets of the country, finding it impossible to interest buyers at anywhere near present prices. Indiana farmers are wanting to sell wheat for forward delivery, but as dealers are unable to buy wheat with the usual hedging provisions, there is little demand. Oklahoma wheat is being cut and thrashing will start this week, and in Texas the wheat is about all cut. Millers are under the same handicap as country dealers and cash houses generally are not trying to buy new wheat, as they are unable to hedge under present conditions without driving prices down for futures. Exporters being unable to buy futures are also handicapped. With the new crop beginning to move the situation is more serious than a few weeks ago, when there was practically no hedging pressure. Consequently the demand is becoming more urgent for the removal of restrictions on buying.

Wheat prices had the biggest break yesterday they have suffered in a long time. Winnipeg started the decline, breaking about 10c, and this decline was followed by pronounced weakness at Minneapolis. Attempts to sell wheat at Chicago developed a scarcity of buying orders and closing prices here were 10⅜@10½c lower. St. Louis was off 10@11c, Kansas City 10@14c, and Minneapolis 9½@15c. In all markets buying is restricted to closing old sales, and it was said there was an increasing pressure of hedging sales which put an additional weight on the market. Fear of drastic food control regulations also was a factor.

Canadian visible supply of wheat this week decreased 2,543,000 bu, while oats increased 1,353,000 bu and barley decreased 380,000 bu. Comparative totals follow:

	This Week	Last Week	Last Year
Wheat	10,384,000	12,927,000	25,002,000
Oats	16,902,000	15,549,000	11,148,000
Barley	1,006,000	1,386,000	1,188,000

Visible supply of wheat in the United States this week decreased 3,716,000 bu, while corn increased 713,000 bu. Oats decreased 2,897,000 bu; rye, 60,000 bu, and barley 126,000 bu. Comparative totals follow:

	This Week	Last Week	Last Year
Wheat	20,142,000	23,858,000	51,223,000
Corn	3,437,000	2,724,000	10,127,000
Oats	13,793,000	16,690,000	14,536,000
Rye	523,000	583,000	561,000
Barley	1,436,000	1,562,000	1,965,000

It appears to be the opinion of leaders in the trade here that trading in wheat will be permitted as soon as the hedging pressure becomes heavy enough to give the market a balance wheel. The accumulation of stocks is expected to be slow if the demand from mills for the first run comes up to expectations, but with more wheat available it is possible some of the restrictions may be removed within a week or so.

World's shipments of wheat this week totaled 12,762,000 bu, an increase of 1,288,000 bu, and compared with exports of 15,112,000 bu a year ago. Corn shipments decreased 185,000 bu and totaled 1,876,000 bu, compared with 3,612,000 bu a year ago. Oats shipments totaled only 2,868,000 bu, compared with 4,680,000 bu last week and 4,500,000 year ago.

The first car of new No. 2 red winter wheat was received at St. Louis yesterday. The wheat tested 59 lbs and was of good quality. It sold at auction at $2.40 per bu, an unusually low price for a first car of wheat in view of the high premiums for old wheat. St. Louis quoted old No. 2 hard there yesterday at $2.85@2.92.

B. A. Eckhart has been requested by Herbert C. Hoover to act with other leading millers of the country in an advisory capacity in helping to supervise the food control regulatons that are expected to be put in operation soon. Mr. Eckhart will go to Washington this week to confer with Mr. Hoover.

Cash sales yesterday were 40,000 bu corn and 30,000 bu oats. Export brokers here said there was practically no demand from the seaboard for oats, while some of the buyers of last week were trying to resell. The corn demand was moderate.

As the result of the break in wheat prices a further decline is expected in flour prices. It is understood northwestern mills are making strong efforts to unload present stocks of flour.

Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 215,000 bu for two days.

Bunte Brothers.

S. M. G.—The Bunte Bros. have been in business as a corporation for thirteen years and reports of sales show a steady increase. Last year net profits of $144,543 were reported on sales of $2,360,736. The balance sheet of Jan. 1 showed $230,000 of stock outstanding and nearly $5 of net assets to each dollar of stock. Now a new company with $2,000,000 of stock has taken over the business and part of the new stock is offered to the public. How much stock has been issued in exchange for the old shares is not stated, and there is, therefore, no way to tell just how much water there is in the new capitalization. The value of the new stock depends on future earnings. The earnings of 1916 figure out at a little more than 7 per cent on the new common stock.

Kansas City Railways.

Mr. I. B.—The Kansas City Railways company operates under a contract franchise which gives its bonds a good margin of security as to principal. The latest available complete report is that for the year ended May 31, 1916. Gross earnings were $7,065,941; net, after taxes, $2,466,373. There are $14,150,200 of first mortgage bonds outstanding and $13,213,000 of junior bonds and notes. Evidently the interest on the first mortgage bonds was covered more than three times. These bonds are well secured. If you want an investment that has a value of 100 per cent all the time, buy a good farm mortgage. It may not be convertible into cash at short notice, but will not be quoted below par.

All-Package Grocery.

S. W. G.—The All-Package Grocery company is establishing a system of chain stores to sell products which the company itself puts up in standard packages. Up to June 1 last it had opened 149 stores in New York and Chicago and reported sales at the rate of $3,000,000 a year. No report of profits is furnished. The authorized capital is $5,000,000 preferred and $20,000,000 common. The balance sheet of April 30 showed $1,359,150 of preferred stock outstanding and net tangible assets of 55 cents for each dollar of that amount. Evidently this stock must depend for value on future growth and earnings.

Victor Motor.

H. B. B., Peoria, Ill.—The Victor Motor company has not replied to requests for information. Its circulars announce that it is selling $2,000,000 of stock at par. On the basis of the circulars this stock is a speculation. When the shares of the old motor companies that pay 10 per cent dividends are selling at a large discount the stock of a new concern is not worth par.

Brief Answers.

C. H. M.—Penn Wyoming Oil stock is traded in on the New York curb. The company has leases on 80,000 acres of lands and is said to be producing 3,900 barrels a day. It recently bought a refinery at Houston, Tex., having a capacity of 2,000 barrels a day. The first quarterly dividend of 5 per cent will be paid Aug. 1. The stock is a speculation, not an investment.

J. L. P.—Requests sent to the Century Auto Cycle company and the First Mortgage and Bond company for official information have brought no results. Circulars issued from the office of the concerns give the impression that the auto stock is purely speculative.

S. J. K.—The National Acme company is paying quarterly dividends at the rate of 6 per cent a year. No detailed information is available. This company was reviewed recently.

F. D. N.—The Missouri, Kansas and Texas gave notice about May 15 that the interest which matured Dec. 1, 1916, on its first 4s would be paid on and after May 31, and that interest due June 1 would be deferred.

LOWDEN BEGINS STUDY OF WORK

Springfield, Ill., June 18.—[Special.]—Governor Lowden is ready to buckle down to the job of examining more than 300 bills. The only measure that was approved by the governor today was the Chicago playgrounds bill. This will work out, it is claimed, so that between 40 and 50 additional playground sites may be obtained by the city of Chicago working through the board of education.

Gov. Lowden said he would examine closely each bill as it comes to him. Hearings have been asked upon many, it is learned, and over some of them there will be hot fights.

The appropriation bills will be the last to reach final disposition. In their scrutiny he will have the assistance of his new cabinet of nine members.

Conklin Pen Company Assigned.

Toledo, O., June 18.—A deed of assignment was filed today in Probate court by the Conklin Pen company, one of the largest manufacturers of fountain pens in the United States. F. Mitchell, vice president of a local bank, is named as assignee.

OILS.

In wood barrels: Perfection, 12c; headlight, 15c; summer black oil, 10c; winter black oil, 10½c; V. M. P. naphtha, 19½c; Red Crown gasoline, 20c. Turpentine, 49c. Linseed oil, raw, $1.23; boiled, $1.24.

NEW YORK, June 18.—COTTONSEED OIL—Prime crude, $14.53 nominal; prime summer yellow, spot and June, $16.30; July, $16.45; August, $16.38; September, $16.38; October, $16.28; November, $16.05; December and January, $15.94.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Cotton goods prices advanced still higher today. Raw silk was higher. Dress goods were in light demand, but high.

Commissioner Clements of Commerce Body Dead

Washington, D. C., June 18.—Commissioner Judson C. Clements of the interstate commerce commission died here today. Commissioner Clements had served on the rate making body since 1892 and once had been chairman. He was 60 years old, a native of Georgia, and before going on the commission had served five terms in congress, representing the district of which his home, Rome, Ga., was the center. He was a Democrat, first appointed by President Cleveland, but was reappointed by President Taft and again by President Wilson.

SAVE DAD'S LIFE GET IT FOR HIM

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a small bottle of freezone." This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet.

A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn should relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, can be lifted out with the fingers without pain.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati concern. It says that freezone dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

Don't let father die of infection or lockjaw from whittling at his corns, but cut this out and make him try it.

Total sales of stocks, 785,000 shares.
Total sales of bonds (par value), $1,675,000.

New York, June 18.—With bank reserves at the lowest level of the year and a concurrent 6 per cent call money rate, today's stock market continued its recent irregular to heavy course. Lowest prices were established in the last hour on reports that the administration had forced a drastic cut in prices of fabricated steel for government contracts.

The entire steel group and allied industrials were under pressure almost from the outset. United States Steel made an extreme decline of 3⅜ points. Bethlehem Steel new shares were more adversely affected, recording a gross reversal of 7½, and numerous equipments comprising the various war divisions were lower by 2 to 6 points.

Shippings sold off in common with the general list, and metals, oils, Central Leather, and sugars suffered impairment of 2 to 3 points.

Motors' Advances Wiped Out.

During the morning pool activity was observed in motors and affiliated issues, but all the advances in that quarter were speedily wiped out. Savage Arms at one time showed a gain of more than 3 points at the new maximum of 108, but closed with a net loss of 3¼ points.

Rails dragged throughout the session, except for temporary advances in Delaware and Hudson and Norfolk and Western.

The improvement reported in the Russian situation imparted some firmness to rubles and Russian bonds, but remittances to Rome were increasingly heavy. Sterling and francs showed no material change, and the resumption of gold imports for British account confirmed recent forecasts.

Bonds were fractionally lower, including internationals, which made up a large part of the day's restricted operations. United States old issues were unchanged. Full lots of the Liberty issue changed hands at par, some odd lots advancing to 100 5-50.

Mercantile paper, 5. Sterling sixty day bills, 4.72. Commercial sixty day bills on banks, 4.71¾. Commercial sixty day bills, 4.71½; demand, 4.75⅝; cables, 4.76 7-16. Francs, demand, 5.75¼; cables, 5.74½. Guilders, demand, 41¼; cables, 41 5-16. Lire, demand, 7.18; cables, 7.17. Rubles, demand, 23¼; cables, 23⅛. Bar silver, 77⅞. Mexican dollars, 60⅝. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds easy. Time loans easier; sixty and ninety days, 5½ bid; six months, 5@5½. Call money strong; high, 6; low, 5; ruling rate, 6; last loan, 5; closing bid, 4½; offered at 5.

SHERMAN HITS OPTION TAX IN REVENUE BILL

Washington, D. C., June 18.—[Special.]—The provisions in the war revenue bill taxing grain "options" on grain exchanges and taxing "scratch sales" or transfer sales were vigorously criticised by Senator Sherman of Illinois when he appeared before the senate finance committee today to urge the adoption of amendments to the bill.

Senator Sherman said that the bill as it now stands taxes the value of the grain covered by the option. This, he contended, was unfair, since a tax on the value of the grain would be imposed when the actual delivery of the grain was made. This meant, he said, that the same transaction would be taxed twice. He urged the committee to amend the bill so that only the option price be taxed.

Senator Sherman estimated that it would cost the exchange in Chicago $5,000,000 in twelve months to do business under the present provisions of the bill.

ON THE BROAD STREET CURB

NEW YORK, June 18.—[Special.]—Washington advices indicating that aircraft will be adopted as the most prominent feature of the nation's military program made all the stocks in that group active and strong. Wright-Marten Aircraft, which sold on Friday around 5½ and advanced to 8 on Saturday, opened with sales at 9@10½, and later transactions were made ranging from 8⅞ to 9⅛, total sales for the day amounting to over 50,000 shares. Curtiss Aeroplane was traded in at 44@44½.

Maxim Munitions and Aetna Explosives also were in demand at advances. United Motor was in better demand than has been noted for some time. Stewart Mining was influenced by the advance in silver to 78⅞, as well as by the favorable statements by General Manager Beaudry, with western houses the heaviest buyers of the stock during the greater part of the day. Magnate continued steady, with sales at 15@16. Butte Copper and Zinc sold at 12@11⅝ and Magma sold at 45.

Transportation

EVERY business man, manufacturer, farmer, shipper, investor, savings depositor, life insurance holder, is directly concerned in railroad transportation.

The value and importance of the railroads to the entire country in war or peace make their welfare at all times a matter of the greatest consequence.

The questions of efficient regulation and fair compensation are of paramount importance. The public interest demands the maintenance of railroad credit in order to insure service adequate to the needs of commerce and industry.

A better understanding of these questions, and co-operation among the many interests involved will help to solve these problems.

We have prepared an analysis of the railroad situation, outlining its problems and their possible solution, which we shall be glad to send upon request.

BANKERS URGE ALLOTTING ALL LIBERTY BONDS

La Salle Street Believes Oversubscriptions Should Be Kept.

It is believed in La Salle street that important banking interests of the country will approve the idea of the secretary of the treasury retaining the $900,000,000 or more oversubscriptions to the Liberty bond and later on issuing the additional bonds instead of cutting down the allotments to the $2,000,000,000 mark.

The subscribers wanted the bonds or they would not have asked for them, and it would be only meeting their wishes to fill the subscriptions. It cost extraordinary effort on the part of banks, bond houses, firms, and even individuals to stir the enthusiasm which resulted in the big subscription.

To retain oversubscriptions and issue the bonds later in the year would render unnecessary making a fresh loan. It would to a great extent smooth the money situation, since preparations have been made to buy the bonds.

Banks Oppose It.

The banks, however, do not think it advisable to call for payment for the entire $2,900,000,000. The argument is that $2,000,000,000 is an extraordinary sum to be paid in the next two and one-half months. With the oversubscription it is thought that if payment on it were deferred until probably October the year could be rounded out with, in effect, the raising of $3,000,000,000 by bonds.

Among Chicago bankers who favor the secretary of the treasury filling all subscriptions are George M. Reynolds and John J. Mitchell. Mr. Reynolds said:

"Now that the secretary of the treasury has the money, or rather the applications for the bonds, I believe it would be good policy to award $2,000,000,000 in accordance with the terms of the subscription and notify the subscribers to the remaining $900,000,000 or more that they would be allotted bonds but payment not be asked until after the subscriptions to the $2,000,000,000 are out of the way.

Time to Adjust Themselves.

"I would like to see the entire allotment made, but it would work an unnecessary strain on the banks to make payment for roundly $3,000,000,000 at this time. There will be due on the $2,000,000,000 18 per cent June 28, 20 per cent July 28, and 60 per cent in August. With an intermission of a month or two the remaining $900,000,000 of bonds could be paid for in one or two installments. It would give the banks time to adjust themselves, and there will be necessity for such adjustment. But now that the treasury has the subscriptions let it hold them."

Urges Period of Rest.

John J. Mitchell, president of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank, said:

"I believe the secretary of the treasury should allot bonds to all who subscribed for them. This would mean satisfying the oversubscription of nearly $1,000,000,000. Then let us have a period of rest until next year. It has taken a big effort to get this subscription, and the treasury department should issue all the bonds subscribed for."

Savings Deposit Subscriptions.

Some of the local banks have figured out the percentage of savings deposits subscribed toward the Liberty loan. It appears that savings subscriptions will amount on the average to about 8 per cent of the subscriptions placed by the banks for their customers.

City and Connecting Dividend.

Directors of the Chicago City and Connecting Railways declared a semi-annual dividend of $1.50 a share on the preferred issue. The earnings, it was said after the meeting, warranted a larger distribution, but in view of the wage demands before the company it was decided to pay no more. A year ago the July distribution was $1.25. The board expects to pay $2.25 at the end of the year.

The last sale of Connecting Railways preferred was 25½. There has been nothing more than a nominal market for ten days. The stock is supposed to be on a 3¾ per cent dividend basis.

Chicago Securities.

Chicago stocks were weak, following New York. The packing house issues averaged about two points lost, compared with Saturday's close.

Sears-Roebuck common had a decline of 4½ points, selling down to 169, the final quotation. Prest-o-Lite stock lost 4 points and Union Carbide 3. Pneumatic Tool was off 1 point at 75½c.

There was no special weakness in any stock, the selling being general in all issues. Booth common was an exception, showing a rise of ½ on a small transaction.

Money and Exchange.

Money rates in Chicago firm at 5@5½ per cent on collateral, 5@5½ per cent on commercial paper, and 5@5½ per cent over the counter. New York exchange, [illegible] discount. Chicago bank clearances, $[illegible]376,110.

Institute of Banking Abandons 1917 Meeting

The American Institute of Banking, with a membership exceeding 23,000 bankers and bank clerks throughout the country, has voted to do away with its annual convention this year, which was scheduled to meet in Denver in September. This action has been made necessary by the large number of bank men who have enlisted, and it is expected to materially assist in conserving the working forces of the banks and trust companies.

Foreign Stock Markets.

LONDON, June 18.—The stock market remained quietly today. The principal demands of investors, who are the chief supporters of the market, appear to be satisfied for the time being, and most sections are merely marking time. The old war loan continued in demand, munition shares were active, and Argentine securities firm, but otherwise little interest was displayed. American securities were decidedly dull. Money and discount rates were quiet. Bar silver, [illegible] per ounce. Money, 4@4¼ per cent. Discount rates: Short bills, 4 11-16 per cent; three months' bills, 4¾ per cent.

PARIS, June 18.—Trading was quiet on the bourse today. Three per cent rentes, 60 francs 55 centimes, ex-coupon. Exchange on London, 27 francs 18 centimes. Five per cent loan, 88 francs 15 centimes.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS

It is announced that the Studebaker corporation has closed large orders for motor vehicles for the United States army and is negotiating contracts involving several million dollars for saddles and harness. It is thought probable that further orders for cars and trucks will be received.

New York wired that official confirmation had been secured of reported negotiations for a combination of the Curtiss Aeroplane corporation and Willys interests. Recently John N. Willys was elected a director of the Curtiss corporation and later the Willys-Overland company was reported to have accepted a subcontract from the Curtiss corporation for the construction of 4,500 aeroplane motors.

The American Cities company passed its usual semi-annual dividend of 1¼ per cent which the company has paid since July 1, 1915. Lee Benoist said that, although earnings were showing a satisfactory increase, the directors felt, in view of current market conditions for corporation securities, the earnings of the company should be applied to the purchase of its subsidiary companies' securities issued for their general development purposes.

The governing board of the New York stock exchange has let it be understood that short selling of the new government loan will not be tolerated. It would not only help bear operations in the market to have the Liberty loan go below par, but would create an unfavorable impression abroad. Any suspicious feature in connection with stock exchange transactions in the Liberty loan is to be closely investigated.

The bankers offering West Porto Rico Sugar preferred stock say they are not syndicating the issue at 97 with a bonus of 20 per cent in common stock. They announced, however, that they will make a public offering within a few days.

New York banking circles are said to be much gratified over the Root speech to Russia. Their information also is that while Russian offensives may not be sweeping, they will be effective in holding large German armies on the eastern front.

Canadian railroads are experiencing unusual earnings. The Canadian Pacific, Grand Trunk, and Canadian Northern earned $23,709,000 in May, an increase of 19 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

Important extensions of the Savage Arms plant at Utica are expected to be undertaken within a few months. The company has reason to believe it will secure from the government much additional business.

Sales of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company for the fourteen weeks ended June 2 were $29,599,206, against $16,670,055 for the corresponding period in 1916.

Large private borrowing is reported in St. Paul. The market also has a notion that a great deal of St. Paul stock was sold for those who wished to subscribe for Liberty bonds.

In the Boston Stock Market

BOSTON, Mass., June 18.—[Special.]—The observance of Bunker Hill day made the attendance in brokerage offices lighter than usual. The stock market was inclined to dullness at the opening. The local coal stocks were in demand at higher prices, while North Butte was under pressure. Trading was quiet all day. The afternoon feature was a new low on North Butte, which unsettled the coppers. The closing was generally easier. Call money ruled at 6 per cent. Time loans, sixty days, 5½@6 per cent; ninety days, 5½@6 per cent; six months, 5½@6 per cent.

Weakness pervaded the cattle market at Chicago yesterday and most of the receipts sold at a decline of 15@25c from last week's closing levels. The only exceptions were prime, fat beeves, which held fully steady. Latter were in limited supply and met with a good demand, topping at $13.75. Most of the good to choice killers sold at $11@13. Receipts were posted at 21,500 and consisted mostly of cows and heifers, which led the decline.

Hog market had a slow and weak start, but demand developed strength as the session progressed and the close was strong. Receipts of 39,000 head were well taken, with tops at $16.10 and the bulk at $15.30@16. Shippers were credited with purchases of 5,000 head.

Sheep and lambs held on a steady basis. Receipts were 13,000 head. There was a good demand and most of the arrivals sold without sorting. Spring lambs topped at $18, with clippers at $16. Prime fat ewes sold mostly $10@10.25.

Shipbuilding

¶ No industry in the world today is of such paramount importance as the Shipbuilding Industry. No business is attracting more attention. Shipbuilding companies are swamped with orders. Boats of every size and description are in demand. And yet the destruction of shipping has been going on at the rate of 400,000 tons a week. More boats, and still more boats, must be built, and as rapidly as possible. Every effort is not only being made at the present time to crowd the shipbuilding companies to the limit of their capacity, but, according to many conservative authorities, it will require the shipyards of the world, working at maximum capacity, from five to ten years to replace the shipping tonnage of the world already destroyed and at the same time keep pace with ordinary year to year requirements. In aiding the Shipbuilding Industry you are greatly helping our country and our allies.

(1) Preferred stock redeemable at the option of the company, in whole or in part, at 110 and accrued dividends. Five per cent sinking fund. (Other protective features in carefully prepared circular, which may be obtained by applying to us.)

(2) Location of Plant of great strategic importance. The Port Arthur Shipbuilding Co., Ltd., is located at the head of Lake Superior in the City of Port Arthur, Ontario, Canada. At this point are the fresh water terminals of the three great Canadian trunk railway systems and their outlets for trans-shipment of the greater portion of the enormous grain crops of Western Canada. The Company has over 100 acres of land within the city limits of Port Arthur, located on the main street with water frontage of over 3,500 feet. It is the best equipped and most modern shipbuilding plant on the Great Lakes and consists of:

(a) Complete concrete dry dock with steel gates and high power pumping plant. The dock is fully equipped with every modern appliance and will accommodate the largest vessel on the Great Lakes with space to spare. Note—The largest bulk freight vessel in the world was built at the plant of the Port Arthur Shipbuilding Company. All necessary accessory machinery is on the property.
(b) Machine shop, 90 feet by 180 feet, brick and steel construction.
(c) Plate and bending mill, 210 feet by 350 feet, steel frame, 2 story (mold loft above mill).
(d) Boiler shop, 90 feet by 180 feet, brick and steel construction.
(e) Foundry building, 80 feet by 120 feet, brick and steel construction.
(f) Power house, 50 feet by 90 feet, brick and steel construction.
(g) Joiner shop, 2 story, 50 feet by 105 feet, brick and steel construction.
(h) Pattern shop and storage building, 60 feet by 120 feet, brick and steel construction.
(i) Warehouse, 60 feet by 100 feet, brick and steel construction.
(j) Two-story office building, 42 feet by 42 feet, brick and steel construction.
(k) Blacksmith shop, 50 feet by 100 feet, brick and steel construction.
(l) Electrical and pipe shop, 50 feet by 100 feet, brick and steel construction.

(3) The management of the company is in the hands of well-known and expert engineers and executives of long experience. Their time and cost records on vessels delivered last year will compare favorably with those of any shipbuilding company in the world.

James Whalen, President, was the chief executive of the old company from its inception. James F. Paige, General Manager, has had a long experience in the industry and for many years with the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation at Quincy, Mass.

(4) Materials. It should be particularly noted that the company is entirely protected in its steel requirements for all of its contracts, having contracted for the bulk of the steel at previous low prices.

(5) Safety of Principal. The company, according to appraisal made by Messrs. Coats & Burchard Co., Public Appraisers and Engineers, and audit made by Messrs. Ernst & Ernst, Certified Public Accountants, has net tangible assets applicable to the Preferred Stock of $179 per share, leaving more than $50 per share applicable to the Common Stock. These figures include no allowance whatever for good will, subsidies, earning power, nor profit on inventory, nor earnings accumulated since Oct. 31, 1916, the date of the report.

(6) Subsidies alone from the Canadian Government, for the next 17 years, and from the City of Port Arthur, for the next 5 years, aggregate $73 per share of Preferred Stock; the increase in value of steel contracts, figured on present market, amounts to more than the whole Preferred issue.

(7) Earnings. The company is in no sense of the word a promotion. It is an established, going concern, working at high pressure on orders totaling many millions of dollars. The Government of Canada, working with the British Admiralty, has signed contracts with the company for steel boats which take a good percentage of the maximum capacity of the plant up to the year 1919 at profitable prices (additional and highly profitable orders are signed or available up to 1920 for full capacity of the plant). Conservative estimates indicate that absolutely net earnings for 1917 and 1918 will be more than sufficient to retire at $110 per share (the callable price), the entire issue of Preferred Stock. In other words, the earnings for 1917 and 1918, figured according to actual contracts for vessels and actual contracts for steel and other materials, should be considerably over 100% on the Preferred Stock. Furthermore, all authorities are agreed that there will be a tremendous demand for ships for the next five or ten years. We doubt if a similar situation exists in any other industry in the world.

It is then apparent that earnings after the war on the Common Stock, which is given with the Preferred, should be very large and that the Common Stock should become of great value. It is important that, owing to its geographical position as a terminus on Lake Superior, the company enjoys substantial earnings from repair and dry dock charges from lake tonnage going through the Soo into Lake Superior, as more tonnage passes through the locks at Sault Ste. Marie in eight months than the total marine tonnage in and out of the harbors of both New York and Liverpool in an entire year. In fact, the subsidies from the Canadian Government and the City of Port Arthur and profits from repair work alone should be sufficient to pay all fixed charges and Preferred Stock dividends.

(8) Dividends are paid quarterly. The next dividend will be paid July 2nd.

The property at 1225 Clark street and at 3141 Paulina street was conveyed in part payment at a total consideration of $7,000. Kraus Bros. were the brokers.

The property at the southeast corner of Harding and Potomac avenues, lot 50x124 feet with flat improvements, has been conveyed by Yetta Camvry to Alexander Joseph, consideration nominal, subject to an incumbrance of $20,500.

There is much rejoicing in real estate circles over the passage of house bill 841, amending the general revenue act of 1872, and definitely fixing the calendar year as the period in which taxes are to be levied. Under old conditions there has been endless trouble over who was to pay the taxes and many deals have fallen through because of disputes arising over this.

U. S. OPENS CASE OF COAL BARONS

New York, June 18.—The government's case against sixty-four individuals and 108 corporations indicted on a charge of conspiring to restrain trade and fix prices in semi-bituminous coal regions in Virginia and West Virginia was brought to trial here in the United States court today.

Isaac R. Oeland, addressing the jury on behalf of the government, said it would be shown that prices were fixed and agreements made in 1914, 1915, 1916, and 1917. The Smokeless Coal Operators' association, in conjunction with sales agents and others, he declared, dictated prices, organized working combinations, and established agreements calling for uniform contracts.
